Influential Newton Groups Back Sen. Donald L. Gibbs For Mayor

Starlings Laugh At Cannonade

The booming noise of cannon has given way to the hiss of high-water pressure as the Newton Fire Department continued its battle to rid the Water St., Newton Centre, area of thousands of starlings.

Last Friday Chief Frederick A. Perkins Jr., and Assistant Chief John L. Martin directed operation of a carbide cannon.

9 Per Cent Rise In Home Construction

Six months totals in new residential construction in the City of Newton are up nine per cent over the same period of 1958, according to a report from the Newton Co-operative Bank.

President Warren W. Oliver reports that new home construction totals came to $1,630,775 through June of this year, compared to $1,475,200 for the same period in 1958.

Remodelling of commercial as well as residential structures continued in the same trend, with $988,467 reported through June this year compared to $370,375 for the same period in '58.

Total deeds and mortgages for the first 26 weeks came to 1,038 against 841 for the comparable period a year ago in Newton.

President Oliver's report said that just a year ago, the month of July 1958, saw the highest total of home building nationally in over 2 1/2 years. Now, a year later the U. S. currently is building at a rate of 1.4 million family

Water Show At Crystal Lake Sunday 2 PM

The Newton Red Cross and the Newton Recreation Department will collaborate in a water show and exhibition at Crystal Lake Sunday at 2 p.m.

"Keep the Fun in Swimming" will be the theme of a program presented by some 150 children, from the age of 5 to 16, under the direction of Head Instructor Mrs. Barbara Bonarrigo, assisted by Virginia Milott, Marion Angoff and Agnes Sullivan.

The life guards will present a water safety demonstration.

Newton Man Stricken With Paralytic Polio

Newton's first reported case of polio, a 30-year-old West Newton man, is confined to The Children's Hospital in Boston with paralytic polio.

Dr. Harry T. Phillips, Newton director of public health, said Newton had two cases of polio in 1956, including one paralytic. In 1955, the city had 100 cases.

The West Newton victim had not received any anti-polio vaccine, it was reported.

State Senator Donald L. Gibbs has been assured of the support of a substantial number of influential Newton public, civic and business leaders if he enters the race for Mayor, The Graphic learned today.

Gibbs, it is reported, has had several meetings with groups who have urged him to become a candidate to succeed Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., at the head of Newton's municipal government.

While he has not yet made announce his candidacy as any official statement, it is expected that he will formally

Four Smith Students Go To Europe Aug. 29

Four Smith College students from Newton and Waban will spend the coming year studying in France and Switzerland under the "Smith Junior Year Abroad Program."

Anne Frederica Derr, daughter of Mrs. Thomas S. Derr of 260 Quinobequin road, Waban, and Judith Ann Frieze, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Frieze of 31 Tamworth road, Waban, will study in Paris.

Studying in Geneva will be Diane Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan S. Campbell of 293 Franklin street, Newton; and Margaret Raye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Raye, Jr. of 425 Chestnut street, Waban.

Those going to France will spend the first six weeks at Aix-en-Provence for an intensive induction course in the specialized French vocabulary they will need, with weekend trips to cities and towns of interest.

They will spend the rest of the year in Paris, studying at the Sorbonne and other institutions, and will make their homes with French families.

The group going to Switzerland will spend a six weeks induction period in Paris before going to Geneva to study for the remainder of the academic year at the University of Geneva and the Graduate School of International Studies. These girls will live in hotels and with Swiss families.

Intruder Routed By Girl, 17

The screams of 17-year-old Miss Carol Lovell early Tuesday routed an intruder from a second floor bedroom of the home of Dexter W. Lovell of 10 Central Close, Auburndale.

The intruder climbed to the roof of a sun porch and entered through a bedroom window.

Commission For Sheafe

Walter A. Sheafe, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sheafe of 134 Auburndale avenue, West Newton, has received a commission as a second lieutenant in the Army Reserve.

Lt. Sheafe, a graduate of Boston University who expects to enter active service soon, was graduated at the 1959 ROTC summer camp at Fort Devens.

Newton's Share Of MTA Deficit To Rise $31,000

Newton's share of the MTA deficit will go up about $31,000 this year, according to a report by State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley which declared that the transit system will show an operating loss of more than $20 million for 1959.

Newton this year paid approximately $124,000 as its share of the 1958 MTA deficit of about $16 million. With the deficit rising 25 per cent this year, Garden City taxpayers will be forced to dig down for an additional $31,000 in 1960. That would be equivalent to about another 11 cents on the tax rate.

Highland Branch No Rapid Transit Says Buckley

Newton residents were "short-changed" by the MTA in the construction of the much publicized Highland Branch line, according to State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley.

Buckley declared in a report this week that the MTA trustees were supposed to build a rapid transit line on the Highland Branch.

Instead, he asserted, they constructed a trolley line.

"Chapter 450 of the Acts of 1957 specifically authorized the MTA to construct a rapid transit line from the Boylston Street subway over the right-of-way of the Boston & Albany Railroad's Newton Highland Branch line, which was to be abandoned," Auditor Buckley stated in his report.

"Attention is directed to the fact that the MTA actually constructed a trolley line, despite the fact that the General Court had specified that the extension would provide rapid transit service," Buckley con-

Crystal Lake Crystal Clear

Crystal Lake is crystal clear again.

The popular public bathing area, shut down for 10 days because of a high bacterial count, was reopened Monday.

All tests taken last week determined the water was unfit for swimming but cooler nights toward the end of the week combined with the long period of disuse made conditions favorable for swimming on Monday.

The Red Cross "Learn to Swim" program was resumed on Tuesday.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Public Demand for Economy Causing Political Concern

Is the political tide shifting? Has there been an unrecognized upswing in Republican stock?

Is there a growing sentiment for moderation among Democratic and Independent voters?

Those are questions being asked and discussed by politicians on Beacon Hill whose public lives depend on their ability to come up with the right answers.

A number of prominent Democratic legislators, who voted to slash Governor Furolo's budget, believe there is a strong demand for curtailed spending and greater economy in government.

They say that feeling was reflected in letters they received from constituents while the Governor's budget was under discussion and debate.

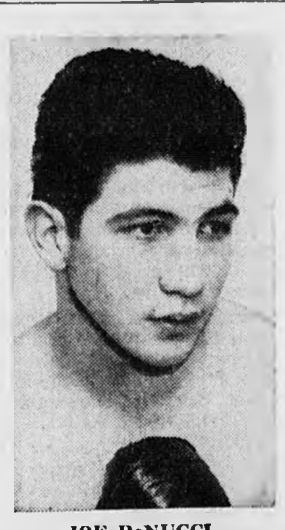

If that judgment by astute and experienced Democratic politicians is correct, it would mean that there is a trend toward moderation or perhaps even conservatism.

That, in turn, might mean

2 Order Beer, Steal Liquor

A Newton Highlands package store owner reported to police this week that two customers had a change of taste which, in itself, is not news.

One of the pair ordered a case of beer, the clerk, Thomas G. Dunnigan of the Highland Beverage Store, said. When he went to the rear of the store for the case, the second man grabbed a fifth of liquor and both fled from the store.

An immediate police search of the area was unsuccessful.

Runs Up Red Flag Against 'Meter Maids'

A study of the police department organization should be made before any women are engaged as parking control officers to check meters and illegal parking in Newton.

This was the contention of Alderman Joseph G. Bradley as he used his "charter objection" to block action on "meter maids" at Monday night's meeting.

The Board had voted 9 to 8 to consider the recommendation of Chairman Charles H. Cosgrove of the Street Traffic Committee in a special vote that was necessary to bring the matter to the floor since it had been defeated by both the Claims and Rules and Street Traffic Committees.

When it appeared the proposal would be approved by the single vote, Alderman Bradley took his stand.

Edith Sharf Wins

Edith Sharf of 121 Dorset road, Waban, won the Donald Jones Memorial Tournament at Rockport Golf Club last week.

Mrs. Sharf followed her first day 75 with a 76 to win by two strokes.

15 Communities Expected To Have Representatives At City Hall Conference

Officials of 15 cities and towns will meet at Newton City Hall at 8 o'clock tonight to map plans for an all-out fight against a proposed elimination of all commuter service on the main line of the Boston & Albany Railroad.

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., who has taken a leading role in the battle in behalf of the commuters, has called tonight's session and will be host to representatives from the other 14 communities.

Invited to the conference are public leaders from Wellesley, Natick, Ashland, Southboro, Westboro, Grafton, Charlton, East Brookfield, West Brookfield, Warren, Palmer, Springfield, Worcester and Framingham.

Mayor Whitmore emphasized today to The Graphic that his main objection to the latest move by the B & A is that it would cut off "the last vestige of commuter railroad service on the main line through Newton" and would eliminate about a dozen trains now serving the Garden City.

The Mayor indicated that he finally decides on the he would wait until he learns what the other city and town officials intend to do before

Highland Buses Opposed by PTA

Fear for the safety of pupils has caused the Williams School PTA to register opposition to the request of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Company to run buses to service the new MTA Highland Branch parking lot.

Nearly 50 residents appeared at Monday's meeting of the Board of Aldermen to also cite congestion in business and narrow residential streets as reasons for opposing the proposal.

Roy Milton, assistant general manager of the company, said the buses would run on Union Street, Newton Centre to the MTA terminal, and on the ramps of Route 128 and on Lexington Street to Auburn to Grove street, to the Riverside MTA terminal.

Milton said the buses would leave the terminal by way of Route 128 ramps and not return down Grove street.

Other opposition came in the form of four letters and one telegram. Leading the opposition was Samuel Turner of 20 Clark road, West Newton, a teacher at the Williams School, who said 240 of the

Freeway Study Plan Rejected By Senate Vote

State Senator Donald L. Gibbs' efforts to have a study of the feasibility of a freeway from Route 128 to Boston met defeat in the Senate last week.

By a vote of 18 to 6, the Senate reversed its earlier position of favoring the study proposed by the Newton senator.

The bill would have directed the Department of Public Works to make the study and report to the Legislature in December.

Sen. Gibbs has opposed the extension of the Mass. Turnpike from its present terminus at Route 128 to Boston through Newton.

Gibbs said he wanted a specific Public Works Department plan for construction of such a highway that will specify the route and contain estimates of the costs. He said he did not want the matter hanging in the air until "We are told, 'This is it.'"

"Golden Agers" To Benefit By Proceeds From Annual Luncheon

Mrs. Bernard G. Berkman, of Redwood road, Newton, youngest luncheon chairman in the 65-year history of the Boston Section, National Council of Jewish Women, has announced that plans are now being formulated for the annual luncheon to be held in the fall at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, Boston.

Many Newton women are included among members of committees taking active parts in preparing for the event, proceeds of which will benefit the "Golden Agers."

Mrs. Kenneth Benjamin, chairman of publicity, has pointed out that the council completely subsidizes the campership at the Carmien Lodge Golden Age Camp in New Hampshire, which contributes to the health and morale of senior citizens.

Mrs. Berkman, luncheon chairman, also has emphasized that the organization is not a fund-raising group but relies greatly on the proceeds of the luncheon to carry on its work of community service and education on the local, national and international levels. Boston section lists 1,600 members.

The efforts of more than 100 women engaged in luncheon planning make it possible for Council to continue its broad program of service. Mrs. Harvey S. Shapiro, president, has announced the following appointments for this year's event.

Chairman of luncheon, Mrs. Bernard G. Berkman; co-chairmen of ad book, Mrs. Herbert Frank, Mrs. Jason Weinreb; vice chairmen of ad book, Mrs. Philip Fine, Mrs. Sidney Hark. Mrs. Wesley Marks; chairman of hostesses, Mrs. Norman Lasoff, Mrs. Irving Fireman; chairman of reservations, Mrs. Harold Dorfman; co-chairmen of billing, Mrs. Leonard Murmes, Mrs. Bernard Sudikoff.

Chairman of Golden Age sponsors, Mrs. William Rosnosky; vice chairmen of Golden Age sponsors, Mrs. Sidney Lewis, Mrs. Robert Shaw; chairman of decorations, Mrs. Matthew Simmons; vice chairmen of decorations, Mrs. George Bronstein, Mrs. Earle Groper, Mrs. Gerald Birnbach; usher chairman, Mrs. Gerald Schuster; co-chairman of ushers, Mrs. Sheldon Newman; in memoriams, Mrs. Samuel Berkman; chairman our children, Mrs. James Goodman; vice chairmen, Mrs. Ira Gordon, Mrs. Erwin Greenberg, Mrs. Harold Silverman, Mrs. Hugh Stone, Mrs. Bertram Star, Mrs. Burt Silverling, Mrs. Sidney Swartz.

Chairman of door prizes, Mrs. Martin Singer; billing of ad book, Mrs. Martin Lebow; ad book coordinator, Mrs. Sherman Daniels; chairman of collegians, Mrs. Irwin Buchsbaum; co-chairman, Mrs. J. J. Goldstein; vice chairmen of collegians, Mrs. Herman Dorfman, Mrs. Sidney Langer, Mrs. William Pludo, Mrs. Arthur Silk, Mrs. Jack Yudin; arrangements, Mrs. Philip Coleman; publicity, Mrs. Kenneth Benjamin; advisory vice president, Mrs. Philip Coleman.

PLAN LUNCHEON—Mrs. Bernard G. Berkman, of Redwood Road, Newton, at right, luncheon chairman for the luncheon of the National Council of Jewish Women, and Mrs. Harvey S. Shapiro, president of Boston section, discuss plans for the event to be held in the fall.

GOP Drive Grosses $6,905.25

Finance Chairman Ernest Angevine of the Republican City Committee reports that the recent finance drive grossed $6,905.25.

The announcement was made in the "Going Places Bulletin" for July which said the amount collected in the city thus far totaled $2,659.25.

This figure did not include the checks made payable to the State Committee, which totaled $4,246.

The editor of the Bulletin, Donald C. Howard, announced the circulation was pushed from 400 to 1200 readers since the contributors to the finance drive were added to the list.

Mosquitos Fought By "Fogging"

An emergency mosquito control measure—"fogging"—began this week in Newton and surrounding communities by the Eastern Middlesex Mosquito Control Commission, which termed the onslaught of the stinging pests the worst in many years.

The "fogging" system is more powerful than that employed in routine spraying, according to Robert Armstrong, commission superintendent.

He listed the schedule for the operation as from 8 or 9 p.m. to 3 a.m. The work cannot be done in daylight hours, he said, because the white fog-like substance tends to rise in the sunlight.

Most of the spraying to date had been done from helicopters in swamp areas. Armstrong said that the flock of mosquitos which flourished recently occurred after the heavy rains of the last few weeks.

Grant Three Applications For Storage

The Newton Board of Aldermen, acting in the face of no opposition, granted three licenses Monday night for storage of inflammables.

The Board withheld action on the petition of Benjamin F. Monaghan to increase from 4,000 to 12,000 gallons capacity at his gasoline station at 1545 Washington st., West Newton.

Petitions for storage of inflammables were granted to Hunt-Marquardt Inc. at 27 Dunstan st., Ward 3; G & S Paper Inc., corner of Albany st., Ward 2, and National Research Corporation, 180 Charlemont st., Ward 8.

Steal Disposal From New Home

Oak Hill Builder Saul Segal reported to Newton police Tuesday thefts from two homes he is building in Newton Highlands.

An electric disposal valued at $65 and a $40 aluminum ladder were taken from 111 Dedham st., while at nearby 11 Andrews st., two power saws worth $220 were stolen, Segal reported.

Mrs. John White of 63 Oakdale rd., Newton Highlands, reported the theft of a collapsible stroller from the corner of Walnut and Lincoln sts., Newton Highlands.

"Do-It-Yourself" Activities

Crafts Interest Youngsters At Newton's 32 Playgrounds

The "do-it-yourself" part of the summer recreation season is the craft program which gives hundreds of boys and girls at Newton's 32 playgrounds opportunities to use their hands and heads to obtain a practical learning experience.

The purpose of the Crafts Program is to acquaint children with the proper use of the simple hand tools working with materials in wood, metal, clay, cloth, paper and various other materials. The directed efforts of the children in these areas help them gain knowledge, increase their abilities, develop good attitudes and creative interests.

The Crafts Program is carried on under the direction of Craft Supervisors working with the leaders and usually have three sessions to five sessions per week. The leader stimulates the children's interest in the projects and aids them in their minor difficulties. Each Play Area is provided with a basic set of tools and materials are provided at a nominal cost.

Girls' Craft Supervisors, Gladys Forbush and Marguerite Donnelly provide children with the opportunity to learn to sew. Projects of varying difficulty are offered at a moderate price, and each child participating is able to finish attractive articles for her own use and for use in the home.

Small stamped pieces are distributed the first week of the playground season, and these are used to teach the basic embroidery stitches. Once a child has practiced making the stitches and is able to do them with ease, she is able to start work on the many projects provided.

During the 1959 season the following felt articles are being made: floral pin cushions, tea pot cozies, elf potholders, owl pocketbooks, scissors cases, eye glass cases, lapel pins, oven mitts, frog bean bags, humpty-dumpties, Aunt Jemima pin cushions, felt hats, and animated fish potholders.

Stamped dish towels and bibs are also featured as are nylon loop potholders which are individually woven on frames, and plastic soap boxes and toothbrush holders are decorated by the children with sequins.

Newton Women Club members save discarded materials during the year which are collected and stored at Burr Park where the supervisors use them in their handcraft program during the summer. Among the many useful articles donated are: lace, yard goods, round cereal boxes, shirt cardboards, cigar boxes, candy boxes, wall paper, yarn, upholstery samples, and plastic material. These materials have been used this season in various ways which included: dolls clothes, knitting boxes, sewing boxes, cosmetic cases, dolls beds, sun hats, yarn dolls, clothespin bags, clothespin aprons, stuffed animals, bean bags and stuffed dolls.

During the 1959 Summer season playgrounds are being provided with girls' handcraft articles and more than a thousand articles are given out a week.

Supervisor of Boys' Craft, Ralph Hamilton, lists the following examples: Lawn ornaments, bobbing birds, Disney characters, comical reproductions, knick-knack shelves, sail boats, letter holders, door stops, key holders, ash trays, bracelets, nut dishes and many other items.

Newton Women Aid Hospital Dinner Plans

Two Newton women are among the eight chairman chosen from 10,000 volunteer workers to chairman the annual appreciation dinner dance of the Jewish Memorial Hospital, Roxbury, at the Hotel Bradford, September 27.

They are Mrs. Leo Cole, president of the Brookline Auxiliary; and Mrs. Abraham Klayman, president of the Young Women's Auxiliary to the hospital.

The dinner will serve as a reward and public recognition for the services rendered by the more than 2000 members of the Men's Associations at the hospital.

Newton Prof. Aids In Unique Medical Training Plan at BU

Dr. Richard H. Millard Jr., of Waban, professor of Philosophy at the College of Liberal Arts and the Graduate School, is a member of the Boston University faculty which drew up a unique plan to produce better physicians in less time.

Dr. Millard was one of four B.U. professors who drew up the plan after a two-year study.

Dr. Harold C. Case, President of the University, announced it would be put into effect when sufficient funds are collected to finance its operation.

There are about 25 million dairy cows in the U. S.

The new plan, described as "a program of general education with medicine as a major," was drawn up by representatives of the faculties of the University's College of Liberal Arts and School of Medicine, under a $50,000 grant from the Rockefeller Foundation to the School of Medicine in December, 1956, "with a view to making alterations and improvements in its medical education patterns that will reflect recent changes and future trends in the doctor's role."

The so-called "Rockefeller Plan," which differs from the new curricula recently introduced at other medical schools, has its objective, according to the report: "to combine the liberal arts and the medical programs of study into a single integrated unit extending over a six-year period; the improvement of the scientific background of the student," achieving some sort of uniformity so that the medical teaching can be adjusted to a predictable background of little variability; "to strengthen the educational background of the medical student in the arts and humanities; the development of a scholarly mind... analytical, orderly and self-critical; to improve the physician's understanding of the relationship of medicine to society and of the duties of a doctor as a citizen, and to make him desire to assume the associated obligations;" and "to increase the sense of responsibility of the doctor toward his patients, other doctors, and the various people with whom he works." The first two years of the proposed curriculum will be devoted primarily to the liberal arts, and the student will not necessarily be committed to a medical education during this period. At the end of the first two years he may change his course without prejudice to the usual four-year liberal arts course at Boston University or elsewhere. During the first two years, no course will be repeated for which the student has received credit under the Advanced Placement Program. Instead, the student will take an elective. In place of Freshman Composition, papers in certain courses will be marked for quality of grammar, spelling, rhetoric, etc. Students will be required to attend bi-weekly language tutorials throughout the winter months of the first year and will have to pass a proficiency examination in the language equivalent to the third-year level before graduation. In the third year, when the medical curriculum begins, the places left by those students who have withdrawn will be filled by applicants who have completed a conventional four-year college course. Since the number of such openings will be relatively small, unusually high standards should be maintained. This will insure a student body of a high level of ability during the final four years of the program.

Political Highlights

that that political tide is shifting or has shifted in favor of the Republican party.

Such an appraisal would be in conflict with the results of public opinion polls which indicate that the tide is still running for the Democrats.

However, the outcome of the election in Hawaii, for whatever it may be worth as a straw in the political winds, supports the theory that things may be looking up for the Republicans.

Most students of politics, while they agree that many Democratic voters may be becoming more tax-conscious and consequently favor more moderate spending, are very doubtful that there has been any swing of the political pendulum.

It's possible, of course, that there has been a real change in popular sentiment since last November's elections. But it is unlikely. And it would be contrary to the established political pattern if there were such a shift.

When a political tide starts running for one party or the other, it usually continues to rise until that party wins the Presidency and gains control of the two branches of Congress. Then it gradually recedes.

There have been exceptions which proved the rule. A Democratic tide which began in 1930 continued rising through the 1936 Presidential election before it abated instead of dipping down after 1932, as would be anticipated.

A Republican tide which started in 1946 petered out two years later in 1948 when the GOP managed to lose an election everybody expected it to win. That probably was simply a case of the Republicans snatching defeat out of the jaws of victory and of losing an election they could have won.

The present Democratic tide began rolling in 1954 when the Democrats captured control of both branches of Congress. It has risen gradually but continuously since then.

President Eisenhower, by dint of his own great personal popularity, was able to overcome in and win re-election in spectacular fashion in 1956, but the tide was strong enough to prevent him from carrying a Republican Congress in with him.

In 1958 the Democratic tide was flowing in Massachusetts and across the nation with increased force. On the basis of history it is expected that it will continue rising through 1960 and sweep a Democratic President into office.

Some uneasy Democratic politicians, however, are wondering if the political tide which favored their party so greatly last autumn is beginning to turn and whether this could be a rather exception which proves the rule.

Members of both parties, who are planning to run either state-wide or in marginal districts, will be closely watching in the months ahead for any signs which may indicate just how the political tides are running.

Furcolo 3rd Term Bid Regarded as Unlikely

Reports persist on Beacon Hill that Governor Furcolo shift his political objective next year and seek a third term in the Governorship instead of a seat in the U. S. Senate.

Except for the possibility that Furcolo's opponent for the Governorship might not be quite as formidable an adversary as Senator Leverett Saltonstall, such a move would not make too much political sense.

In the first place, winning three successive gubernatorial elections is not an easy accomplishment. The only person in the last century to serve six consecutive years as Governor of Massachusetts was Leverett Saltonstall, and he did it in wartime.

Moreover, if Governor Furcolo were to gain a third term in 1960, he might find himself with no place to go politically in 1962. A seat in the U. S. Senate, of course, has been his target for a number of years.

However, some of Furcolo's associates by a rather complicated line of reasoning believe that standing for a third term as Governor might be a shrewd political move on his part.

They predicate their opinion on the premise that Senator John F. Kennedy will be the Democratic nominee for either President or Vice President next year and will be elected to one of the two offices.

Most of the political experts aren't so sure that it is a safe assumption. Kennedy is making an extremely strong bid for the Democratic Presidential nomination but still has a very long way to go to get it. Persons close to him say he would not accept the Vice Presidential endorsement, although there's no doubt it will be offered to him if he fails in his quest for the top spot on the Democratic national ticket.

The way several of the Furcolo strategists figure it out, however, is that if Furcolo were reelected Governor and Kennedy were chosen President or Vice President, Furcolo could then appoint someone to fill Kennedy's seat for two years and run for it himself in 62.

Even if everything worked out that way, there still would be certain flaws in the picture from Governor Furcolo's standpoint, and they are not likely to escape Furcolo who is a very astute political analyst himself.

One is that the political climate in Massachusetts doesn't figure to be as favorable for the Democratic party in 1962 as in 1960. Another is that if Furcolo waits until 1960 to make his bid for the Senate, he might find that his opponent would be Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., who would be a very tough contender.

A third and very important factor is that if Kennedy is on the Democratic national ticket in 1960, he would generate strength to all the Democratic candidates in Massachusetts, just as he did last year. Kennedy's name, of course, would not be on the ballot in 1962.

Conflicting rumors about Governor Furcolo's political plans probably will be circulated for the next six or eight months. But when the time comes for him to make his decision, the guessing is he will run for the Senate.

900 Pounds Of 1959 Christmas Seals Are Here

As a reminder of things to come, this city's shipment of the 1959 Christmas Seals, 900 pounds of the gay, little stickers, have arrived at the headquarters of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association.

750,000 seals will be Newton's quota and Mrs. David Weisberger, 1939-40 chairman of the Seal Sale Committee, has already launched her task of preparing for the November mailing.

Mrs. Weisberger and her committee members are preparing the mailing lists for the opening of the 33rd annual Christmas Seal Sale in this city.

Rawson Appraises B & A Cut In Newton Service

Newton has come to the end of an era with the discontinuance of rail commuter service, and everybody will lose, according to Rep. George E. Rawson of Newton.

"The Newton railroad station has ceased to exist after more than a century of continuous operation," Rawson said today in a statement.

"It was one of the original stations of the old Boston & Worcester Railroad, later the Boston & Albany. The absence of management of the New York Central has finally accomplished its purpose."

The Dept. of Public Utilities has sold Newton "down the river," apparently to help out the MTA in spite of the strong case made out by able counsel and the efforts of Newton's representatives and senators on Beacon Hill.

"Such a course seem to me the betrayal of the public interest," Rep. Rawson continued.

"On this case everybody loses and nobody wins."

"Newton loses the dependable and reliable commuter service which it has depended upon for more than a century. Newton Corner business men will lose, as an appreciable amount of business comes from the commuters and those meeting them at the trains."

"The railroad itself will lose money on the deal. How foolish to run trains right by Newton when they could pick up a lot of revenue passengers by stopping. To be sure some of who still prefer rail transportation to and from Boston will go to the inconvenience of driving to Newtonville to take the train—but how many?"

The Rawson statement went on: "The MTA will lose also. It may pick up some passengers who do not mind having to fight for their lives to get aboard at Park street each evening. Those who do will contribute to Newton's share of the MTA deficit, which is based on the number of riders who get aboard at Newton."

"Hence the Newton taxpayer will lose too."

"The big majority no doubt will drive their cars to and from Boston—adding to the highway congestion at rush hours and increasing the traffic hazard. They will add to Boston's parking problem, so Boston loses, too."

"It is not a pretty picture. What stations will be given up next? When will the New York Central attempt to abandon passenger service altogether?"

"Serving the public convenience and necessity—the basis of any franchise, has apparently lost its meaning."

- Recent Deaths -

Mrs. Ralph Roberts

Mrs. Elsie (Butman) Roberts, 64, wife of Ralph L. Roberts of Cohasset, formerly of Newton Centre, died Friday at Baker Memorial Hospital.

The funeral was held Monday from the Sparrell Funeral Home in Cohasset with burial in Woodside Cemetery, Cohasset.

Mrs. Roberts lived in Newton for 17 years before moving to Cohasset ten months ago. Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Alice Sullivan of Holliston; a brother, Francis R. Roberts of Needham; two brothers, Edwin and Charles Butman of Cohasset; a sister, Mrs. Arthur Sampson of Tilton, N. H. and eight grandchildren.

She was a past noble grand of the Newton Highlands Lodge of Rebekahs.

Peter J. Paine

Funeral services were held Saturday for Peter J. Paine, 87, of 299 Centre street, Newton, with a requiem Mass from Our Lady's Church, Newton. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Paine, a native of Waltham, lived in Newton for half a century. He died Thursday in Cushing Hospital, Framingham, after a long illness.

Eva J. Longwood

Services were held Saturday in the Henry Chap Funeral Chapel, West Newton, for Mrs. Eva J. (McCarthy) Longwood, 230 Walnut street, Newtonville, who died suddenly last week in Boston City Hospital.

Burial was at Waltham, Vt., her birthplace. She had been a resident of Newton most of her life. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Gallagher of Wellesley Hills.

Edmund Miller

Funeral services were held last week in Bigelow Chapel of Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, for Edmund Miller, 64, of 161 Forest avenue, West Newton, who died at Cambridge City Hospital.

Miller, a native of Wisconsin, was a resident of Newton for 35 years. He was a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary (Gilmore) Miller, and three sons, Edmund G. of Durham, N. H., Robert W. of Needham and Richard L. of West Newton.

Edward O'Connell

Funeral services will be held tomorrow (Friday) at 10 a.m. in St. John's Church, North Cambridge, for Edward O'Connell, 63, of 258 Melrose street, Auburndale.

He was stricken Monday night with a heart attack and failed to respond to resuscitation efforts by police and fire fighters.

Interment will be in Cambridge Cemetery.

O'Connell leaves his widow, Mrs. Jean S. (Dragon) O'Connell; four sons, David B. Belmont; Timothy E. Somerville; John D. Cambridge; and two daughters, Mrs. James Earls of Arlington and Mrs. Daniel J. Keefe of Scarsdale, N. Y.

Martin J. Murray

Martin J. Murray of 188 Newtonville avenue, Newton, died Saturday after a lengthy illness and funeral services were held with a solemn requiem mass Monday at 9 a.m. in Our Lady's Church.

Murray, a native of Ireland, lived in Newton 32 years. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. John Darcy of Newton and Miss Frances Murray of Brookline.

Sydney B. Holden

Sydney B. Holden, 62, chairman of the Newton Board of Assessors, died last Wednesday at his home at 54 Bothfield road, Newton Centre.

Rev. Lloyd E. Beebe, chaplain at Boston City Hospital, officiated at the funeral services, which were attended by city and state officials, as well as a large delegation of employees and former employees of the assessing department.

Flags on public buildings were at half staff in tribute to Mr. Holden.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Carol (Leatherbee) Holden; a daughter Susan; and a son, Sydney B., Jr.

Holden was past president of the Middlesex County Board of Assessors, past president of the Massachusetts Assessors Association, and a former Newton Alderman. He was a director of the Newton South Co-operative bank, a veteran of World War I, and had been a resident of Newton for 59 years.

The funeral was held from the W. W. Pratt and Co., Funeral Home, Newton Centre, with services Saturday, August 1 at 2 p.m. at the First Church in Newton Congregational. Interment was in the family lot in Newton Cemetery.

Starlings Laugh-

which exploded automatically every three minutes.

The roaring cannon dispersed the birds after about two hours of operation. One resident said the noise of the cannon was worse than the starlings.

"They scattered that night, but came back," Chief Perkins commented. "We used the cannon again on the starlings but they laughed at us."

"Then we used the Civil Defense engine high pressure water hose. We tried that Monday night and it seemed to be the most effective method we used to date."

The starlings were given a rest Tuesday night, but last night the high pressure nozzle was back at work.

The city's battle against the starlings started early in July when police fired shotgun blasts in an effort to disperse the pesky birds.

However, all it did was puncture the leaves on the maple trees where the birds roost.

The cannon used on suggestion of a Southboro orchard owner contains a quantity of carbide on which water drips. This creates a gas which moves up a tube to a firing mechanism which results in an explosion.

Turkey Diet

Washington—The use of domestic turkeys as a meat source has more than tripled in the U. S. in recent years.

3 Officials Mourned By Aldermen

Resolutions expressing regret over the recent deaths of three prominent Newton officials, and appreciations for services they rendered to the city, were adopted Monday night by the Board of Aldermen.

The three who died recently were former Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, former Alderman Norman F. Pratt and Sydney B. Holden, Chairman of the Board of Assessors.

The resolutions were presented by Aldermen John P. Nixon, Carleton P. Merrill and Hersh Sharf.

Bonds, Teevee Stolen From Waban Home

A break into the home of Mrs. James Sampson at 2004 Beacon street, Waban, was discovered by a mailman Friday.

A portable television set, several U. S. Savings Bonds and an undetermined amount of silverware were taken, police said.

Sgt. James E. Halloran, Inspector John B. Shorton and Patrolman Owen T. Quinn found entrance was gained by forcing a second floor window above a porch roof.

Col. Gahm & Capt. Hewitt at Ft. Devens

Two Newton Reserve officers, members of the 1170th ARSU, are on two weeks active duty in the 1959 Annual Summer Training of this unit at Fort Devens.

They are Col. Irvin G. Gahm of 44 Walnut street, Newtonville, and Capt. John H. Hewitt of 1371 Walnut street, Newton.

Col. Gahm was educated at M.I.T. and became a member of the Armed Forces on June 5, 1934. He is employed by Raytheon Mfg. Co., and is a member of numerous medical associations. He is Post Surgeon with the 1170th ARSU.

Capt. Hewitt, a graduate of Harvard, became a member of the Armed Forces in 1938. He is employed by M.I.T. and is Statistical Officer, S-4, with the 1170th ARSU.

Select 4 For Jury Service

The Newton Board of Aldermen selected the names of two men and two women for duty as traverse jurors in Middlesex Superior Court in East Cambridge, starting Sept. 14.

They were: Vincent P. Roberts of 17 Ascenta terr., West Newton; William Scheff of 101 Exeter st., West Newton; Margaret C. Shaughnessy of 225 Jackson st., Newton Centre, and Jeannette McMaster of 127 Harding st., West Newton.

Two Hurt In Sat. Accidents

Two persons were hurt in Saturday accidents.

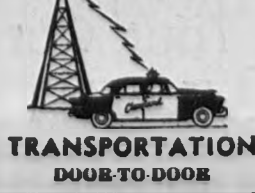

Louis Rosenberg of 411 Parker street, Newton Centre, was treated at Newton-Wellesley Hospital for cuts on his face and head after his motorcycle struck a tree near his home at 10 p.m. He told police he was grazed by a hit-run motorist and forced into the tree.

David A. DiMarzio, 6, of 68 Boyd street, Newton, received injuries to his right side and stomach when his bike collided with a car driven by Joseph J. Girouard of 33 School street, Newton, at 9 p.m.

Girouard said he was backing into Gardner street making a turn on School street when the accident occurred.

3 Mornings Of Diversion

"Mornings of Diversion", already established in other communities and especially popular in Boston through the efforts of Mrs. William Dana Orcutt, may be enjoyed in Newton Centre next season.

Groundwork for the project is being conducted by Mrs. Harold R. Keller and her committee.

The work of addressing the invitations was done by Mrs. Henry S. Adams, Mrs. Lloyd W. Allen, Mrs. Julian D. Anthony, Mrs. William P. Beetham, Mrs. P. Edward Eden, Mrs. Orville Forte, Mrs. John D. Fox, Mrs. Chester M. Jones, Mrs. Robert M. P. Kennard, Mrs. Roger Tyler, Mrs. John W. Watts, and the Misses Marguerite and Maida Flanders.

Mrs. Fox of Waban and Mrs. Watts of Newton Centre are in charge of reservations.

The Committee will present Dr. Paul Dudley White, noted heart specialist and advisor to President Eisenhower, on Nov. 5; Boris Goldovsky on March 31, both "mornings" to be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

In May there will be a Tulp Tour, with afternoon tea at the garden of Mrs. Frank A. Day Jr., in Newton.

A partial list of the sponsors includes Mrs. Hollis Albright, Mrs. Edward Poyen Barry, Mrs. Paul T. Babson, Mrs. Robert Bray, Mrs. William F. Carlson, Mrs. Cyrus Ferris, Mrs. Marjorie Gardner, Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, Mrs. Edwin C. Johnson, Mrs. Harry K. Noyes, Mrs. Horace W. Orr, Mrs. William Dana Orcutt, Mrs. Harry M. Ramsey, Mrs. Brian E. Smith, and the Misses Dorothy Simpson and Mabel Riley.

Newton South Nipped 3-2 In District Play

Newton South's Little League All-Stars lost a 3-2 heartbreaker Monday night at Gill Stadium in Auburndale as strikeout artist Danny Reardon of North Medford fanned 18.

Reardon gave up six hits and walked five, compared with the work of Wally Rosenthal who went the full eight innings, yielded seven hits, struck out five and walked two.

In all but two innings, Newton South batters reached base but Reardon pitched out of trouble.

Jimmy Martin, who figured in all the North Medford scoring, opened the first inning with a 2-run homer and scored in the winning tally when he raced in from third on an outfield fly.

Newton South went into the first round of the District Tournament with a 3 to 2 win over Wellesley East Saturday afternoon.

Two runs in the fourth inning gave Newton South the win in the district finals. Jeff Somes fanned 11 for Newton South as Walt Rosenthal's two run single proved the winning blow.

In this fourth, Lorin Baker was passed, Bill Carton singled and Pete Dyer reached on an error to fill the bases. Joe Draisin forced Baker at the plate, and then Rosenthal's single scored Carton and Dyer.

The summaries of the Final Championship rounds were:

Girls Senior Division: Won by Linda Warner (Cold Spring)—6-3, 6-0. Runner-up—Joan Bowker (Burr).

Girls Junior Division: Won by Wendy Colton (Lincoln)—6-3, 6-4. Runner-up—Audrey Kasarjian (Burr).

Boys' Senior Division: Won by Richard Eaton (Oak Hill)—8-6, 6-2. Runner-up—Barry White (Highlands).

Boys' Junior Division: Won by Allan White (Highlands)—6-2, 6-1. Runner-up—James McLaughlin (Burr).

York Wins Stowe Golf Title

Newton High's golf captain, Alan York, 17, has captured the Stowe Acres Country Club championship.

York, who is captain-elect of the basketball team at the High School, won 4 and 3 from Norman Wakling of Saxonville, in a 36-hole final over the newly renovated course.

Barbecue By Hadassah To Be August 12

The outdoor summer barbecue of the Newton Hadassah will be held at the home of Mrs. William Lipson at 983 Dedham street, Newton Centre on Wednesday, August 12 starting at 7 p.m. Proceeds will benefit Youth Aliyah.

It was announced this week that reservations are now being taken for the affair.

Committee meetings have been held to formulate plans for the barbecue with a large attendance expected.

Mrs. Harry Intrilligator, president, urges all those planning to attend to make their reservations as soon as possible by calling one of the chairmen, Mrs. William Lipson BI 4-4401 or Mrs. Albert Ober ST 2-7190.

Music Sorority Chaplain

Miss Lynne Albert, a senior at Boston University School of Fine and Applied Art, recently was elected Chaplain of the Gamma Alpha chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national sorority for women in the field of music.

Wonderland Derby Now Underway

Three veterans of derby wars will be seeking qualifying spots as quarter-finals get underway tonight for the Wonderland Derby at Wonderland Park.

Texas Yellow Rose, Rug Bug and Ruran Shannon are wireless in two previous derbies which date back to 1935.

A. L. Sparks' Texas Yellow Rose finished second behind Canadian Pacific, the 1957 winner, and fourth last season also behind "Pacific," the only two-time derby winner over the 3/8ths mile distance. J. B. Cohen's Canadian Pacific suffered a broken hock of his right leg a month ago which ended his racing career.

John D'Orlando's Rug Bug finished poorly in last season's edition and the four-year-old will be trying to qualify for this, the 25th Wonderland Derby which will be run August 14.

Rural Shannon, another older running under the R. H. Stevenson banner, has been racing well in recent outings and is ready for the 3/8ths mile opening round.

Colby College Names Newton Man as Trainer

Carl E. Nelson, of Newton, has been appointed a physical therapist and athletic trainer at Colby College.

He is a former assistant trainer at Boston University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is a Newton High School graduate and received his B.S. degree from Boston University last June. As an undergraduate he served three years working with the Terrier teams under the direction of Coach Steve Sinko.

A 28-year old Navy veteran, Nelson was on the athletic staff at M.I.T. from 1949 until 1951 when he resigned to enter the submarine service.

For two years he was assigned to the USS Ray, 271, Submarine Squadron 6. He and his wife, the former Miss Jean Dyer, of Knoxville, Tenn., have resided at 128 Grassmere street, Newton Corner, but will soon take up residence in Maine. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Nelson, of 11 Cumberland road, West Newton.

Rev. Seely Is Union Preacher

Rev. Albert L. Seely, the Protestant Chaplain of the University of Massachusetts, will be the preacher at the Newton Summer Union Services to be held at 10 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 9, at the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville.

Rev. Seely, a native of Massachusetts, graduated from Oberlin College, did missionary study and teaching in China for five years, and after graduate study at Yale Divinity School, served as pastor of the Wells River Congregational Church in Wells River, Vermont, before coming to the University of Mass. in 1954.

Music for the services will be provided by the Central Church organist, Marshall Wilkins, assisted by a quartet. Child care will be provided during the service.

The preacher on August 16 at the union services at the Central Church will be the Rev. James Noah Gettemy, President of the Hartford (Conn.) Seminary Foundation.

Summer Grad. At R. I. College

Arnold Weinfeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Weinfeld, received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Accounting at the 98th commencement of Bryant College of Business Administration at Providence, R. I., last Friday.

Because of its accelerated degree curriculum (longer semesters) Bryant College holds its commencements in mid-summer.

Weinfeld, a graduate of Newton High School, was a member of Hillel and of Delta Omega professional society while at Bryant College.

Betsy Tichnor Enters Russell Sage College

Miss Betsy Jane Tichnor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Tichnor of 115 Annawan road, Waban, is enrolled in the freshman class at Russell Sage College in Troy, N. Y. She is a graduate of Newton High School, Newtonville.

Freshman Week will begin on September 13, with the opening convocation of the college on September 18.

Most of the freshmen at Russell Sage are housed in a modern dormitory opened two years ago. Another new dormitory and dining hall, and a science building, are now under construction.

Cello Student in Maine

Stephen H. Custer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Custer of 275 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, is studying cello at the New England Music Camp in Oakland, Me.

At a recent recital he performed The Grave and Allegro of the Sonata in G Minor by Handel.

Selectmen and city and town managers, Mayor Whitmore said:
"The Boston & Albany Railroad's petition to cancel 39 trains and close 16 stations creates a common crisis for commuters in all the cities and towns affected. It is also detrimental to business, industry, employees and employers in these and neighboring communities.
"Timely, united, cooperative action is our best and perhaps only hope for protective and constructive action.

"Therefore, I respectfully suggest and urge that we, together with our city and town counsels, meet as soon as possible for discussion and organized efforts.
"The City of Newton would be pleased to be your host next Thursday evening at City Hall at 8 p.m.
"Please advise as to your reaction to this suggestion and your availability to attend such a meeting."
Virtually all the 14 cities and towns are planning to have one or more representatives at the session called by Mayor Whitmore, a check by The Graphic indicated this morning.
It is anticipated that plans will be made to offer a solid front of opposition at the public hearing on the matter which the State Public Utilities Commission will hold early in the fall.
Meanwhile, public, civic and business leaders throughout Newton joined Mayor Whitsoon as the prolonged battle for the seat he now holds in the Massachusetts Senate is resolved.

That Gibbs intends to toss his hat into the mayoralty ring is evident from the fact that he already has selected former Alderman Ernest Angvine, chairman of the finance committee of the Newton Republican City Committee, as his campaign manager.
The only thing that has held up his pronouncement, more in expressing strong opposition to the B & A move which, if successful, would terminate all commuter train service to the city and close down all railroad stations in Newton except the one at Newtonville.

The Newtonville station would be used merely for seven trains per day which would run between Boston and Albany, N. Y. Those trains, however, would not be operated at hours when they would be of any use to commuters if, indeed, commuters were allowed to board them.
Scheduled to be closed down, if the B & A petition is approved by the Public Utilities Commission, are the stations at West Newton, Auburndale and Riverside.
Hundreds of persons who now commute daily by B & A train between Newton and Boston undoubtedly would be forced to use the new Highland Branch of the MTA if the threatened elimination of train service becomes a reality.
President Richard White of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, while asserting that the B & A action did not surprise him, said this week that it would injure business and impose a serious inconvenience upon many commuters if the operation of the trains is halted.

Newton Groups Back Gibbs

It is understood, is the delay by the Senate in ruling on the election battle last November between Gibbs and John F. Meila of Brighton for the place Gibbs has held for the past three years in the upper legislative chamber.

It is reliably reported that a special senate committee will recommend the winner of the contest and that its report will be accepted by the full membership of the Senate.

Senator Gibbs has been prominent in Newton public affairs for nearly two decades.

He has resided in the city since 1912, attended the Newton public schools and graduated from Newton High School and the Bryant & Stratton Business School.

His first election to public office came in 1941 when he won a place on the Board of Aldermen. He was a member of the Aldermanic Board for nine years, served on every committee and was chairman of the important finance committee.

The nine years he served as an Alderman gave Gibbs a broad knowledge of the city government, persons, urging him to run for Mayor, point out.

While an Alderman, he was responsible for the creation of the off-street parking committee, served as its first chairman and directed the establishment of virtually all the off-street parking areas now in use in the city.

In 1933 he was elected to the House of Representatives to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Christian A. Herter, Jr. He served a total of three years in the House, during which he was a member of the important taxation and labor and industries committee.

Gibbs was elected to the Senate in 1956 and was re-elected last November. As a freshman Senator he served on seven different committees and was chairman of the labor and industries committee.

and the education committee. He was given more committee assignments, incidentally, than any other first-term Senator.
A number of Newton groups, who have been sizing up possible mayoralty candidates since Mayor Whitmore announced he would not stand for reelection, have settled on Gibbs as the man they desire to back. They have held several meetings with him and have promised him their support if he runs.
Gibbs is married and resides at 37 Claremont street in Newton. He has one daughter, Mrs. Constance Oliver of Oak Hill.

THE NEW NEW ENGLAND

Vacation Travel = BIG Business

New England plays host to more than 8,000,000 visitors each year. A billion dollar business in our six states, vacation travel is second only to manufacturing as the region's largest dollar earner.

While most of the vacationers presently come from the Northeastern United States and Eastern Canada, 600 mile-an-hour jet planes are extending New England's potential market even to the most distant states and other countries.

No other section of the United States has so much to offer the vacationer in so compact a package. As naturally endowed as Marilyn Monroe, New England has sparkling ocean beaches, peaceful lakes and streams, rugged mountains (16 of them over 5,000 feet), verdant woodlands, summer and winter sports, plus countless historic and cultural attractions. You name it and New England has it — all within an easy day's drive.

Vacationists' dollars filter down to practically all segments of our economy. Every one of us should be a helpful and courteous member of a vast New England reception committee to help the visitor feel at home and make him want to return.

This message was prepared by The New England Council for Economic Development and is published by this newspaper as a public service in cooperation with the New England Daily Newspaper Association and the New England Weekly Press Association.

175 Scouts Enrolled

Camp Quinapoxet Opens

Camp Quinapoxet opened Sunday with 175 Boy Scouts and Explorers in camp for the first two week period. The boys are from 40 troops and explorer units in the Norumbega Council area.

The camp for Newton, Wellesley and Weston boys is directed by Scout Executive Ralph B. Johnson of Newtonville.

On arrival at camp, all boys were registered, introduced to their Scoutmasters and assigned to a two-boy 9' x 9' tent. From their troop site they proceeded to the Health Lodge for a medical checkup by Newton and Wellesley doctors and then on to the waterfront area for a swimming classification check.

After the swim check the boys returned to their troop sites to change into Summer uniforms and stow away their equipment before the color ceremonies and their first meal in camp.

Norumbega Council is a Red Feather Agency sharing in the United Fund.

Judy Dietz Ends 6-Weeks Study

Miss Judy Dietz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Dietz of 93 Hancock avenue, Newton Centre, will join her family at their summer home in Rockport this week after finishing six weeks study at the Amherst Summer Music Center on the campus of the University of Massachusetts.

Miss Dietz continued her study of the clarinet and participated in band, chorus and a woodwind ensemble.

Colleges Grow; Permits Okayed

Newton colleges are growing. The Board of Aldermen granted permission Monday night for three new dormitories for Boston College in Chestnut Hill and an addition to a dormitory at Mount Ida Junior College.

Two of the new B. C. dorms will be built off Tudor road and the third off Hammond street. Chairman Leo M. Cannon of the Claims and Rules Committee, said there will be screen plantings on Tudor road and there will be no walkway to the dormitory.

The Mount Ida addition will be a third floor to an existing dormitory. The only stipulation set was that its pitched roof not exceed Shaw Hall in height.

Other permits granted: To Mrs. Margaret J. Wallwork for a lodging house for 12 girls at 41 Cypress street, Newton Centre, on the condition she surrender her rest home license, and all parking be at the rear of the lot with not more than five cars allowed.

ger, promoters Rip Valenti and Nuno Cam, New York manager of Al Braverman, New Bedford promoter Gerald F. Huston and New York welterweight Charles A. Washington.

The suspensions were announced last week after the Commission said it confirmed the suspicion that Washington fought under the name of Archie Whitfield, another New York boxer.

Whitfield, now in the Army, telephoned from Kentucky, when he read in the newspapers that he had been knocked out by DeNucci in the fifth round of a scheduled eight rounder at Sargent Field in New Bedford.

Edward J. Urbee of Worcester, member of the state commission with Chairman Herman Green of Springfield and Joseph W. Reardon of Milton, explained last night that the identity of DeNucci's opponent was questioned two days after the bout.

It was revealed that on the night of the bout, just prior to the arrival of commissioners Reardon and Urbee, deputy commissioners checked out the identification of all the fighters except one, the alleged Whitfield.

His manager Al Braverman, admitted that Whitfield's license had run out. However, a new license was issued following a physical examination.

It was assumed by the commission that Braverman had Washington on hand to use

Sklar's Market Joins Super Market Institute

William A. Sklar, General Manager, announced today that Sklar's Market, Newton Corner, has joined Super Market Institute, the nation's most outstanding business organization devoted to food marketing.

Richard J. Sklar is executive vice president of Sklar's, which also operates a super market in Brookline. Through its membership in SMI, Sklar's has access to the latest techniques in advertising, merchandising and management consultation.

Membership in the Institute will accrue benefits to Sklar's customers in the form of extra conveniences and service, more savings due to mass buying techniques and greater value in meats through cutting, trimming and packaging procedures now available.

Whitfield's name and license to fight DeNucci.

As soon as the commission received word from Whitfield that he did not fight DeNucci, it requested pictures of both Whitfield and Washington from the New York State Athletic Commission.

The photographs revealed that Washington was substituting for Whitfield, according to the commission.

Valenti was suspended along with Cam, who has been prominent in Boston boxing circles for a number of years, because they aided New Bedford promoter Huston in setting up the show.

tinued. "This legislation limited the cost of the project to $10,600,000, of which $9,200,000 was allocated for construction and $1,400,000 for revenue equipment.

"While this extension provides a substantial improvement in MTA service, the facilities supplied are not rapid transit lines, and, therefore, do not fall into the category of what is generally accepted as the most economical means of transportation supplied by rapid transit trains, similar to the service provided on the Revere extension with such outstanding success."

Meanwhile, it was learned that 17 old trolley cars, purchased by the MTA from the Dallas, Texas, Transit Company for $39,000 are destined for service on the Highland Branch.

A spokesman for the Dallas firm described the 14-year-old trolleys as "white elephants" which had been offered for sale in Korea and Mexico and were turned down. He said his company was considering dismantling them for scrap when the MTA bought them.

However, an MTA official described the transaction as a bargain. He said the cars will be fixed up and placed in use, presumably to accommodate the additional commuters who will be riding on the Highland Branch in the fall.

Engagement Of Jean Rambeau Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rambeau of 79 Fessenden street, Newtonville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jean Lucille Rambeau, to LTJG Richard Dean Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester W. Little of 18 Dartmouth street, Lynn.

Miss Rambeau was graduated, in 1957, from the School of Education at Boston University.

Lt. Little was graduated from Boston University's College of Industrial Technology in 1956, where he received a bachelor of science degree in aeronautical engineering. He is stationed at the Naval Air Station, Brunswick, Maine.

JEAN L. RAMBEAU

At Smith Social Work Reunion

Three Newton alumnae attended the 40th anniversary of the Smith College School for Social Work with an alumnae reunion and a program of lectures last Friday and Saturday. They were:

Mrs. Elinor Foss Evison, 18 Scribner Park, Auburndale; Casework Supervisor, Family Service Bureau, 74 Walnut Park, Newton.

Mrs. Catharine S. Holden, 24 Fredana road, Waban; Executive Director, Family Service Bureau, Newton and Mrs. Barbara Pettee Kovar, 78 Highland avenue, Newtonville.

Faculty Wives Club

Mrs. Laurence F. Cleveland of 24 Fairfield street, Newtonville, has been elected to the membership committee of the Northeastern Faculty Wives Club for 1959-60.

Miss Patricia Ann Wise Weds Lt. David Strauss

Miss Patricia Ann Wise of Newton became the bride of Lt. (j.g.) David Sheldon Strauss recently at the Pine Brook Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wise

Anne Feil Is Married to Karl P. Besgen

At Boston's Holy Trinity Church recently Miss Anne Elizabeth Feil was married to Mr. Karl Peter Besgen of West Newton.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Feil of 63 Orchard avenue, West Newton are the bride's parents. Mrs. Karl Besgen of Cologne, Germany, and the late Mr. Besgen are the bridegroom's parents. Mrs. Besgen came here from Germany for her son's wedding.

The Rev. Sliber, S.J., officiated at the 10 o'clock nuptial mass and performed the double ring ceremony. A reception followed at the Boylston Schul-Verin in Jamaica Plain.

Mr. Feil gave his daughter in marriage. She chose a traditional white gown made of pure silk taffeta applied with peau de sole and seed pearl. Her chapel train was designed of Alencon lace.

A becoming headpiece held in place her French illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Miss Siegrid M. Dreder of Massena, N.Y. was her cousin's honor maid. Mrs. Ernest Nielson of Holiston and Miss Elizabeth Swist of Westwood were bridesmaids.

Little Susan Feil of Dover, Delaware, was her aunt's flower girl. Master Anthony J. Feil, Jr., of Newton, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mr. Anthony J. Feil of Newton served as best man for his sister's bridegroom. Mr. John Feil of Dover, Delaware, and Mr. Kimon Makadon of Dorchester were the ushers.

The couple, who left on a trip through Upper New York State, are now at home at 10 Vernon road, Natick.

Garden Reception Followed Medaglia - Nardelli Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. Sacerio Nardelli received at the gardens of their Weston home following the recent marriage of their daughter, Miss Catherine Louise Nardelli, to Ensign Anthony Joseph Medaglia, Jr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Joseph Medaglia of 16 Indiana terrace, Newton Upper Falls.

The 12 o'clock ceremony at St. Ignatius Church, Chestnut Hill, was performed by the Rev. Thomas M. Herlihy, S.J.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a bustle-back gown designed of peau de sole bodiced with Belgium lace to match the re-embroidered lace which styled the front of her full skirt, entraine.

Her becoming cap was caught with a fingertip illusion veil. She carried her misal topped with orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Louise Catherine Collins of Weston was matron

Miss Kempton, Abbott Rice to Wed In August

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Kempton of Northfield, Vermont, announce the engagement of Miss Kempton's sister, Miss Annie L. Kempton, to Mr. Abbott E. Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard W. Rice of Newton Centre.

Miss Kempton was graduated from Mary Hitchcock School of Nursing and Boston University, where she is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority.

Mr. Rice was graduated from The Rivers Country Day School and Colby College, where he is a member of Kappa Delta Rho Fraternity. He is presently studying at Boston University School of Education for his master's degree.

A late August wedding is planned by the couple.

Miss McIntyre, Paul Michael Are Married

The marriage of Miss Maureen Frances McIntyre to Mr. Paul Arnold Michael took place recently at the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McIntyre of 3 Nottingham street, Newton Centre. Mr. Michael's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Michael of Somerville.

The Rev. Thomas McElroy celebrated the 10 o'clock nuptial mass, at which two rings were exchanged. A reception followed at the Hotel Vendome in Boston.

Mr. McIntyre escorted his daughter, who wore a full skirted gown of organdy and dotted swiss. Her crown of orange blossoms and pearls was caught with a sheer illusion veil. Her flowers were stephanotis, carnations and a single orchid.

Miss Eileen McIntyre came from Pasadena, Calif., to attend her sister as honor maid. Two other sisters, Miss Kathleen McIntyre, also of Pasadena, Calif., and Miss Sheila McIntyre, of Newton were her other attendants.

Mr. Ferdinand Fattibene of Medford served as best man, while Mr. Larse Freimanis of Jamaica Plan and Mr. William Sarrette of Arlington were his ushers.

The couple left on a trip to Washington, D. C. and Virginia. They are now residing in Allston.

The bride, who was graduated from State Teachers College at Boston, class of 1957, is an insurance rater.

Mr. Michael is a salesman for Plywood Company in Belmont.

Beach Party

Over eighty youngsters and parents from the Stearns and Victory Playgrounds enjoyed a trip to Nantasket Beach on Wednesday, July 29, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Leaders in charge were: Pauline Teschner, Nancy Howard, Jennie Magni, John Hartnett and William Fleming.

New Daughter

Attorney and Mrs. Bernard D. Frank (Phyllis S. Feinson), of 129 Randlett Park, West Newton, announce the birth of a daughter, Jan Ellen, on July 6th.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Simons, of Brookline, and Mrs. Rose Frank, of Brighton.

Virginia Bain Is Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Lloyd Bain of Maple street, West Roxbury, announce the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Ruth Bain to Robert Stanley Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hayward H. Jones of Lexington street, Auburn-dale.

Miss Bain, a member of the National Honor Society, graduated from Roslindale High School last year and is now in training at the New England Baptist Hospital, Boston.

Mr. Jones graduated from Newton High School and Northeastern University with honor. He is employed by General Electric Company in Schenectady, N. Y., and is presently serving as a Second Lieutenant in the Army Corps of Engineers.

Development Conference On Fall Agenda

Fall plans of the Newton Chamber of Commerce include a secretary's workshop to be held in September, and a Newton economic development conference either late in October or the first week of November.

The program presently is being developed by the Chamber's executive committee. The decision to sponsor both of these projects was made at a recent meeting of the executive committee.

The unique and interesting secretary's workshop will be held for the benefit of secretaries and female office employees of all Chamber member firms.

It is expected that the course will take place at a local institution which has a cafeteria, classrooms, and auditorium facilities. The course will get underway at 8:30 in the morning with lunch being served from 12:00 to 1:30 p.m. and classes again being held from 1:30 to 5 p.m.

The probable course contents will be: 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., Typing Refresher Course and Demonstration. Following the coffee break from 10:30 to 10:45, a course in "Helpful Hints in Meeting and Greeting the Public" will be conducted from 10:45 to 12:00 noon.

Following lunch at 1:30, a Telephone Technique Course, covering correct telephone procedures and techniques will be presented. The Workshop participants will be provided with a fall fashion show sponsored by Chamber retail stores who sell women's clothing. This well rounded program is designed to improve office procedures and to provide for these employees an interesting and colorful fashion show highlighting fall fashions for working girls.

The Economic Development Conference which is being co-sponsored by the Chamber and the Newton Junior College is slated to take place during the last week of October or the first week of November.

The purpose of this Newton Economic Development Conference will be to educate the average Newton business citizen and the students enrolled in the Business School of the Junior College on subjects which are affecting business growth, profits, market and general business conditions.

The Fall Conference will cover the subject of transportation as it affects the regional community in a metropolitan area. Many nationally known figures in the complex transportation network are being contacted to serve as members of this Economic Development Conference.

Depending upon the interest in and results from this 1959 Fall Conference, the Chamber and the Junior College may consider the establishment of other seasonal conferences dealing with other problems such as taxes, the businessman in government, and planning for Newton's future.

Additional detailed plans on the Secretary's Workshop and the Economic Development Conference will be worked out over the next few weeks.

3 Newton Lawyers On New B.U. Course In Taxation

Three Newton residents are among 14 attorneys, all tax specialists, recently added to the Boston University School of Law part-time faculty, to staff the school's new graduate degree program in the field of taxation which will be inaugurated in the fall.

They are Carl J. Marold, William M. Glosky, and Charles H. Morin.

Atty. Marold, a member of the firm of Herrick, Smith, Donald, Farley and Ketchum in Boston, received his A.B. and LL.B. degrees from the University of Nebraska. He is a member of the Missouri, Illinois and Massachusetts Bar Associations, and the Harvard Law School, where he earned his LL.B.

Atty. Glosky is a former editor of the Harvard Law Review and is a member of both the Boston and American Bar Associations. Since 1950 he has served on the committee on taxation of the Boston Bar. He will teach a course on estate planning in the new graduate tax program.

Atty. Morin is a member of the Boston firm of Morin and Owens. He is a member of the Massachusetts bar association and he received his B.S. degree from Harvard and LL.B. degree from the Boston University School of Law. Atty. Morin will teach federal income taxation.

The graduate tax program, the first of its kind in New England offered by a law school and leading to a Master of Laws degree in taxation, is open to graduates to approved law schools and members of the bar.

All courses are scheduled for late afternoon (4 - 6 p.m.) and early evening (6 - 8 p.m.) on Monday through Thursday, at the School of Law, 11 Ashburton place, Boston. Three years is allowed to complete the program, but it may be done in one year.

Other courses offered in the program are estate planning, partnership income tax problems, deferred compensation plans, estate and gift taxation, federal income taxation, state taxation, and many more.

Rabbi Mirsky Comes Here Next Month

Rabbi David Mirsky of Yeshiva University, New York, will conduct High Holy Days Services at Congregation Beth El-Atereth Israel, 561 Ward Street, Newton, it was announced by Rabbi Abraham Koolyk, Spiritual Leader of the new congregation.

Rabbi Mirsky was ordained in 1945 at the Rabbi Isaac Elchanan Theological Seminary and is presently a candidate for the doctorate in English Literature at Columbia University. He is serving now as Director of Admissions Yeshiva University and Assistant Professor of Hebrew and English Literature.

Samuel Andler, President of the Congregation, has appointed a High Holy Days Committee for seat reservations at the Services. Services will be held both in the Sanctuary and in the new air-conditioned auditorium of the Synagogue.

Those wishing to make reservations may contact Melvin Chetitz, Wa 5-3870, William Andler La 7-6746, Arthur Baker De 2-0524.

Bands Compete at Hyde Park For Scholarship

Establishment of the Joseph T. McManis Scholarship Fund by the Eastern Mass. Junior bugle and drum association has been announced by H. Francis Houlihan of 214 Beacon street, Newton. He is president of the association.

Houlihan added that a contest for the benefit of the fund will be held under the lights at Kelly Field, Hyde Park, on Saturday night, Aug. 15th starting at 8 p.m.

The fund has been established to send at least one member of an association unit to college who might otherwise be unable to attend. Houlihan said it is named in memory of the late coordinator of the association.

More than 20 units from the Greater Boston area will vie for trophies and cash awards in four classes. Excellent music, intricate marching maneuvers and colorful uniforms will make the evening an enjoyable one for patrons.

Tickets for this fine program may be purchased at the gate.

Mayor Seeks Support In Battle Against B&A Cuts

Public officials, civic and business leaders, and commuters are being urged by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., to join in a determined, all-out fight against a proposed elimination of commuter train service on the main line of the Boston & Albany Railroad.

The Mayor issued his call after officials of 10 communities had offered a united front in opposition to the B & A train cuts at a meeting held by Whitmore at Newton City Hall.

Mayor Whitmore was named as chairman of the eastern division of city and town officials whose communities would be hit by the proposed reduction in B & A train service.

Working with him will be City Manager Francis J. McGrath of Worcester as chairman of the central division and Assistant City Solicitor William L. Cohen of Springfield, chairman of the western division.

The meeting called by Mayor Whitmore to map plans for a battle against the termination of B & A commuter service to Newton and some 14 other cities and towns was acclaimed a great success by those who attended it.

Mayor Whitmore declared at the session that the elimination of the commuter service had been ordered in New York by executives of the New York Central Railroad.

Newton Lad And Pals Paddle Down Hudson

A 14-year-old Newton boy, Al Werner, was among eight youths who commemorated the 350th anniversary of the exploration by Henry Hudson of the river bearing his name.

The eight boys paddled canoes 250 miles down inland waters and the Hudson River to New York City.

The Newton lad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred B. Werner of 3 Magnolia ave., was among eight chosen from 100 canoe enthusiasts at Camp Keewaydin at Dunmore, Vt. He is a ninth grade student at Commonwealth School in Boston.

Camp Keewaydin, one of New England's camps, is celebrating its 50th anniversary. The youngsters made the 14-day journey in four canoes without any unusual incidents. They averaged 18 miles a day and their peak was 27 miles.

The boys cooked their meals on gasoline stoves which they carried in canoes. They lost an average of three to five pounds from the grind.

Starting on Lake Dunmore, the trip took the boys through the Champlain Canal and down the Hudson River to New York which they reached Sunday morning.

On Monday the eight boys went to New York City Hall and presented to Mayor Robert Wagner a scroll bearing the signatures of Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Lt. Governor Robert Babcock of Vermont.

DeNucci Cleared

Newton's middleweight boxer, Joe DeNucci, now bivouac-ed with the Yankee Division at Camp Drum N.Y., was cleared Monday by the Massachusetts Boxing Commission of any complicity in the "ringer" he kayaked in New Bedford July 21.

The suspension clamped on DeNucci was lifted as were the suspensions on Anthony "Rip" Valenti, Nuno Can, the Matchmaker, Jerry Huston, the promoter and LeRoy "Archie" Whitfield, a boxer now with the Army in Kentucky.

Actually, DeNucci knocked out a New York fighter named Charles A. Washington in the fifth round Washington had signed papers as Whitfield, an Army private stationed at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

After the hearing concluded, the Commission continued the indefinite suspensions on Washington and on his handler, Al Braverman, also of New York.

Absent from the hearing were DeNucci, Whitfield, Washington and Braverman. Braverman did telephone, however, to say he had "a previous appointment."

Information brought out at the hearing was that the match in New Bedford was arranged by a New Yorker named Larry Brown, who agreed to send Whitfield up with Braverman.

"It was stupid," commented Jerry Huston.

"Here I was promoting my first fight and this happens. If Braverman had merely said Whitfield can't get a leave and here is a substitute, Charlie Washington, it would have been fine.

"People bought tickets to see DeNucci."

Commissioner Herman Greenberg summed up as follows:

"Braverman and Washington were willfully at fault. But we, the commission, were lax in permitting Washington to go into the ring unchallenged. It won't happen again.

"We're going to set up an identification system for fighters even if it requires finger printing."

DeNucci did fight Washington once before under his own name. Back in Feb. 6, 1958, DeNucci scored a fourth round knockout.

Starling Pied Piper Needed

It's been too cloudy to see the stars at night but folks on Water St., Newton Centre, know the starlings are still out.

Now the job of persuading the feathered rock 'n' rollers to take their nuisance elsewhere has been turned over to the Newton Street Department Forestry Division.

Forestry Supt. Eugene Drennan said it would require several days to determine if trimming the trees would bear results.

Thus far the Police and Fire Departments have been unsuccessful. The police used a shotgun, and the fire laddies used high pressure hoses and an automatic carbide cannon.

The noise of the cannon was almost worse than the raucous noise of the birds.

BU Promotes 8 Residents Of Newton

Eight Newton residents were among 62 faculty promotions announced this week by Boston University President Harold C. Case.

Twelve were promoted to full professors, there were five new instructors, 25 assistant professors and 17 associate professors.

New professors included Prof. of Communications Harry H. Crosby of Newton.

Promoted at the College of Liberal Arts was Associate Prof. of Biology I. Alden Macchi of Newton Upper Falls.

Promoted at the Junior College were Associate Prof. of Humanities Sidney J. Black of Newtonville, and Associate Prof. of Social Relations Charles M. Winston of Newton Highlands.

School of Fine and Applied Arts promotions included Assistant Prof. of Art Arthur Hoener of Newton.

Promoted at the School of Nursing were Associate Prof. of Nursing Rose A. Godbout of Newton and Instructor in Nursing Edna Byron of Newton Centre.

School of Medicine promotions included Associate in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation Dr. Murray M. Freed of Newtonville.

Mayoralty Picture Clears As Senator Gibbs Enters Race

Gibbs, Moore and Cannon To Vie For Mayor's Post

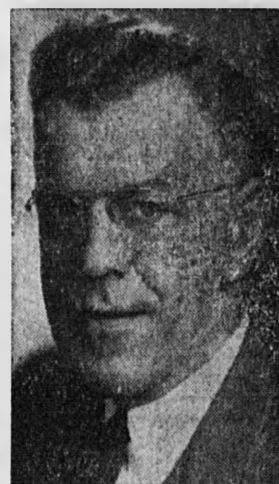

Newton's mayoralty picture was clarified and the battle lines for the coming campaign more tightly drawn this week as State Senator Donald L. Gibbs officially announced that he will be a candidate for Mayor in the November election.

Gibbs declared that he is entering the mayoralty race in response to requests by a great many prominent Newton citizens, among them public, civic and business leaders in the city.

His formal announcement of his intention to run for Mayor was made by Gibbs at a party at the home of Ernest G. Angevine, 95 Prince street, West Newton. Angevine is to serve as Gibbs' campaign manager.

With the entrance of Gibbs into the mayoralty lists, a rugged, two-fisted battle is now anticipated over the period of the next 10 weeks for the right to succeed Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., at the head of Newton's city government. Whitmore is planning to retire from office at the close of this year.

SENATOR GIBBS

PAUL A. LEONARD, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Leonard of 228 Linwood avenue, Newtonville, took part in "Activities Week" at the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., last week. Paul, a student of School of Our Lady, underwent activities similar to those of a regular cadet. One day was spent at the Coast Guard Moorings, in New London for ship-board experience on a 95-foot patrol boat. Paul is shown here with Joseph P. Reilly, cadet fourth class, of Stamford, Conn.

Safe Driving Award For Newtonville Pair

Two Newtonville Post Office employees received 27-year safe driving awards today from Postmaster Ephraim Martin.

Joseph T. Coen of 156 Summer st., Watertown, a special delivery messenger, and Julian Whitted of West Roxbury received the pins and certificates from the National Safety Council at a presentation in the Newtonville Post Office.

The 27-year award is the longest term award made by the Safety Council, which has no records of any earlier period. Mr. Coen, 61, has been in the postal service for 35 years, and Mr. Whitted, 62, has worked for the department for 38 years. They are the only two 27-year award winners in the Boston Postal District.

Other long-term safe driving awards were presented to three men from the Newtonville office: Thomas Connaughton of Brighton and Peter P. Ianello of 29 Brookline st., Watertown, 21 years each, and John J. Walsh of 154 Derby st., West Newton, 20 years; and one from the Weston office: Anthony A. Mirra of Roslindale, 13 years.

A total of 391 awards have been made in New England this year.

Other award winners: From the Newtonville Post Office: Joseph A. Alicandro, one year; John B. Bereury, one year; Charles M. Dance, two years; John J. Knight, one year; Harold A. LeBonte, one year; Frederick M. Lally, one year; Hubert L. Paquette, two years; Charles A. Pendergast, two years; Owen R. Quinn, one year; Bruno Rizza, three years; Patrick A. ## MTA Seeks To Eliminate Highland Branch "Bugs"

MTA officials declared today that they are still endeavoring to eliminate "bugs" which have developed in connection with the operation of the Highland Branch rapid transit line between Riverside station and Park street.

One of the problems they are striving to correct, an MTA spokesman declared, is the excessive noise caused by the cars which has drawn complaints from persons living near the transit line.

Crews of maintenance workers are now seeking to eliminate the causes of the noise, it was stated.

"However, the 9.2 mile distance involved over the run from Riverside to the opening of the underground of the Kenmore tunnel obviously will require some time for these crews to service," the MTA official emphasized.

"Further this work must be done to a large extent during non-operating hours. Operators have been instructed to keep their speeds down to the assigned levels and officials have requested inspection and study of new methods to reduce noise will be in effect permanently," the spokesman said.

Answering complaints that some riders using the line are forced to stand for a considerable distance, the same MTA spokesman said:

"The number of vehicles operating over the line are being increased within the limits of availability and at operators to be particularly careful when passing residential sections.

Ex-Newton Jet Pilot Missing

A National Guard Air Force pilot, whose mother and sister live in Newton, is reported missing after two jet planes collided some 30 miles outside of San Juan, Puerto Rico, last week.

Capt. Elliott H. Gray, 39, a native of Newton and graduate of Newton High School, was reported missing after his F86 jet crashed in flames. Two other fliers parachuted to safety from 25,000 feet from the other plane.

Gray, married and father of four, makes his home in the Virgin Islands and flies for the Puerto National Guard. His mother and sister, Mrs. Catherine Royster, live at 1630 Centre street, Newton.

Rites Today For Newton Patrolman

Members of the Newton police department, the American Legion, Knights of Columbus and other organizations to which he belonged pay final tribute today to Patrolman Dominic J. Innocenzo.

He died suddenly of a cerebral hemorrhage on Monday at his home, 366 Langley Rd., Newton Centre.

The funeral is being held from the Valente Funeral Home, 697 Washington St., Newtonville. A solemn requiem Mass at Sacred Heart Church at 10 a.m. will be followed by interment in the family lot at Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline.

Truck Driver Fined $25 In Newton Fatal

The driver of a trailer truck involved in a Newton fatal last month was fined $25 on a charge of driving to endanger by Judge W. Lloyd Allen in Newton District Court Saturday.

A finding of "no probable cause" was made on a second charge of manslaughter against Mahlon F. Herner, 54, of Utica, N. Y.

Lt. James W. Corcoran of the police traffic division said Mahlon was driver of a truck which collided with an auto in Auburndale July 6, killing Harry T. Evans, 19 year old sailor of Shickshinny, Penn., and injuring four others.

Weston police brought Benjamin E. Mustoe, 32, of 6 Nonatum street, Newton, into court the same day and accused him of driving to endanger after he allegedly stopped his car short on Route 30

Bitter Democratic Battle Over Gerrymander Is Seen

Republican leaders on Beacon Hill privately are not too worried over the prospect that the Democratic-controlled State Legislature will push through a bill next year revamping the election districts throughout Massachusetts.

They know there is a strong likelihood that the move will wind up in a bitter battle between Democratic legislators over the entire proposition, with the suggested Gerrymander plan finally tossed into the waste basket.

It's going to be pretty difficult, if not impossible, to produce a plan for new legislative districts which will satisfy all the Democratic members of the House of Representatives.

One thing which is certain is that each legislator is going to examine the plan from the standpoint of how it will affect him individually. No law-maker is going to vote to legislate himself out of office or to lessen his own chances of gaining reelection.

If even a small number of Democrats are dissatisfied with the plan that is finally produced, revolt against it and join with the Republican minority, the measure will be defeated. Many Beacon Hill observers expect that is exactly what will happen.

Wellington Playground Kids Enjoy Two Fine Outings

Under the guidance of Newton Recreation Department leaders, groups of Wellington Playground children recently spent an entire day at Norumbega Park Outing, and another group from the West Newton area attended a movie at the Children's Museum in Jamaica Plain.

The movie was called "Getting to Know India." After the movie a talk was given on life in India by one of the Museum's staff members. The children also were shown the various clothing of people of India as well as household goods and those of the market.

After the talk the children were allowed to view the many colorful and intriguing displays which ranged from live animals to miniature doll houses complete with furniture.

Those attending included: Kathleen Duffy, Lorraine Garrant, Irene Garrant, Carol Ryan, Margaret Troy, Harriet Treddin, William Treddin, Claire Ford, Celeste Sampson, Lyn Cosgrove, Virginia Louise Pecorari, Richard Harlan, Marsia Jean Harlow, Mary Cronin, Ann Cronin, William Tryo, Thomas Torchin, Kathleen MacDougall, Brenda Feeney, Nancy Feeney, Leaders; Mary M. Cyr and Lee Duncan.

The leaders for the Norumbega outing were Mary M. Cyr, Lee Duncan and Peter Conroy. The group took lunches and spent the entire day at the park.

The boys and girls enjoyed themselves on the amusements particularly the Crazy Cups and Davy Crockett's Nightmare, two new attractions at the park.

Among those present were: Donna King, Dianne Cove, Lorraine Garrant, Irene Garrant, Kathleen Duffy, Claire Ford, Celeste Sampson, William Ford, Carol Ryan, William Ryan, Alfred Ryan, Mary Cronin, Ann Cronin, Nancy Feeney, Brenda Feeney, Nicholas Pecorari, Dora Westland, Stephen Westland, Norman Westland, Margaret Troy, Kathleen MacDougall, and James Ahern.

Camp Quinapoxet

New Rescue Methods Taught

Scout Executive Ralph B. Johnson, Camp Director of Camp Quinapoxet which is operated during the month of August by Norumbega Council Inc., Boy Scouts of America, has announced that the two hundred campers and staff members are all being taught the new Mouth to Mouth method of resuscitation that is being advocated by the Boy Scouts of America and the American Red Cross.

Mr. Johnson pointed out that practice is limited to proper positioning of the victim and placement of the head and jaw. The actual mouth to mouth breathing is not done during practice sessions.

Robert Levi of Newton, chairman of the advanced committee of Norumbega Council, will be present in camp on Saturday evening, August 15, for the Court of Honor at the closing campfire for the first two weeks period. Certificates will be presented to Boy Scouts who have completed the Scout Skill requirements for their Second and First Class badges. Many boys will be presented with merit badges they have earned during the first two weeks of camp.

Mrs. Whitmore Candidate For Re-election

Mrs. Grace C. Whitmore is announcing her candidacy for re-election to the Newton School Committee from Ward 2, which she has represented since 1954.

She has lived in Newton for 28 years, is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College, and the mother of three daughters all of whom graduated from the Newton schools.

She has been active in her church, alumnae affairs, and in the community. In the Girl Scouts she served as a troop leader, a member of several committees, and a term as Commissioner from 1946 to '49.

Recently Mrs. Whitmore has given much of her time to the development of in-school television. She is chairman of the Eastern Massachusetts Council for School Television which is responsible for the "21" Classroom" broadcasts over station WGBH-TV to over 120 school systems in this area.

Mrs. Whitmore is, also, a member of the Executive Committee for the Elementary French project "Parlons Français", the Executive Committee of the Council for a Television Course in the Humanities, (whose pilot series was broadcast to High Schools last May) and a member of the Massachusetts Executive Committee for School Television.

Mrs. Whitmore says: "In the five years it has been my privilege to serve the citizens of Newton on the School Committee, it has been an inspiration to work with other citizens who give so much of their time in order that our children may have the best possible preparation the schools can give for their future lives."

Political Highlights

day when 22 Boston Democratic members of the House came was provided the other first voted against a bill for the creation of a special commission which would map out the proposed new districts.

Their opposition, added to that of the Republican minority, resulted in the initial rejection of the measure. Speaker John F. Thompson hastily called a caucus and got the rebellious Democrats back on to the reservation by agreeing that they would be allowed to name three of the nine House members who will serve on the commission.

The cold fact of the matter, however, is that Boston would lose at least three House seats on a reapportionment of its legislative districts. That in itself will pose quite a problem for the Democrats.

Regardless of how many reassuring words are spoken or how much political skill is employed in plotting out the new district lines, some Democrats as well as Republicans would be ousted from office by the proposed Democratic Gerrymander.

The average legislator is not at all enthusiastic about having the boundaries of his district revised, especially if it is being enlarged. He usually is uncertain how he will do in the new sector or whether he may encounter sterner opposition than in the past.

There will be some Democrats in marginal districts who will be happy to have sections carved out where the vote is predominantly Republican or where some hostility may exist toward them in their own party.

But it almost certainly will be impossible to work out a new setup of legislative districts in Massachusetts which would satisfy all the Democrats in the House of Representatives.

When the Gerrymander plan is submitted to the House next year, the likelihood is that it will touch off a battle within the Democratic party which will make the recent budget row seem like a harmony session by comparison.

Self-preservation is the first law of the political jungle, and you wouldn't need even the thumb of one hand to count the number of legislators who are willing to sacrifice or jeopardize their own public lives for the greater glory and good of the party.

Those Democrats who regard the redistricting plan as endangering their own chances of continuing in public office will vote against it, irrespective of the party leadership. It will not take very many of them to send the proposal down the political drain.

Otis M. Whitney May Run For Governorship

A stirring of activity in the top councils of the Republican party in Massachusetts is becoming evident as the Bay State GOP high command begins to look ahead to next year's State and national elections.

U.S. Senator Leverett Saltonstall, who will be standing for reelection and will face a potent challenge from Governor Furcolo, is expected to assume an increasing degree of leadership in the coming months.

Saltonstall has a big stake in making certain that a strong GOP State ticket is put together at the Republican preliminary convention next June.

Congressman Laurence Curtis regarded as the top GOP gubernatorial prospect, but Curtis hasn't yet indicated whether he will toss his hat into the ring. It is understood that he is willing to run only if he could get the nomination in his own party without a knock-down battle.

Meanwhile, friends of State Insurance Commissioner Otis M. Whitney report that he will become a candidate for the Governorship if Curtis decides to remain in Congress. Whitney would back Curtis if the latter enters the race for Governor.

A former member of the Executive Council and the House of Representatives, Whitney served for six years as State Commissioner of Public Safety. Early this year he shifted from that position to his present post as State Insurance Commissioner. He had a distinguished military record during World War II.

Other outstanding Republican figures across Massachusetts also are being sounded out as to whether they would be interested in running for state-wide office next year.

Former State Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe, who was mentioned earlier in the year as a possible candidate for Governor, now is regarded as a more likely nominee for Lieutenant Governor and second place on the State ticket.

The Republican front will become increasingly active during the fall as GOP plans for 1960 begin to come more sharply into focus.

Treasurer Kennedy Is Still An Enigma

One of the things on which political experts are pondering these warm summer evenings is the force and magnitude of the bid State Treasurer John F. Kennedy will make a little more than a year from now for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

To most Democratic chiefs, the inscrutable Kennedy is both a political enigma and a barrier in the direct line of progress. They have tried to purge him, but he wouldn't stay purged.

Nobody can quite figure out how he wins elections. Yet, he has defeated sturdy adversaries three times in Democratic primaries and has bested three formidable Republican opponents.

Two Democratic conventions have all but thrown him out of the hall. He didn't even bother to attend last year's Democratic conclave.

The first time Kennedy won in 1954 it was assumed that victory came to him through the political magic of his name. It would be stretching credulity beyond the breaking point, however, to maintain that any voter in Massachusetts thought last November that U. S. Senator John F. Kennedy and State Treasurer John F. Kennedy were one and the same person.

On the basis of three primaries and three elections it would seem that Treasurer Kennedy, who under the Constitution cannot stand for reelection to a fourth term, would be a very strong contender if he were to set his sights on an office such as Lieutenant Governor or Secretary of State.

Unless Kennedy changes his mind, however, he will go broke in 1960 and aim for the Governorship.

Three Run For Mayor

Other leading contenders in the field include Alderman Leo M. Cannon and Norman E. Moore. Gibbs and Moore are Republicans. Cannon is a Democrat.

Even before Gibbs made his formal pronouncement, Moore issued a bristling statement, referring to Gibbs as "the machine's candidate for Mayor."

Moore's blast was based on a story published in last week's Graphic reporting that Gibbs has been assured of the support of a large number of Newton public, business and civic leaders if he entered the race for Mayor.

This was corroborated by Gibbs in his formal announcement as he asserted that he was actually running in response to the requests from many such citizens.

Gibbs added that he was deeply honored to have so many leaders in the city urge him to run for Mayor.

He declared that if he is elected he will do his utmost to justify their confidence.

The Newton Senator said he recognized that the job of directing Newton's city government is "a tremendous challenge."

"Newton has been a well run city over a period of years," Gibbs asserted. "If I could emulate the job done by recent administrations, I would be very proud, and I am sure the citizens of Newton would be very happy."

Gibbs also had a word of praise for the city's school department, expressing the conviction that it has done an excellent job.

"As Mayor, I would work in close cooperation with the School Committee so that the present high standard of our school system might be maintained," Gibbs stated.

In announcing his candidacy for Mayor, Gibbs named several well known Newtonites who will have prominent roles in the campaign he is now launching. Angevine is to be his campaign manager. Joseph DeMambro of 326 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, and Franklin K. Hoyt of 279 Fuller street, West Newton, will be vice chairman of his campaign committee. William A. Lincoln of 340 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, is to be the campaign treasurer, and Sherwood J. Tarlow of 432 Chestnut street, Waban, will be the vice treasurer.

Now serving his second term in the Massachusetts Senate, Gibbs previously served three years in the House of Representatives and nine years on the Newton Board of Aldermen.

An unusual tribute was paid to Gibbs when the Board of Aldermen adopted a resolution publicly commending him for his work as chairman of their Finance Committee.

That resolution stated: "We publicly acknowledge our indebtedness to Alderman Donald Gibbs, chairman of the Finance Committee, for long and tedious hours spent in conference, investigation, and in the preparation of his report, in his mastery of the details and the excellence of his presentation of the recommended budget."

Educated in the Newton schools and at Bryant & Stratton Business College, Gibbs is vice-president of the Kendall Paper Company of Cambridge, a director of the Bryant & Stratton School, and a incorporator of the West Newton Savings Bank.

He has been active in numerous civic and charitable undertakings in Newton and has taken a prominent part in Republican affairs in the city.

Gibbs has resided in Newton since 1912. His home is at 37 Claremont street.

Patrolman D'Innocenzo, who was 37, had been a member of the Newton police force since 1954. He lived most of his life on Langley Rd. During World War II he served with the 168th Army Engineer Combat Battalion in Europe, the Middle East and in Africa. He earned the good conduct medal and the Victory medal.

Patrolman D'Innocenzo was a member of the Massachusetts Police Association, Carlson Post 141, American Legion, V.F.W., Newton Lodge of Elks, Crozier Council, Knights of Columbus, Sacred Heart Holy Name Society and the Italian Benevolent Society. He was village chairman for Red Cross safety service.

Son of Ernesto D'Innocenzo and the late Paulina (Cantilina), he also leaves his widow, Mrs. Romilda (Esposito); three brothers, Ernest J. of Newton Centre, George of Saxonville and Mario of Natick; seven sisters, Mrs. Adolfo DiClemente, Mrs. Anthony T. DeMaio, Mrs. Verne Porter, Mrs. Richard Blais and Miss Dorothy D'Innocenzo, all of Newton Centre, Mrs. Fred Roberts of Natick and Mrs. James Burns of Oklahoma; 13 nephews and nine nieces.

About the safest prediction that can be made is that Kennedy will receive no consideration whatever at next year's Democratic State Convention. Another fairly safe forecast is that he will not even bother submitting his name to the conclave, knowing well what would happen if he did.

That Kennedy will experience the same success running for Governor as he did in his campaigns for State Treasurer or that the same strategy which made him Treasurer will carry him into the Governorship, is extremely doubtful, indeed.

Other political figures who achieved spectacular victories when they were running for lesser state offices proved dismal flops when they raised their sights and struck out for the Governor's chair.

The chances are that Kennedy will learn the hard way that campaigning for Governor and for State Treasurer are two entirely different propositions. A gubernatorial candidate of the stature and strength of Congressman Thomas P. O'Neil, Jr., or Congressman Torbert H. Macdonald probably would prove altogether too formidable for Kennedy.

But the political pundits, who have seen Kennedy produce one sensational surprise after another, have had fingers singled too many times to write him off before the votes are counted.

Newton Girl In Maine Summer Tennis Tourney

A Newton girl has been selected to participate in the 1959 Summer Campers' Championship Tennis Tournament being held this week in Portland, Me.

June Scotch is representing Camp Wingo, of Harrison, Me., in the annual play-offs for the Girls Intermediate Division title, against other boys and girls from all parts of the country attending summer camps in Maine.

The Tournament, sponsored annually by the Greater Portland Chamber of Commerce, will be held on the Deering Oaks Municipal Courts. Silver bowls will be awarded the winners, and nearly 100 summer camps have been invited to participate in the event.

June is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Scotch, and is attending Newton High School.

the present time additional cars are now in the Everett shops where they are being overhauled for transfer to the Highland run.

"Also," the spokesman said, "still other surface cars have been purchased. Some of these have already arrived and others are either enroute or scheduled for shipment."

"It is most unfortunate," the spokesman said, "that anyone must find himself a standee, but, we are dealing in the field of mass transportation and as such conditions of this nature are virtually inevitable. High operating costs are one of the dominant factors in preparing schedules of operation."

This spokesman, in highlighting this condition, said that 60 percent of the multiple thousands of riders using the Highland facility do so during four of the 18 hours that the line is daily in operation.

"It also should be brought out," the spokesman said, "that the uncontrolled evening rush brought on by the fact that the overwhelming bulk of daily workers are released from their jobs at the 5 p.m. hour is statistical evidence that overcrowded conditions at Park street are virtually unavoidable."

Standee conditions, during peak hours it was noted, are system-wide and not confined to the Highland run, although every effort is made within efficient and economical limits to provide adequate service to all MTA patrons.

"Various other problems of the new operation, such as fencing, shrubbery, feeder lines, etc. . . . are being given daily attention and soon most of the troublesome situations should be eliminated," the MTA spokesman concluded.

parent company of the B & A, without the knowledge of local officials of the road.

He described the proposed cut in service as "the biggest bite any railroad has tried to take at one time."

In a statement issued following the meeting at Newton City Hall with representatives of the other communities which would be affected by the cuts, Mayor Whitmore, who served as spokesman for the group, declared:

"The officials of the cities and towns express their vehement and determined opposition to the Boston & Albany petition. We have unanimously agreed to go all out to defeat the proposal."

"Three divisions are to be set up geographically—eastern, central and western (Whitmore was chosen chairman of the eastern division.) Each division will recruit the support and assistance of other cities and towns affected."

"The cities and towns invited to tonight's meeting included only those communities directly on the main line of the Boston and Albany Railroad."

"State representatives, state senators and members of the executive Council are to be called upon to join in this united, cooperative and co-ordinated effort to give their advice and support."

"Commuters, civic organizations, chambers of commerce, business organizations and the general public are urged to join with public officials and to make their feelings and suggestions known to their local officials."

"Future meetings will be set up within the three geographical divisions and as a whole." Communities represented at the City Hall meeting included Natick, Weston, Wellesley, Westboro, Southboro, Grafton, East Brookfield, Springfield and Worcester as well as Newton.

Mayor Whitmore explained to the assembled group that official protests must be filed with the State Public Utilities Commission in order to obtain copies of the pleadings filed by the B & A.

Commission to hold night hearings on petitions for reduced train service, Attorney Charles E. Holly of Newton, who has had experience in Public Utilities cases, said the Commission will hold hearings in each community if requested to do so.

Holly added, however, that such hearings would not help the case of the opponents unless they are well attended.

Christmas Seal Window Display Plans Discussed

At a meeting of the Christmas Seal Window Display Committee John Sullivan, Chairman of the committee, and Mrs. David Welsberger, Chairman of the Seal Sale Volunteers for 1959-1960, discussed plans for the second annual Window Display Contest.

The dates of the contest will be from November 16 to December 16, with each displayer privileged to choose exactly when he will set up his display. Materials for the displays will again be made available to the merchants from the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Merchants who participated in last year's contest were: Moyer Chevrolet Company, the 1888 winner, E.A. Long Mail Advertising, Moore and Moore Hardware, Gleason's Flowers, The Clapper Co., and the Wendell Berman Insurance Co. of Newton Highlands.

This year it is hoped that more of the local merchants will take an active part in the contest, by setting up larger and more inclusive displays. The fine quality displays produced last year by a small handful of merchants, including Barron's of West Newton who displayed but did not enter the contest, shows what can be done, Sullivan said.

Truck Crashes House, Perils Mother, 2 Girls

A new model garbage truck rolled some 200 feet and crashed into a dwelling at 299 Austin street, West Newton, scattering debris over a mother and her two small children.

Mrs. Barbara Hathaway, who is expecting a third child soon, was resting in bed on the street floor. Susan, 4, and Valerie, 2, were playing in the bedroom.

The rear of the 6-wheel runaway truck tore a large hole in the side of the house. The mother was partially covered with plaster and boards, and the little girls were brushed with pieces of material.

Mrs. Hathaway was treated for hysteria and scratches. The children did not require treatment. A crane pulled the truck back into the street.

Moore Blasts 'King Makers'

Norman E. Moore, who is seeking election as Mayor, this week lashed out at persons who set themselves up as "king-makers."

While Moore did not mention any names in his statement, his blast obviously was aimed at Newton leaders who persuaded State Senator Donald L. Gibbs to enter the mayoral race.

He opened his remarks by referring to a story in last week's Graphic which reported that Gibbs had been offered the support of a substantial number of Newton public, business and civic leaders if he became a candidate for Mayor.

Moore then declared that "an heir apparent, a member of the fast-expiring political machine, has been designated as the machine's candidate for Mayor."

"This came about," Moore charged, "after much internal wrangling and after futile efforts had been made to get at least four other members of the machine to take on the assignment."

"I welcome anyone into the race against me for Mayor," said Moore, "and I predict that the people of Newton will have no difficulty distinguishing between Norman E. Moore who was asked by the people to run and a man so obviously chosen by a select few."

"Who are the 'influential' people in Newton?" Moore demanded. Why is it that a few citizens arrogate to themselves the job of being king-makers. It is my belief that the voters are tired of being told plainly or by clear implication that while all men are created equal, some are more equal than others."

Guzzi Launches New Drive For Aldermanic Seat

Former Alderman Alfred R. Guzzi has filed nomination papers as a candidate for election as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2.

A foreman in the Newton street department, Guzzi was the centre of a controversy two years ago when a question was raised in the Aldermanic Board as to whether a person could serve in that board and in a paid city position at the same time.

The issue became a strictly academic one after a close race. Subsequently, the State Legislature declined to comply with an order passed by the Board of Aldermen requesting the enactment of a law which would prohibit city employees from seeking municipal office.

Guzzi, who lives at 9 Joseph road, has a large following throughout the city.

Aldermen Joseph G. Bradley and Theodore D. Mann, both serving as ward aldermen from Ward 1 district, also have submitted nomination papers as candidates for reelection.

Rev. Gettemy Is Union Preacher

The Rev. James Noah Gettemy, president of the Hartford (Conn.) Seminary Foundation, will be the preacher at the Newton Summer Union Services to be held next Sunday, Aug. 16, at 10 a.m. at the Central Congregational Church on Walnut St., Newtonville.

Dr. Gettemy served as minister of the Garden City Community Church, Garden City, N. Y., from 1944 to 1954 before he was named president of the Hartford Foundation. He is a graduate of Allegheny College and Union Theological Seminary, with further study at Columbia University and at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland.

He has served as instructor in the Department of Philosophy and Religion at Adelphi College.

Auburndale And Upper Falls Win League Crowns

Auburndale in the American League, and Upper Falls in the National League, have clinched pennants in the Newton Two League baseball races. Statistics compiled by the Newton Recreation Department as of Aug. 8th showed that Auburndale had a spread of four points on St. Bernard's in the American League.

Lefty Tom McGinnis pitched and batted St. Bernard's into second place behind Auburndale with a 4 to 2 win last Thursday over the Highlands at West Newton Common.

McGinnis allowed only three hits, and singled home the winning runs in the fifth inning.

Ronnie Marino pitched Upper Falls to the pennant in the National League with a one-hit 6 to 0 victory over Our Lady's at the Upper Falls Playgrounds on Monday night.

The Upper Falls win, coupled with a Burns-Kerr setback by the Newton Centre Townies, 9 to 0, gave the Upper Falls the title by a single point.

Burns-Kerr had led Upper Falls by a single point until this brace of games. St. Bernard's which finished fourth in the final National League standings will face Upper Falls in the first game of the best-of-three series tonight (Thursday) at the Upper Falls Playground.

Paul Bornstein pitched a four-hitter and Steve Abrahams drove in three runs as Newton Centre whitewashed Burns-Kerr.

In another league game, St. Bernard's edged the Cabot Tigers 1 to 0 at Cabot Park.

The Tudburys, residents of Newton for over 40 years, now make their home at 45 Chase street, in North Dighton with their daughter, Mary, who is the Assistant Director of Nursing at the Taunton State Hospital.

The job that Everybody loves

Only "yesterday," business lagged at this technical research lab. The owner was worried. How to improve employee relationships, stimulate production, he wondered. Then a wise friend suggested a Small Business Loan at NEWTON-WALTHAM, the bank New Englanders depend on. A friendly loan officer showed him how he could install a modern cafeteria, provide recreational facilities. Together they planned moderate installments. With business on the increase, everyone is pleased.

Vacancies Exist At Carr Nursery School Now

Applications for the Carr Nursery School are still available. It was reported at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors.

The Carr Nursery School, a non-profit venture, is conducted in the Carr School at Nevada street in Newtonville. Children outside the Carr School district will be accepted.

The Nursery School is for pre-school children and will open the same day that the Newton public schools do, and will follow kindergarten hours.

Parents may register their children by telephoning Mrs. Jacobs, LA 7-0565 or Mrs. Garber, DE 2-2468.

A meeting of parents has been scheduled for the Carr School on October 20. A speaker will be on hand and refreshments will be served.

Hecht Opposes Canadians At Lake Placid

Steve Hecht of 1553 Beacon st., Waban, a junior at Newton High School, has been chosen as one of 12 tennis players to represent New England against 12 Canadians in the International Challenge Round to be held at Lake Placid, N. Y.

It will start this Saturday, Aug. 15. Hecht, who is 16, holds the U. S. No. 4 position.

He participated last week in the National Junior Tennis tournament sponsored by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce at Phoenix, Ariz.

He participated as the winner of the Massachusetts State Junior tennis tournament sponsored by the Mass. Jaycees at Brockton during the week of July 12.

Previous to winning the state tourney, Steve won the local junior tennis tournament sponsored in June by the Newton Jaycees.

Hecht was accompanied to Phoenix by Charles McHugh of the Mass. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

During his sophomore year at Newton High, Steve held No. 1 position on the varsity tennis team.

In addition to winning the local and state tennis championships this year, Hecht was the winner of the "15 and under Jaycee Junior Tennis Tournament" in Braintree last season.

Money Bag Vanishes

Weymouth Fair Smashing All Crowd Records

All roads lead to the big Weymouth Fair on Route 128 in South Weymouth this week and one of the highlights will be the selection of "Miss Weymouth Fair of 1959" tomorrow night, Friday.

Pair-mutuel racing is on tap every day through Saturday. Today is Governor's Day at this 94th annual renewal of the famed "Real Country Fair" which closes Saturday night with a giant fireworks display.

Thousands are jamming the track area for two performances of Buddy Wagner's world champion auto daredevils, putting on thrilling and exciting shows. The Antique Auto show followed by the "Cops'n Robbers" act is well received.

Fair officials say that from indications the Fair this year will break all attendance records.

Sox Win "For" Newton Kids

The Red Sox won, 4 to 3, over the Kansas City Athletics "for" 650 Newton youngsters at Fenway Park Thursday.

The trip, sponsored by the Recreation Department, was made in 16 buses. In charge were Supervisor Nicholas P. Tedesco, James E. Murphy, Robert Doherty and Leaders Joseph Zeno, and Philip O'Connell.

Home From Training

Army Reserve PFC Paul Krutt, 25, whose wife Myrna lives at 108 Russell road, Newton, has completed two weeks of active duty training at Fort Devens.

Krutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Krutt of 60 Grove Hill avenue, Newtonville, is a 1951 graduate of Newton High School, and a 1955 graduate of the Mass. College of Pharmacy in Boston. He is employed in a Waltham drug store.

Rawson Explains His Vote Against Sales Tax Bill

Rep. George E. Rawson announced today that he believes in a sales tax but voted against the bill submitted by Governor Foster Furcolo because "the Governor sought some $40 million to spend on his pet projects."

Rawson said he never voted for unnecessary taxes and did not intend to begin now.

The governor's sales tax bill was defeated last Thursday night by roll call vote of 197 to 24.

"Personally I believe in a sales tax," Rawson said, "as the fairest and most efficient method of raising needed revenue. No one escapes payment. That fact makes the public tax conscious."

"The realization that everything done by government costs money makes the public demand and obtain economy in government. I had voted in favor of a sales tax on previous occasions and fully intended to do so this year."

"However we do not vote on ideas," Rep. Rawson went on. "We vote on a specific bill that is before us and with full regard for the background of the bill and what the end results appear to be."

"In this case, we had enacted into law a balanced budget without imposing any new taxes. A surplus of around $3 million was left to cover contingencies. Therefore there was no need for any additional taxes to operate the commonwealth for fiscal 1960."

"The Governor's bill, presented in a special message, although it did provide for distributing 2% of the revenue to the cities and towns to reduce real estate taxes which I would like to see accomplished — also provided that 1% of the revenue would be retained by the Commonwealth."

"In other words, the Governor sought some $40 million to spend on his pet projects. Rawson's statement continued:

"An amendment was offered allotting all the proceeds to the cities and towns to reduce real estate taxes. I would gladly have supported that."

"The amendment was laid aside on a point of order, that it was beyond the scope of the Governor's message. He had played his old trick of demanding enactment 'in its precise form.'"

"It does not appear to me to be in the public interest to vote any Governor $40 million to spend on projects of his own which the General Court has already refused to approve and which we do not need."

"I have never voted for unnecessary taxes and do not intend to begin now."

"Apparently similar thought governed a majority of the House, at least that is the way they voted. To cut the Governor's horrendous budget to a point where no new taxes were needed was an achievement, and last Thursday night was not the time to undo it."

Another TV Stolen Here

Another portable television set has been stolen from an area home.

Helen Martignette of 143 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill, reported a break during the night Friday was discovered at 2:15 a.m. The house was ransacked.

The previous week, the Waban home of Mrs. James Sampson at 2004 Beacon street was ransacked and a portable TV taken.

Leasley Degrees To Three Girls From Newton

Three Newton girls received degrees of Bachelor of Science in Education at the 49th Commencement of Lesley College in Cambridge. They were:

Mrs. Susan F. Levin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Finn, 10 Westbourne Rd., Newton Centre; during her undergraduate years was on the Lantern Staff and a member of Hillel and the Penguin Club.

Miss Lucille I. Martel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Martel, who until recently resided at 56 Gay Street, Newtonville; was a member of the Newman Club.

Mrs. Barbara L. Wolken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Lankin, 28 Westwood Road, Newton Centre; was a member of Emerald Key, Friends of the Library and Hillel. In September she will begin her teaching career in the public schools of Quincy.

150 Kids Enjoy Pomroy House Play Programs

The Rebecca Pomroy House, a Newton Red Feather Agency which participates in the United Community Fund, is sponsoring two summer programs being enjoyed by some 150 youngsters.

One program takes place in Natlck at the Pomroy House Day Camp at Lake Cochichewick, while the other is carried on at the Community Center on Hovey St., here.

Girls between the ages of seven and 13 have enjoyed the out-of-doors camping season with swimming, hiking, cook-outs, singing, organized games and impromptu drama.

The Miss Maura Maloy as swimming instructor, Miss Joan Cassidy and Miss Judith Abraham, two High School assistants and Miss Helen I. Sandstrom, Executive Worker of Pomroy House, have directed the camp program.

The best swimmers proved to be Diane Gauvreau, Lorraine Medaglia, Malle Nyland, Candy Pasquarosa, Donna Vignona, Mary Ann Sabetti, Denise Neely, and Elizabeth and Julia Rattigan. These making most progress in swimming were Lesley Garafalo, Kristine Thurston, Beth Landers, Christine Ericson, Patricia Pingree, Helen Santillo and Barbara Weaver.

Nature awards were presented to Patricia Flanders, Patricia Campbell, Kristine Thurston and Susan Campbell. Miss Myrna Temkin, a recent graduate of Boston University School of Education, has led the Play School at the Community Center for little boys and girls, four to seven.

She has been assisted by the following Junior Leaders, who are preparing for Community Leadership in the future of Newton: Paula Barton, Carole Capabio, Frances Cheavaley, Diane Gordon, Janice Keegan, Carolyn Pasquale, Diane Raymond, Connie Turner, Gisela Wahl, Diane Klayman, April Purcell and Sandra Chapman.

- Recent Deaths -

James F. Dunne

James F. Dunne, 69, of 77 Gardner St., Newton, died suddenly Sunday of a heart attack at his home and funeral services were held yesterday. A requiem Mass was offered in Our Lady's Church, Newton, and interment followed in Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline.

Dunne, who was born in Newton Centre, was a veteran of World War I.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Catherine (Garrity) Dunne; one son, James L. of Newton Centre; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Gagnon of Medford; three brothers, Edward of Newton, George of Cambridge and Isaac in the Merchant Marine; six sisters, Mrs. Margaret Bettencourt of Newton Centre, Mrs. Della Kelley of Waltham, Miss Anne Dunne, Miss Katherine Dunne and Mrs. Isabel Carson, all of Newton Centre, and Mrs. Maida Jenkins of Newton.

Francis Flagg

Private funeral services were held for Francis J. Flagg, 83, of 99 Kirkstead Rd., Newtonville, who died suddenly Aug. 4 at Newton Wellesley Hospital. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage.

Flagg, a former president of the Boston Rotary Club, was New England manager of the Macmillan Co., publishers, with which he was associated from 1917 to his retirement in 1949.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mildred (Buchanan) Flagg, writer and lecturer, and two daughters, Mrs. Julia B. F. Williams of New York City and Mrs. Nancy Ferard Gibeay of St. John's, Virgin Islands.

Flagg, a native of Quaker Bridge, N.Y., was a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co., Algonquin Club, Boston Athletic Association, Army and Navy Club, Aleppo Temple and Washington Lodge of Masons of Buffalo, N.Y.

Memorial services for Mr. Flagg, attended by some of his closest friends, were conducted by Rev. Dana McLean Greeley, National President of the American Unitarian Association, and chaplain of Boston Rotary.

John S. Baybutt

John S. Baybutt, 58, of 74 Erie Avenue, Newton Highlands, died Monday at a Boston hospital after a month's illness, and funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 p.m. in St. Paul's Church.

Baybutt, an insurance executive, was born in Boston. He was educated at Northeastern University and Suffolk Law School. Since 1954 he was president of Meade and Gale Inc., and had been with the firm since 1945.

He was a member of the Algonquin Club, The Bostonian Society and St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Cecilia B. (Barnard) Baybutt; a son, Richard B. of Wellesley; two daughters, Mrs. Phyllis J. Weidling of Norfolk, Va., and Mrs. Florrie B. Smith of Ridgewood, N.J.; six grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Florrie B. Newby of Newton Centre.

Lawrence Dunham

Lawrence B. Dunham, 77, who died in a Plattsburgh, N.Y., hospital last Saturday, was a native of West Newton. He retired in 1944 as justice of the New York City Court of Domestic Relations.

He was a graduate of Yale and New York Law School and served for four years as deputy police commissioner of New York City.

Judge Dunham was with the Intelligence Division, the Signal Corps and the Army War College in World War I and in World War II directed prevention of sabotage and espionage in the Eastern Defense Command.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Vryling (Putnam) Dunham, two sons, Lawrence B. Jr., and William P., a daughter, Mrs. Vryling Corscaden; a brother, Thomas and 11 grandchildren.

George S. Fuller

Funeral services were held yesterday at 2 p.m. at the Second Church in West Newton for Attorney George S. Fuller, 73, of 22 Shaw St., West Newton, who died Sunday while vacationing at Cragmore, N.Y.

Shaw, a native of West Newton, was graduated from Harvard College and Harvard Law School. For 40 years he was a member of the Bingham, Dana and Gould law firm in Boston.

He was a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons, and a 32nd Degree Mason, also a director of the Jackson Homestead Foundation.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Gladys (Chandler) Fuller; a son, George C. of McLean, Va., and a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Arnett of Bartlesville, Okla.

Samantha Jones

A solemn requiem Mass was celebrated Friday at Sacred Heart Church in Watertown for Mrs. Samantha J. (Spavold) Jones, 70, of 212 California Street, Newton, who died of a heart attack last Tuesday.

She was stricken at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Wilma F. Mizo in Watertown. She also leaves another daughter, Mrs. Jennet E. Turner of Watertown; three sons, Jonathan H. of Watertown, Nathaniel B. of Tulsa, Okla., and Franklin R. of Fairfield, Conn., and 19 grandchildren.

Mrs. Jones was born in Digby, N.S., and lived in Watertown most of her life until she moved to Newton seven years ago.

The Antiques Gallery Boasts Genuine Art For Shoppers

If beauty in the home is your wish, there isn't a better place in New England to visit than The Antiques Gallery at 28 Grove Street in Wellesley Square, where the phone is CE 5-4735.

A wide selection of fine antiques, especially in the field of Oriental art, in every price range, awaits the pleasure of the shopper who either wants a wonderful gift item, or would like to beautify her own home.

William Langdon and his wife, Laura, are the proprietors of this fine shop, and both are expert in advising anyone on appropriate purchases, or in suggesting a gift item for the particular shopper.

Their Antiques Gallery is well-stocked with choice Chinese, Japanese and other Oriental objects of art and utility, and they also have available the nest in Colonial and other antiques.

The Antiques Gallery does not carry newly-made reproductions, but prefers to stay in the field of genuine antiques.

Among the stocked items are Chinese furniture, tables, rose medallions (lovely porcelain dishes), Chinese mirrors and pewter which, by the way, is the earliest of all pewter, made long before the Colonial type so treasured nowadays.

Brass items, and garden pieces, and ivory Buddhas are ready for the shopper, and exquisite brocades, of gold and silk threads, any one of which give glamor to the most humdrum room. Boxes and chests of all prices and sizes, from the Orient, are offered, and any of these make a treasured possession or unusual gift. The Antiques Gallery is open from 10:30 to 5 p.m., six days a week, and a visit there is very likely to make a steady and delighted customer of the most fastidious shopper, for a warm welcome, and rare bargains, await everyone.

F. P. Frazier Candidate For Re-election

Francis P. Frazier of 127 Pearl St., Newton, announces his candidacy for re-election to the Newton School Committee from Ward 1, for his tenth consecutive term.

Frazier, principal of the William Howard Taft Junior High School in Brighton, is Past Commander of Newton Post No. 48, American Legion, former member of the Newton Selective Service Board No. 112, and presently is a member of the Mayor's Advisory Committee on Civil Defense.

Mr. Frazier states that in his opinion the most important problem to confront the School Committee for the next few years "is the sensible use for school purposes of the growing city tax."

He continued: "This involves putting first things first. Some of these problems of prior importance are: putting a roof over each pupil's head; the proper rehabilitation and upkeep of school buildings; the equalization of educational opportunities for all school children; the stressing of fundamentals in teaching, especially in the early grades; the maximum use of the school plant; the consideration of the teacher salary policy in the light of competition with other comparable communities; the holding power this schedule has on the dedicated class room teacher; the proper balancing of a well-rounded salary schedule with the ability of the

Tennis Clinic At Longwood

Newton Recreation Department playground youngsters interested in tennis are invited by the Longwood Cricket Club in Chestnut Hill to attend a tennis clinic to be conducted by some of the world's outstanding players.

Longwood will be the scene of the U.S. Lawn Tennis National Doubles Championships Aug. 16-23. The clinic will be held Monday, Aug. 17, and several outstanding junior champions will play in an exhibition.

Joan Lafford, leader at the Burr Playground, will be in charge of the boys and girls. Youngsters who plan to attend must register with her by calling LA 7-1576.

city to pay, the maintenance of good will with the Mayor and with the members of the Board of Aldermen by proper communication and consideration of the other important city needs, good public relations with parents and citizens of Newton, a fair application of the school transportation law, the school boundary lines policy, and also the entering school age policy, the continued search for the best educational leadership possible, within and without the school system, to carry on the justifiable purpose of the public school—the leading forth of sound thinking, freedom loving, wholesome living citizens of tomorrow."

2 Local Families Ousted By Blaze

Faulty wiring was blamed by fire officials for the blaze Sunday night in a two-family dwelling at 74-76 Athelstand road, Newton Centre, which left six persons temporarily homeless.

Occupants of the second floor were Mr. and Mrs. Westler. On the ground floor were Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Roth, and their children, Karen, 6, and Arlene, 10. The Roths own the house.

Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins Jr., said the fire started in the front bedroom on the second floor and spread the entire length of the second floor. Damage was estimated at $5,000. It was estimated it would require two weeks to repair the house.

Double Ring Bridal Unites Miss Hoover-Mr. Delaney

Now making their home in Waltham are Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Delaney (Katherine Mary Hoover) of West Newton, whose marriage took place recently at St. Patrick's Church in Watertown.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoover. Her husband is the son of Mrs. William F. Delaney of 24 Adams street, Newtonville, and the late Mr. Delaney.

The Rev. Alfred V. Pucchini celebrated the 10 o'clock nuptial mass. The Marlboro Country Club in Marlboro was the scene of the reception. Bermuda was the honeymoon destination.

Mr. Joseph L. Shutt of Watertown escorted his niece, who chose a traditional white bouffant gown designed with lace appliques.

Her floral crown was caught with an elbow-length illusion veil. She carried a white missal and her flowers were white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Patricia Catherine Hoover of Norwich, Ct., was honor maid for her sister, whose bridesmaids were Miss Lois Delaney and Miss Dorothy Egan, both of Waltham.

Mr. Robert F. Delaney of West Newton served as best man for his brother. Ushering were Mr. Robert T. Davis of West Newton and Mr. Russell Cheatham of Quincy.

The bride is an alumna of Watertown High School and Mount Ida Junior College. Her bridegroom, who was graduated from Newton High School, attended Northeastern University.

Congregational Conferences At Star Island, N.H.

The Newton area was well represented at the Congregational Conferences at Star Island, N.H.

Delegates from all New England states attended the two week-long meetings being held on Star Island for the 43rd year.

Star Island is operated by a group of Unitarians and Congregationalists, and is the site of religious and educational conferences throughout the summer months.

Taking part in the Congregational conferences as delegates were Mrs. Howard Wood, of Auburndale; Mrs. Una Beebe, Mrs. Freda Nissen, Mrs. T. Edwin Peterson and Miss Elsa Peterson, Mrs. Nellie Rogers, of Newtonville.

Also, Miss G. Marion Holland, Mrs. George Neagle, Mrs. Arthur Wood, Newton; Mrs. Amy Caden Quinn of Newton Highlands, and Miss Grace Wood of Newton Centre.

New York—The U. S. consumes more pulp and paper than the rest of the world combined.

Miss Ripley, W. T. O'Connor Marry in Malden

Two rings were exchanged at the marriage of Miss Merline Frances Ripley to Mr. William Thomas O'Connor, which took place recently at the Immaculate Conception Church in Malden.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary G. Ripley of 32 William street, West Newton, and the late Mr. Ripley. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. O'Connor of Malden.

The Rev. Daniel O'Leary officiated at the 2 o'clock nuptial ceremony. After the double ring nuptials there was a reception at the Colonial in Lynnfield.

The bride wore a gown fashioned of imported lace and tulle designed with a basque bodice which had a scalloped neckline embellished with seed pearls, and a waltz length train.

Her shoulder length veil of French illusion fell from a circlet of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and orchids.

Mrs. Harvard R. Corkum of Waltham was her sister's matron of honor.

Mr. Hugh J. O'Connor of Allston served as best man. Now at home at 32 William street, West Newton, the couple left on a trip to Quebec and the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. O'Connor was graduated from Northeastern University. An Air Force veteran of World War II, he is an engineering designer at the Boston Naval Shipyard.

Papal Blessing Read At Bolles-LaFay Wedding

Miss Louise Ruth LaFay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William LaFay of 15 Elliot Memorial road, Newton, was married recently to Mr. Thomas Vincent Bolles, son of Judge and Mrs. Albert T. Bolles of Bellows Falls, Vt., at Our Lady of Presentation Church in Brighton.

The Rev. James Dalton celebrated the 11 o'clock nuptial mass. A reception was held at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill.

Mr. LaFay escorted his daughter, who wore a gown fashioned of embroidered white Swiss organdy. Her fitted bodice had short sleeves, and her bouffant skirt had a chapel length train.

A becoming headpiece held in place her illusion veil. She carried white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Ann Marie LaFay of Newton was honor maid for her sister. Another sister, Miss Melissa LaFay of Newton, and Miss Louise Demeo of West Newton were her other attendants.

Mr. Arthur Bolles of New London, Ct., served as best man for his brother, whose ushers were Mr. John Stenberg of Oakdale, Ct., and Mr. James W. Daniels, III, of Newtonville.

For her going-away costume, the bride chose a colorful print frock with a deep orange velvet cloche. Her handbag was made of dark brown straw.

Nantucket was the honeymoon destination of the Bolles, who are now residing in Norwich, Ct.

MRS. THOMAS BOLLES
(Bradford Bachrach)

The bride was graduated from the Boston School of Occupational Therapy and Tufts University.

Her husband, a graduate of Tufts University, received his master's degree from Rensselaer. He is now a chemical engineer.

Ruth Butterfield Becomes Bride of Edward Campbell

Temple Shalom Scene Of Wolf-Sussman Wedding

The Temple Shalom in Newton was the setting recently for the marriage of Miss Judith Carol Sussman to Mr. Ronald Wolf.

Mrs. Wolf is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sussman of 1569 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolf of Miami, Fla., and Hull are the bridegroom's parents.

Following the 6 o'clock service there was a reception at the Temple.

The bride wore a gown fashioned of pure silk mist and Alencon lace. A becoming crown held in place her elbow length illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Arlene Silver of Chicago, Ill., was honor maid and the bride's sole attendant.

Mr. Robert Wolf served as best man for his brother, whose ushers were Mr. Howard Rothstein, Mr. Stanley Goldberg, Mr. Jonathan Halperin, Mr. Edward Leavitt, Mr. Norman Cubell and Mr. Arthur Slinger.

The couple left for a trip through the Catskill Mountains. They are now residing at Coral Gables in Florida.

The bride was graduated from Newton High School and the University of Miami.

Her husband is a graduate of Cambridge Academy, the University of Michigan and the University of Miami.

Carol Walker Attended By 3 At Her Marriage

Miss Carol Ann Walker was married recently to Mr. John Michael Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Walker of 14 Abbott street, Newton Upper Falls, and Mrs. Elizabeth Cox of 70 Grasmere street, Newton Corner, are the couple's parents.

The Rev. Daniel J. Riordan officiated at the one o'clock nuptial ceremony, at which two rings were exchanged. Armand's Beacon Terrace in Framingham was the setting for the reception.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. Her molded bodice had a sabinia neckline and short sleeves.

Her lace crown was etched with pearls, and her silk illusion veil fell to her fingertips. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. George McNeil of Quincy was her sister's matron of honor. Miss Carole McDaniels and Mrs. William Anderson, both of Newton Upper Falls, were bridesmaids.

The best man was Mr. Merle Morrissey of Newton Corner, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Ushers were Mr. G. Robert Cox of Waltham, cousin of the groom, and Mr. George McNeil of Quincy, brother-in-law of the bride.

Now making their home at Newton Corner, the couple left on a trip through the Pocono Mountains.

Both the bride and groom were graduated from the Newton schools. The bride is a secretary at Stowe-Woodward, Inc., Co., Newton Upper Falls. Her husband works for the William Carter Company in Needham.

Five Newton residents have passed a civil service examination to qualify for appointment as a grade 1 civil engineer in the State service, it was announced at the State House this week.

They are Donald F. LePage of 174 Walnut st., Marshall D. Levine of 1921 Commonwealth ave., Martin L. Lucente of 27 Cottage place, James P. Owen of 24 Court st., and Allan J. Rosenberg of 79 Maplewood ave.

Of 788 men and one woman who took the test, only 438 men and one woman succeeded in passing it.

Pilcher-Frymoyer Nuptials at Second Church in Newton

The Second Church in Newton was the setting recently for the marriage of Miss Nan Eleanor Pilcher to Mr. John Willard Frymoyer.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Pilcher of West Newton. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Webster W. Frymoyer of Foxboro.

Snadragons and lilies made a pretty background for the 4 o'clock candlelight service at which the Rev. Ross Cannon and the Rev. Harold Martin of Norwalk, Ct. were the officiating clergymen. A reception followed at the gardens at the home of the bride's parents.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of Ivory satin. Her empire dress had a cathedral length train and was trimmed with Belgium lace from her grandmother's dress.

For her something old, she wore the same full length veil worn by both her paternal grandmother and her mother. Her flowers were roses and valley lilies.

Miss Marietta Henry of Philadelphia, Pa. was honor maid. Miss Mary Barr of Newton Centre, Miss Margaret Wirt of Brookline, Mrs. Frederick Brown, Jr., of Marblehead, sister of the groom, Mrs. David Pilcher of Rochester, N. Y., Miss Susan Bremer and Miss Carol Zimmerman, both of Convent Station, N. J., were bridesmaids.

Elizabeth Pilcher of Hamilton was her cousin's flower girl.

Mr. William K. Frymoyer of Foxboro served as best man for his brother, whose ushers included Mr. Stephen Pilcher, III, of Pasadena, Calif., Mr. David B. Pilcher of Rochester, N. Y., Mr. Paul S. Pilcher of West Newton, three brothers of the bride, as well as Mr. Frederick Brown, Jr., of Marblehead, Mr. Charles Moyer of Bethlehem, Pa., and Mr. Frank Shaw of Melrose.

The couple left on a trip which took them through Vermont into Canada. They plan to reside in Rochester, N.Y.

The bride was graduated from Beaver Country Day School and Mount Holyoke College, class of 1959.

A graduate of Deerfield Academy and Amherst College, class of 1959, where he was a member of Alpha Theta Xi, the bridegroom plans to enter the University of Rochester Medical School in September.

MISS SHIRLEY ANN PETTENGILL

Miss Shirley Ann Pettengill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Pettengill of Watertown, became the bride recently of Lt. Matthew J. Ring, Jr., of 46 Northgate park, West Newton, at an 11 o'clock nuptial mass in St. Theresa's Church, Watertown.

A reception followed at the 1200 Beacon Street Hotel in Brookline.

The bride's imported Chantilly lace gown, designed with side ruffles of nylon tulle and a collar trimmed with iridescent sequins and pearls, had a chapel-length train.

She wore a sequined cap caught with a fingertip illusion veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of Eucharis lilies and stephanotis.

Miss Nancy Pettengill was honor maid for her sister, Miss Eileen Ring, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Charles Wheeler of Watertown were bridesmaids.

Mr. Joseph Ring served as best man for his brother. Another brother, Mr. William Ring, and Mr. Douglas E. Pettengill, brother of the bride, were the ushers.

The newlyweds toured the south enroute to Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala., where Lt. Ring is stationed. Belmont will be their home when the bridegroom is discharged from the Army.

The bride was graduated from Watertown High School. Her husband is an alumnus of Our Lady's High School, Newton, and Northeastern University.

A fall wedding is planned.

Mayor Whitmore Seeks Review Of MTA Policy

Newton Recorded Against Appointment of Keister As MTA General Manager

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., today called for a sweeping review of the policies and procedures of the MTA with a view to introducing far-reaching changes in the operation of the transit system which this year is expected to show a deficit of $20 million.

The Mayor advanced his proposal after casting one of the votes which blocked the appointment of Earl L. Keister of Nashville, Tenn., as the new $30,000-a-year general manager of the road.

Whitmore expressed the belief that the MTA trustees should get the best qualified individual or firm it can find not only to run the transit system, which is going deeper into the red each year, but also to go over it from top to bottom.

In the course of his comments concerning the MTA, the Newton Mayor pointed out that the new Highland Branch line is not carrying anywhere near as many patrons as MTA officials predicted.

He said that MTA spokesmen expressed the belief that the Highland Branch would carry about 35,000 passengers a day and that the operation of the line would yield a net profit of $300,000 a year.

Instead, Whitmore observed, the Highland Branch is carrying 20,000 passengers daily which is not enough to make the line self-supporting, much less show a profit.

One reason the line isn't attracting more patrons, Mayor Whitmore asserted, is that it doesn't have enough cars in operation during the morning and evening rush periods.

Many people will not ride on the line if they're going to have to stand up and hang onto a strap in a crowded car for a long distance, the Mayor stated.

Referring to the action of the MTA Advisory Board in blocking the appointment of Keister as the new MTA general manager, Whitmore said he and the officials of seven other cities and towns did not feel the Nashville man was the best qualified person who could be obtained for the job.

Mayor's 3-Point Plan To Assist MTA Commuters

Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., has proposed to MTA trustees a 3-point program designed to improve riding conditions for commuters on the Highland Branch.

The Mayor asked for more cars to provide more seats, a smoother roadbed to allow a more quiet ride, and that some of the cars which start at Riverside skip passengers at the first stop.

This would allow occasional seats for riders from Woodland, Waban, Newton Highlands, Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill.

Mayor Whitmore's proposals were outlined in a letter to Anthony D. Pompeo, chairman of the MTA Trustees, who also is a Newton resident.

The MTA already has announced plans to work on the roadbed, and to put more cars on the line in the fall.

Newton Schools Open Sept. 9

Newton, long-recognized as having one of the outstanding educational systems in the nation, starts its Fall term on Sept. 9 with scores of new teachers, new principals, new facilities and a new House Plan in the Senior High School.

Superintendent of Schools Eric N. Dennard announces there will be 175 new teachers and 13 new interns in the Newton public schools.

Taking office will be three new principals, the Mason-Rice School's new building on Centre st., will hold initial classes, and additions will open at Claffin and Spaulding Schools.

Registration and orientation for the new teachers will be held Tuesday, Sept. 8, at Meadowbrook Jr. High School on Wheelock rd., Newton Centre.

This will be followed by a full schedule of a three-day orientation and faculty meeting for the new teachers.

Of the new group of teachers 82 are in elementary grades, 51 in junior highs, 39 in the Senior high, and three in the Junior College.

The new principals are Arthur Laughland, former head teacher at Hyde who will become head there; Joseph A. Gattuso who was acting principal at Emerson and will be principal, and John W. McLeod of Newton Centre, the new principal of Warren Junior High.

The opening of the new school year also marks the beginning of Newton's new House Plan, designed to retain advantages of the small school, while employing full advantages of a large school.

There will be six houses in the Senior high school with about 500 students in — SCHOOLS OPEN — (Continued on Page 3)

Sales Tax Said To Be Dead For Several Years To Come

The sales tax is probably dead in Massachusetts for some years to come.

Even if Governor Furcolo were to make another fight for the enactment of the tax later this year or in 1960, there is no chance whatever that he will be successful.

Neither is there much likelihood that the man who succeeds Furcolo in the Governorship will make any effort to get a sales tax unless the political make up of the Legislature is drastically changed by the voters.

Beacon Hill observers realize that Governor Furcolo's espousal of the sales tax has been the cause of the friction between him and the State Senate as well as practically all his other legislative woes.

If Furcolo had never championed a sales tax he undoubtedly would have enjoyed a harmonious relationship with the Legislature and would have been confronted with far fewer problems.

Furcolo not only has failed in his sales tax objective but has encountered other legislative setbacks which were directly attributable to the burn-

Change Sought In Countryside School Bus Plan

Members of the School Committee have scheduled a meeting for the night of Sept. 2 to review and reconsider a vote taken in June regulating bus transportation of pupils to and from the Countryside School.

Under the terms of the vote, the busses which run from Charlemont avenue to the school would only carry pupils in classes from kindergarten through the third grade. Children in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades would not be transported in the busses.

A number of parents of children attending the school are seeking to have the action revised so that youngsters in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades could ride in the busses.

Chairman Haskell L. Freedman has called a meeting of the School Board for the night of Sept. 2 to consider the matter.

American Twi Finals

Auburndale Favored Over St. Bernard's

St. Bernard's and the Auburndale Merchants tangled in the best-of-seven finals of the Newton Twi League American Division.

The Merchants are the odds-on favorites on the basis of their season record. They topped the division with 16 wins, 1 tie and 1 loss for 33 points.

St. Bernard's finished second with 12 wins, five losses and 1 tie for 25 points in the final standings.

St. Bernard's earned the right to meet the Merchants in the American finals by virtue of a 2-games-to-1 decision over Highlands.

Sore-armed Lefty Tom McInnis unfurled a 3-hitter Monday night for a 2 to 0 win over the Highlands at West Newton Common.

McInnis fanned eight, allowed three bases on balls, and of the three hits scored on him, one was a bunt.

St. Bernard's scored in the third on a walk, a stolen base and two sacrifices. The second run came on a single by McInnis and a double by Bill Patterson.

Boston Library To Cost Newton $18,000 Per Year

The Massachusetts Senate has passed a bill tacking upon the City of Newton to pay $18,000 a year toward the cost of running the Boston Public Library.

The bill passed the Senate by a vote of 20 to 11.

The Legislature seeks to levy $152,000 upon the 13 communities surrounding Boston which make up the MTA district.

Officials of the library said extensive surveys showed that 9 percent of the patrons use — LIBRARY COST — (Continued on Page 4)

Freedman Seeks Re-election To School Board

Attorney Haskell C. Freedman, chairman of the Newton School Committee and a member of the body from Ward 6, today announced his candidacy for reelection.

In his statement Freedman emphasized the tremendous importance of providing good public education. He said there are no "bargain basement" educational programs but added that Newton does obtain maximum results for the money spent on its public schools.

Fulbright Grant For Newton Girl

Miss Margaret R. Antonelli, of 86 Charelsbank Road, Newton, has been awarded a Fulbright Grant, according to an announcement from Congressman Lawrence Curtis.

Miss Antonelli, an alumna of Radcliffe College, will serve as an English language assistant at the Lycée Jeanne D'Arc, Orleans, France, in the academic year 1959-60.

Approximately 900 grants for graduate study abroad in 1959-60 are being awarded under the International Educational Exchange program of the State Department. They are financed by the United States from the proceeds of the sale of surplus commodities under the Fulbright Act of 1946.

Lodge Leads Mourners At White Rites

Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. Ambassador to the United Nations, led the list of distinguished mourners at funeral services Saturday for Thomas W. White, one-time adviser to President Coolidge.

White died Wednesday at his home at 1373 Boylston st., Newton Upper Falls, in his 63rd year.

For 45 years he had been one of the leading Republican Party strategists in Massachusetts. In 1936 he was campaign manager for Lodge, and later was his secretary.

Rev. Peter Slater, minister of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Waban, officiated at the funeral services in the Newton Cemetery Chapel.

"Uncle Tom," as White was affectionately known, met Coolidge in 1902 when the president-to-be was becoming a state senator. The White House was always open to Tom White, and during the Coolidge administration he became known as the President's "political voice."

He was collector of internal revenue at Boston from 1925 to 1933.

He was principal advisor for Henry Cabot Lodge in Lodge's campaign for U. S. senator in 1936, and later was the senator's secretary. White also directed Gov. Saltonstall's suc-

Smash Safe, Get $4,000 In Newton

Newton police under Sgt. Charles W. Kennedy are investigating the theft of approximately $4,000 by burglars who cracked a safe in the Royal Crown-Nehi Bottling Co. building, 49 Elmwood st., in Newton.

The thieves ripped open the outer metal casing, broke a six-inch concrete shell and reached the inner safe to the money bags.

A bookkeeper, Mrs. Helen Stempleski of Dorchester, found the safe broken open when she arrived for work Tuesday morning. The safe is in a second-floor office.

It has a chute through which drivers drop bags containing their receipts and money collected. Strawn over the office floor were money bags, slips of paper and debris from the broken safe.

20 Bound For Missions In The Near East

Twenty Americans, including 16 young teachers, are on the high seas for the Near East for service under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions.

Before their departure aboard the SS Independence, a recognition service was held at the Congregational Church in Auburndale.

Dr. William K. Nute of Auburndale, an American Board representative in Turkey for almost half a century, preached the sermon at the recognition service, which was conducted by Miss Margaret R. Blenker, American Board secretary for the Near East and Europe.

The American Board, which has its international headquarters in Boston, is the overseas agency of the Congregational Christian Churches.

Among those briefing the new appointees prior to their departure were Rev. Dr. Fred Field Goodsell, Waban, executive vice president emeritus; Carl H. Holdridge, Newtonville, treasurer; Rev. Loy Long, Auburndale, personnel secretary, and Miss Bertha Moore, Newton Centre, in charge of the medical office.

Washington—Prior to World War II, Germany ranked as the second largest coal exporter in the world, her volume of trade exceeded only by that of the U. S. in an average year.

Merchant Marine Academy Accepts Local Boy

Congressman Laurence Curtis announced today that Robert Craig Webber of Newton Upper Falls has been accepted by the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N. Y., and that he has orders to report to the academy on Aug. 30.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Webber of 7 Williams street, Newton Upper Falls. He is a graduate of Newton High School.

Webber, nominated by Congressman Curtis, successfully passed the competitive examinations for entrance to the service academy. He was one of nine from Massachusetts eligible to take the examinations for the Merchant Marine Officers School.

Tired Youth Suspect In Tire Thefts

Three youths, one of whom told an alert Newton policeman that "I'm tired, just resting," were arrested Monday as suspected freight car thieves.

The suspects were accused of taking auto tires, 16-foot pine planks and a case of industrial tubes at the Mechanic street freight siding in Newton Lower Falls.

Arraigned in Newton District Court before Judge W. Lloyd Allen and held in $7500 bail each were: Russell A. Johnson, 20, of Needham; Leo J. Geraci, 17, of 216 Elliot street, Newton Upper Falls, and Joseph R. Wallace, 17, of 27 Champa street, Newton Upper Falls.

Cruiser Patrolman George D. Sullivan spotted a green sedan parked at the entrance to the freight siding, and the man at the wheel said he was tired.

As he started to leave, Sullivan thought he saw a man's feet from under the darkened freights. He stopped and ordered "come out," and two men appeared from behind the freight car.

All-Burr Tennis Tournery Marked By Lively Matches

Trophies to the winners of the annual all-Burr Playground Tennis Tournament were presented yesterday at the Read Fund Field Day.

The title in the boys' division was won by Richard McCann, who was the victor of a stirring 3-set match with James McLaughlin, 4-6, 6-1, 10-8.

The final championship round in the girls' division was won by Audrey Kasarjian, 7-5, 6-4, from Irene MacLean, the runnerup.

The girls' trophy was donated by Miss Helen B. Andersson, former recreation leader at Burr playground. The boys' trophy was donated by the Newton Recreation Department.

This tournament is conducted for boys and girls who are 13 years and under who participated in the tennis clinic held during the season. It offers the youngsters an opportunity to enter tennis competition.

Gibbs' Election Made Official

The reelection last November of Senator Donald L. Gibbs (R.-Newton) has been made official by a 231 vote margin by a five-member, bipartisan Senate Committee.

The committee rejected the protest of Sen. Gibbs' opponent, John F. Melia, Brighton Democrat, who contested the seat from the Middlesex-Suffolk District.

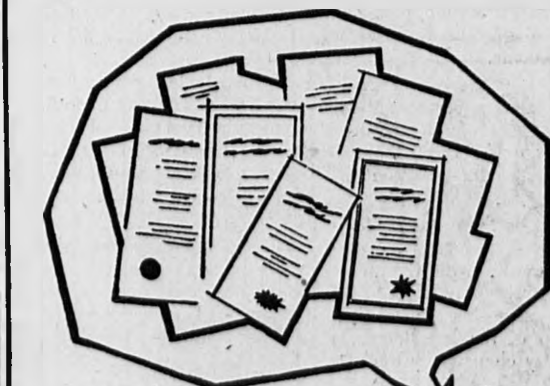

The committee report criticized Newton election officials, particularly those in Ward 5, Precinct 3, where the counting of ballots was "attended by some disorder."

right for you?

Dozens of companies are trying to sell you insurance policies—on your home, your car and other property. Some talk about cut rates, some even claim you do better to buy insurance from a store clerk instead of from a professional insurance man.

But which insurance really gives you and your family all the protection you need and offers you greatest economy in the long run?

Ask the independent agent who lives and does business in your own community. He knows and understands all the different types of insurance policies. And he is free to deal with any company, just as you consult a doctor instead of buying a "cure-all" from a peddler, see your independent insurance specialist about insurance. He's there to serve you first.

Local Funds Aiding Palsy Researchers

A Boston University professor is seeking a way for possible cure of Cerebral Palsy by studying monkeys partially paralyzed by brain operations.

Dr. Arthur M. Lassek of Lexington, is operating under a three-year $23,010 grant from the United Cerebral Palsy Research and Educational Foundation, Inc.

This grant was made possible in part by donations collected in Newton house-to-house marches under the direction of C. John Madden and William S. Hersham, who headed this year's Cerebral Palsy drive in this city.

Dr. Lassek is Waterhouse Professor of anatomy and chairman of the department at the University's School of Medicine. He is looking for the specific part of the nervous system on which drugs that hinder recovery, act.

"One of the greatest unknowns is just how man recovers motor ability," Dr. Lassek said.

To aid in this search Dr. Lassek is studying the effects of depressants and stimulants on the partially paralyzed monkeys.

"Restitution of motor functions is one of the most important phenomena occurring in lesions of the central nervous system," he says.

Hub Preacher At Union Services

The Rev. Jack Mendelsohn, the new minister of the historic Arlington Street Unitarian Church in Boston, will be the preacher at the Newton Union Summer Services on Sunday, August 23, at 10 a.m. at the Central Congregational Church on Walnut street in Newtonville.

Mr. Mendelsohn, a native of Massachusetts and graduate of Boston University and Harvard, served as minister of the Unitarian Church in Rockford,

"It is generally believed that some degree of recovery follows every injury to this part of the body."

Illinois, and more recently as minister of the All Souls Unitarian Church in Indianapolis. He is prominent in civic affairs, and was one of the organizers of the National Association for Mental Health. He has traveled extensively in the Middle East and Europe and has written several magazine articles.

Music for this service will be provided by Marshall S. Wilkins, organist, and a quartet. Child care will be provided during the service. The host is Richard Keil.

The preacher at the Newton Union Services on August 30 will be the Rev. James H. Burns of the Massachusetts Council of Churches.

Harvard Names 4 Researchers In Medicine

Four Newton residents have received appointments to the Harvard Medical School and its affiliated hospitals.

Some of the newly-appointed doctors will be associated with the hospitals; others will be in the medical school. Those appointed as Research Fellows or Research Associates are mainly interested in research work while those interested principally in teaching are appointed Teaching Fellows:

Recipients of appointments were:

Dr. Albert Martin Lerner of 54 Walker street, Newtonville, appointed Research Fellow in Medicine At Washington University, he received the B.A. from the College of Liberal Arts in 1950, and the M.D. from the School of Medicine in 1945. Dr. Lerner is affiliated with the Thorndike Memorial Laboratory, Boston City Hospital.

Dr. Herbert Jerome Levine of 40 The Ledges road, Newton Centre, appointed Research Fellow in Medicine. He received his A.B. degree from Harvard College in 1950, and his M.D. from Johns Hopkins Medical School in 1954. Dr. Levine is associated with the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

Dr. Elliot George Mishler of 8 Brookdale road, Newtonville, appointed Research Associate in Psychology in the Department of Psychiatry. He was awarded a B.S. in 1946 from the City College of New York, and an M.S. in 1947 and a Ph.D. in 1951 from the University of Michigan. Dr. Mishler is associated with the Massachusetts Mental Health Center.

Dr. Bernard Weinstein of 7 Mt. Vernon terrace, Newtonville, appointed Research Fellow in Bacteriology. He received his B.S. in 1952 from the University of Wisconsin, and the M.D. in 1955 from there. He is associated with the Harvard Medical School.

Mother Nabs Four Library Looters; Boys

An alert and suspicious mother was curious about the sudden wealth her son had acquired — 50 cents.

She soon learned that he and three other boys, all under 12 years old, broke into the Newton Lower Falls library on Sunday.

They found $2 in a librarian's desk, took the loot to a sawdust and divided it four ways.

The mother marched the quartet to police headquarters, where they were booked and turned over to juvenile authorities.

Joie Green, LL Player, Drowns In Vt.

Ten-year old Joie Green, a pupil at Horace Mann School, a Boy Scout, and a Newton North Little League baseball player, lost his life this week while swimming in Silver Lake at Barnard, Vt.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Green of 153
Edinboro street, Newtonville, was on a vacation with his family at the home of an aunt, Mrs. John Hart.

In addition to his parents he leaves two brothers, Michael, 6, and Peter, 5, and a sister, Joanne, 8, and several uncles and aunts.

One of his uncles is Rev.
Peter F. Hart of St. William's Church, Dorchester.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow with a solemn Mass of Requiem at the Church, of Our Lady at 9
a. m.

two children and live at 29
Vincent street.

Gov. Appoints Ginsburg And Dr. McGovern

Governor Foster Furcolo has re-appointed William E.
Ginsburg of 46 Alderwood road, Newton Centre, to the State Ballot Law Commission.

Also confirmed by the Executive Council was the nomination of Dr. Cecelia McGovern of 114 Beacon street, Chestnut Hill, as a member of the Youth Service Board, to succeed
Alice Collins, resigned.

Ginsburg, a practicing attorney for the past 30 years, formerly was assistant District Attorney for Middlesex County, was formerly chairman of the Ballot Law Commission, and is a member of the federal and state bars.

He is a graduate of English
High School and Boston University Law School. He and his wife, the former Esther osenberg, have two children,
Edward and Lee.

Miss McGovern (Ph.D.) was the first president and organizer of the Boston Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, and is author of "In-Service Training Program In Institutions."

She previously served on the Youth Service Board for about six years, for three years was consultant for the National Conference of Catholic Charities, and in 1957 was appointed a member of the Parole Board.

Labor Course At Newton Jr. College

Newton Junior College this fall will begin a new course in Labor and Industrial relations in its efforts to meet the needs and requirements of the community.

"Public interest in trade unions, collective bargaining and employee relations has created a demand for more education in the field of labor relations," according to College Director Walter M. Taylor.

The course will be taught by Paul H. Tobias, Boston labor relations attorney, a former infantry officer and civilian employee of the Department of Defense.

The course will be conducted on a seminar basis with stress on student participation. The "case" or "problem" method of instruction will be used. Students will take turns assuming the roles of workers, union officials, supervisors, and personnel directors. In addition, local union leaders and directors of local companies will be invited as guests to speak with the students.

The course will cover a broad range of topics including: human relations in the factory; the duties and problems of the Personnel department; the functions and operation of trade unions; negotiation and administration of the labor agreement; national and local public policies as reflected in our labor laws; and the role of collective bargaining in the economy.

Let's Sell New England!

This newspaper is joining in a movement to try to help sell Massachusetts and New England.

At the same time we're inviting our readers to become salesmen and aid in selling the area in which we live.

New England is a wonderful section of the country. It has assets which are unmatched by any other part of the nation. Yet, too often New England is taken for granted by New Englanders.

We don't boast about our home community, our state and our area of the country the way people do from Texas, California or Florida. Yet, the fact is we have more to talk about and more to sell.

Many companies and industries in our area hide their shining light under the proverbial bushel basket instead of sounding a Yankee bugle call to signal the unmatched abundant resources and achievements of all New England.

Like all progress, New England's advancement cannot come by itself. It must be promoted, and it will continue only with concerted efforts by all facets of our society.

To that end this paper is joining with scores of New England daily and weekly newspapers in an unusual cooperative effort to boost our region.

Each month during the second half of 1959 we will publish an advertisement with the theme, "The NEW New England," to inform our readers about the national importance of the region's leading industries.

The public service advertising campaign was prepared by the New England Council, regional economic organization, in cooperation with the New England Daily Newspaper Association and the New England Weekly Press Association.

We are proud to participate in promoting New England. But in the final analysis, each citizen must be a salesman for his community, his state and the great region in which he lives. If this campaign is to be a real success,

Let's talk up New England. And while you're at it, be sure and read the advertisements and sell your selves on your section of the country—if you need to be sold.

Political Highlights

ing desire of many Democratic law-makers to avoid a sales tax at all costs.

That is going to make quite an impression on the next Governor, whether he is a Democrat or a Republican for no Governor is likely to walk knowingly into the troubles which have beset Furcolo.

Indeed, Furcolo himself probably will abandon his sales tax fight in 1960 — an election year — just as he did in 1958 — also an election year.

Most political experts now are very doubtful that a sales tax will be enacted by a Democratic-controlled Legislature under a Democratic Governor in the foreseeable future. In fact, they suspect that no Democratic Governor in the next decade will advocate a sales tax, much less achieve its passage.

That opinion might be revised if Governor Furcolo wins an impressive victory over Senator Leverett Saltonstall next year. But the fact that Furcolo won reelection by a big plurality in 1958 after sponsoring a sales tax in 1957 apparently did not help him in any way this year.

A Republican Governor and Legislature might conceivably place a sales tax onto the statute books. The prospects of such a development, however, are far from bright because a good many GOP law-makers back away from the sales tax issue in weak-kneed fright.

The Republicans had an opportunity to accomplish the passage of a sales tax both this year and in 1957. But because the bill was presented by a Democratic Governor they went groping for excuses to vote against it.

Even GOP legislators who strongly favor the principle of a sales tax bill managed to find some reasons for opposing it. The real reason, of course, was that it was sponsored by a Democratic Governor, and they seized upon the opportunity to play politics.

The fact that some cities and towns, including Boston, are desperately in need of a new source of revenue made practically no impact on most legislators in either political party. Some legislators declared privately that they could see no reason for risking their own political lives in order to bail out the local communities and reduce their tax rates.

Basically, the objection of Democratic legislators to the sales tax stems from a fear of reprisal on the part of indignant voters in the event the tax were imposed upon them.

Somewhat the same apprehension has existed in every state where the tax was proposed. But once the sales tax was placed in operation, the people always have accepted it quickly, and there is no evidence that any substantial number of officeholders have been defeated because of voting for it.

Governor Furcolo is unpredictable and has a flare for doing the unexpected and the unorthodox. He might stun everyone on Beacon Hill by starting the sales tax fight all over again next year, although he would have no chance of winning it if he did.

It is more likely that Furcolo, recognizing that he'll get nowhere in another sales tax battle, will forget about the limited 3 percent impost and concentrate on salvaging as much of his program as he can.

Strong-minded Senate President John E. Powers was the man most responsible for blocking the sales tax. Powers next year may be directing Boston's municipal government as Mayor of the State's capital city instead of presiding over the Senate sessions.

The departure of Powers from the Senate, however, would not lessen the opposition to the sales enough to give it any real prospect of passage.

Proposed New State Office Building Proves Troublesome To Legislators

By REP. ARTHUR G. HEANEY

There have been a number of controversial matters with which the Legislature has had to contend during the past two years. Not the least troublesome is the matter of the proposed new State office building.

It has been amazing to note the rapid growth of governmental operations in the Commonwealth and the increased needs for new space. There is little argument that more adequate and efficient facilities near the State House are necessary. But at issue is the manner in which a new building is to be constructed and managed.

Last year a proposal was made that the State, through a commission, build a new office building at an estimated cost of 20 million dollars, to be amortized over a period of years largely by the rentals now being paid in various parts of greater Boston to the tune of some $750,000 per year.

This was apparently too simple and straightforward a proposition, however, and when the bill was finally enacted it proved to be unique in the annals not only of Massachusetts but every other state in the Union.

Simply stated, the building is now to be built by a corporation with three officers—William F. Callahan, Anthony N. DiNatale and Otis M. Whitney, and the cost is to be nearer 30 million dollars. These three men are appointed for life and have the power to name their own successors. They have full and complete jurisdiction until the State has paid off the cost of construction and operation of the building. There is no provision for state supervision of the construction, for competitive bidding, for contractors to pay prevailing wages, for any audit of the records, for any basis of rentals to be paid by the State.

Legislation has been filed proposing amendments to this plan which should command the attention of all sound thinking people. Some of these refinements are:

Increasing the board by the addition of the State Superintendent of Buildings, The Commissioner of Labor and Industries, the State Treasurer and the Attorney General, with all seven members serving only as long as they hold their State positions.

Competitive bidding re-

Third of Series

As a service to its readers, The Graphic this week publishes the third of a series of articles by Newton legislators on issues of public interest. The third article is by Rep. Arthur G. Heaney.

quired for both financing and construction of the building, and the construction to be subject to State supervision.

A detailed report to be filed annually and the State Auditor would audit the books;

Operation and maintenance of the completed building would be by the Superintendent of Buildings;

A formula would be set up for determining the rental payments by the State.

Although this corrective legislation was filed early in May it has not yet been admitted by the committee on Rules and as these comments are written it appears unlikely that it will be admitted at this session.

There is no criticism of the character and ability of the individuals now heading this so-called corporation, but it does not seem too much to ask that the taxpayers of our Commonwealth should have full and complete control over a facility they will not only occupy but pay for for generations to come.

Dr. Robbins Is Exchange Prof In Scotland

Dr. Stanley L. Robbins of 175 Brookline st., Newton, will swap jobs and homes for the next year with a professor at the University of Glasgow Medical School, Scotland.

Dr. Robbins will be Exchange Professor of Pathology. He and his wife and three children will take up their residence at the home of Dr. Bruce Cruickshank, who will take up residence at the home of Dr. Robbins.

DR. STANLEY ROBBINS

The appointment was made for one year and was the first of what may develop into an annual exchange.

Dr. Robbins, who is a Professor of Pathology at Boston University School of Medicine and a lecturer in pathology at Harvard Medical School, will teach at the University of Glasgow School of Medicine. He will also serve as Pathologist to the Royal Infirmary which is affiliated with the Medical School.

Dr. Robbins is also a visiting physician in Pathology at Boston City Hospital and Associate Director (of Pathology) at the Mallory Institute of the Boston City Hospital.

Trooper Halloran In Gov.'s Office

State Trooper James E. Halloran, Jr., son of a Newton police detective, has been transferred from the Foxboro barracks to the Governor's office at the State House.

Trooper Halloran, and his wife, the former Betty Tucker, make their home in Brockton with their three children, James E., 3rd, Stephen C. and Karen.

He has begun his new duties which consist of screening visitors to the office of Governor Foster Furcolo.

Minor changes may be made in the State Senate and Execu-

Attorney General Fights Rising Milk Prices Here

Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., who for a period of months has been involved in a controversy over milk prices, is presently endeavoring to accomplish two main purposes in halting the sale of milk at a loss.

1. He is striving to avoid a return of milk price control which would mean much higher costs for consumers.

2. He is seeking to prevent the small marginal dealers from being forced out of business. Such a development would leave the milk industry in the control of a few big dealers who then, if they chose, could put on a price squeeze.

Householders recently have been getting the benefit of a price war between the milk dealers, but in the long run they would get price controls and substantially higher prices than at present.

Competition would be stifled, and the few dealers left in business obviously would attempt to recoup the losses they suffered during the price war. Under those circumstances the consumer would be severely hit.

Attorney General McCormack has emphasized in all the steps he has taken during the milk controversy that what concerns him most is the "long-range interest of the consumers."

Throughout the entire conflict over milk prices, McCormack has consistently fought the battle of the consumers, even appearing in court for the consumers against the State Milk Control Commission and the milk dealers.

It was Attorney General McCormack as an ex-officio member of the State Milk Regulation Board who spearheaded the move some weeks ago to abolish the original price control order.

McCormack maintained that the market should be stabilized by law enforcement and not by an artificial device such as price controls.

The fact that the consumers can be greatly harmed by a price war such as that waged in the milk industry in recent weeks—even though they get lower prices temporarily—is evidenced by the alarm expressed by two Federal Agencies over the situation.

James Dougherty of the Regional Office of the Federal Trade Commission and Everett MacIntyre, Chief Counsel for the Congressional Subcommittee on Small Business and one of the top federal investigators in the nation, both came on here to confer with McCormack and investigate the milk price war.

Congressional investigators found wholesale violations of the law, with the great majority of dealers selling milk at a loss.

The situation was one in which, if permitted to continue, could only end with the small dealers being forced out of business with price controls re-established and with disastrous results for the consumers.

McCormack, who has proved himself a strong and forceful Attorney General, moved in a vigorous fashion to end the price war for the protection of the consumers.

Milk buyers are paying a slightly higher price for milk as a result of the crackdown on the price war, should recognize that they inevitably

Scout Leaders To Attend Big Mich. Conclave

Norumbega Council President Harry Shain of Waban announced today that Scout Executive Ralph B. Johnson will head the council's delegation to the 11th National Training Conference at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor from Sept. 1 to 8.

Also attending will be District Scout Executives Arthur T. Alcazar and David P. Jones. Every four years the scout executives meet for an intensive period of training under the leadership of their national officials.

More than 3,000 of the nation's Boy Scout professional leaders will hear Associate Justice Tom C. Clarke of the U. S. Supreme Court, as well as top business, religious and civic leaders during the conclave.

They would be hit with a much stiffer boost in milk costs if the price war were not halted.

Dr. M. Ritvo Gets New Hub Hospital Post

Dr. Max Ritvo of 66 Waban Hill rd., Chestnut Hill, takes over the new post of full-time director of radiology at Boston City Hospital on Sept. 1 at a salary of $24,000 a year.

The appointment was made by the Hospital Trustees and approved by Boston Mayor John B. Hynes.

Dr. Ritvo, who has been associated with the Hospital since 1923, has been part-time director.

Mayor Hynes announced last week creation of the new post, and also announced that an associate director would be appointed at a salary of $22,500. There also will be three full-time X-ray specialists.

Hynes estimated that the full-time services will bring in between $500,000 and a million dollars a year in fees.

Dr. Ritvo, 62, is a graduate of Harvard College and the Medical School, has served as president of several medical societies and has his office at 416 Marlboro st., Back Bay.

Refund Checks Await 12 From Newton Area

The names of 12 taxpayers who gave Newton addresses were made public today by District Director of Internal Revenue Frank J. Cavanagh in an effort to aid in giving them their federal tax refunds.

Checks for these 12 taxpayers are among 3200 refund checks originally mailed but due to changes in mailing addresses—or some other reason—could not be delivered.

Director Cavanagh announced that:

"All you need to do is contact the District Director of Internal Revenue in whose office your return is filed and establish your identity and right to receive the check."

cessful campaign for a second term in 1940, in which Salton- all defeated Paul Dever, then attorney general, by 5,588 votes.

Mr. White's first political post was as a member of the Newton Republican City Committee at the age of 21. He was a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen from 1904 to 1910, later served as a state representative from Newton and in 1924 was appointed chairman of the Commission on Administration and Finance by Gov. Channing Cox.

His only defeat at the polls was in 1933 when he opposed Sinclair Weeks for mayor of Newton.

Mr. White was a graduate of the Newton schools and the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy. For a time he owned and operated two drug stores, one each in Newton and Needham. He sold them both after World War I and devoted full time to politics.

He had been a member of the Odd Fellows, Masons, Knights Templar, Shriners, Middlesex Club, Newton Players and Boston City Club.

Turn Style Has First Birthday

One of the most fabulous retail stores in Brighton is celebrating its first birthday with values topping any yet sold, Turn Style at 400 Western Ave., is marking the day with presents for the customers in the form of the widest range of fall merchandise ever offered in the store.

Complete stocks of children's back-to-school clothes—shoes, dresses, sweaters, coats, jackets, underclothings—are ranged in easy to find racks and counters. Full lines of fashions for the rest of the family are just as easily located.

House furnishings, from measuring spoons to living room draperies, are waiting to be chosen by the discriminating shopper.

Besides offering one stop shopping, the Turn Style features one floor shopping. No stairways to climb, no escalators to cope with, no elevators to wait for. Shoppers enter on the ground level and can make all their purchases on the same floor in the mammoth merchandise mart.

Parking for 5,000 automobiles is available in the lot on Western Ave., and there are only a few steps from any car to the front door.

Two League-

The Merchants moved confidently into the finals with 2-straight wins over the Cabot Club in their semi-final play-offs. They beat Cabot 9 to 4 Sunday, highlighted by a two-run homer by catcher John Connery, and pitcher Buddy Ryan's effective 9-hit hurling. Ryan blanked Cabot until his own mates were coasting with a 6-0 lead.

Jim Murphy allowed 7 hits in the first semi-final game which Auburndale won 8 to 5 last Friday. The Merchants jumped off to a three run lead in the first inning, added four more in the second and were never headed.

In the other bracket, St. Bernard's won the opening game from the Highlands by a score of 3 to 2. St. Bernard's needed only four singles and a walk in the first inning to win this game.

Two singles and a two-bagger gave Highlands its two runs, also in the first inning, and thereafter both clubs were blanked.

Highlands evened the series at 1-1 with a 9-6 win on Sunday, but St. Bernard's won the odd game Monday night, 2 to 0.

Ready 7 1/2 Million TB Seals

"It takes a heap of lickin'" the late Edgar Guest might have written about the 7,500,000 Christmas Seals here in Newton. The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association is currently getting ready for the 1959 Christmas Seal Sale, which begins November 18th this year.

Among the volunteers who are helping to get the materials ready to send to the people of Newton are three pretty, young school girls, Ellen Belkin, Lela Firger, and Lee Daniels. These girls are helping the regular volunteers to prepare for the annual mail sale.

The 7,500,000 decorative seals will be mailed to the residents of Newton for them to do the "heap of lickin'" on their Christmas letters, cards, and packages. This will be the 43rd consecutive year in which Christmas Seals have been sold throughout the nation and the world.

Playground '59 BB Champs Crowned Here

The 1959 Summer Recreation Playground season city-wide and District Athletic leagues Champions were completed this week and many sections of the city are represented by these coveted awards.

Recreation Commissioner C. Evan Johnson will present "Certificates of Champions" to the winning members of the district and city-wide Championship squads next week at the Annual "Play Days."

The 49th Annual City-Wide and Junior baseball championships were represented by Midget District Championship Squads from: Carr, Burr, Lincoln, and Auburn-dale playgrounds. While the Junior District Championship squads were from: Horace Mann, Cold Spring, Franklin, and Burr playgrounds.

In the Midget Division of the City-Wide Championship semi-finals, Carr won over Burr 13 to 0 at Albemarle and Lincoln won over Auburn-dale 4 to 1. In the finals Lincoln won over Carr 6 to 2 at Gill Stadium.

Youth Advisory Committee Maps Plans For Services

The first meeting of the newly organized Executive Committee of the Newton Youth Advisory Committee met recently at the Newton Community Council office with chairman A. Raymond Rogers presiding. The meeting was called to initiate plans for the Committee's work in studying the needs and problems of youth in Newton.

A study plan to help the committee determine what leisure-time services are available and some measure of their adequacy is now under consideration and will be voted on at the next meeting of the Executive Committee scheduled for September 14 at 8 p.m.

A suggested proposal for the structure of the Newton Youth Advisory Committee will be presented and discussed at their next meeting. The Committee is sponsored by the Newton Community Council. At the meeting, Harry L. Walen, Council President described the relationship between the Community Council, a Red Feather agency, and the Newton Youth Advisory Committee.

Leon J. Kowal was elected Treasurer by the committee. David Berkman will assist Mr. Kowal. Members of the Executive Committee are as follows: A. Raymond Rogers of 160 Chestnut street, West Newton, Chairman; David Berkman of 412 Commonwealth avenue Newton Centre; Raymond F. Cook of 14 Whitcomb street, Belmont. Others will be named as members to the Executive Committee.

More than 140 Newton organizations indicated last spring their interest in the formation of a Newton Youth Advisory Committee. At a meeting last April, representatives of these organizations authorized the formation of such a group with an Executive Committee to carry on the month to month work as proposed in the Statement of Purposes. The members present agreed to meet evenings on the second Monday of each month.

Mayor Seeks Review of MTA Policy

The Mayor raised a question whether some of the present policies and procedures of the MTA should be continued by a transit system which is losing money at the rate of $20 million a year and whether some new steps should be taken to cut down the losses.

He asked whether a line, which is losing as much money as the MTA, can afford to allow pupils to ride for 5 cents as is required under a law which the Legislature up to now has refused to rescind. Mayor Whitmore cited that a law also imposed on the MTA requires one guard for each two cars on a rapid transit train. In some cities such as New York there is only one guard for the entire train.

Under the existing law, the Mayor pointed out, the MTA trustees are not required to prepare any budget.

"They can spend all the money they wish and then turn to the cities and towns and ask for whatever they need to pay off their losses," the Mayor observed. He questioned whether that is a businesslike way to run a transit system of the size of the MTA.

The Mayor also urged a review of the MTA policy against increasing fares or installing a zone system of collecting fares.

He pointed out that MTA trustees have expressed the fear that patronage would drop if fares were raised. While patronage did decline when the fare was increased from 15 to 20 cents, it was dropping anyway, and factors other than the cost of the ride could have been involved, he observed.

"They also say that it would not be economical to introduce a zone fare system because of the cost of collecting it," the Mayor stated. "I would like them to look into this with an open mind."

Mayor Whitmore voiced the conviction that the MTA has "a big public relations job to do" in order to create public goodwill and attract increased patronage. He suggested that more money be spent on services which would draw new riders.

He expressed doubt, however, that further extensions such as the Highland Branch are the answer to the problem.

Meanwhile, Mayor Whitmore and the other city and town officials who comprise the MTA Advisory Board are now awaiting a new nomination by the MTA trustees for the highly important post of general manager of the transit system.

RR Explains Commuter Service Cuts

Two executives of the parent New York Central railroad appeared before a special meeting of the Executive Committee of the Newton Chamber of Commerce last week.

Herbert H. Harwood and Thomas F. Coppinger appeared to provide data concerning the recent Boston & Albany Railroad petition to discontinue commuter service between Boston and Newton.

Harwood and Coppinger traced the railroad's financial position, explained the tremendous tax increase, and said riders on the B & A from Newton Corner, Newtonville, West Newton and Riverside dropped to 1200 after the Highland Branch of the MTA opened.

and the Harvard Law School. He was a delegate to the White House Conference on Education held in Washington in 1955, served as president of the Massachusetts Association of School Committees, Inc., and presently is clerk of the Council for a Television Course in the Humanities for Secondary Schools, Inc.

Freedman also is chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee of the Massachusetts Council for Public Schools. Active in civic and charitable affairs, he served on the first board of trustees of Temple Shalom of Newton and was chairman of the 1955 Newton Red Cross drive.

He is a member of the Massachusetts Bay Lodge B'nai B'rith, the American Jewish Congress, the Franklin Lodge No. 6, A.M. & F.M., the Newton Red Cross Board of Directors and the Harvard Law School Association.

In professional life he is a partner in the law firm of Brown, Rudnick & Freed which has offices at 85 Devonshire street in downtown Boston.

His home is at 118 Homer street, Newton Centre, where he resides with his wife, Beatrice, and their son, Jeffrey, who is entering his junior year at Newton High School.

Freedman has been commended numerous times for the time and energy he devotes to his service as an unpaid member of the School Committee and as chairman of the committee.

He is widely respected by leading educators not only in Greater Boston and Massachusetts but throughout the nation.

In his statement commenting on Newton's public school department, Chairman Freedman said:

"Our system of local central education means that Newton public schools can be only as good as the citizens of Newton want them to be.

"Fortunately, the Newton community from the beginning has wanted good schools and constantly elected public spirited men and women to the School Committee to support good education.

"Education is a dynamic, cultural force and must always be watched. Truly, no community can afford to spend less than the maximum within its financial power for good education.

"There are no 'bargain basement' educational programs. The community is entitled to, and in Newton does obtain, a maximum result for the money spent."

Whitmore To Delay Filling Assessor Post

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., announces that he is processing applications, and expects more to be filed, to fill the vacancy on Newton's 3-man board of assessors.

The vacancy was created by the death of Assessors Chairman Sydney B. Holden whose term was to expire on Jan. 31, 1961.

The other two members of the board are Clerk Edward A. Fahey and Mrs. Isabelle R. Mackey.

Thus far five men have filed applications for the job, which pays from $6,400 to $8,700. Assessors serve three year terms.

Mayor Whitmore said the job of assessor is becoming increasingly professionalized, but, "I don't think the City would be in a position to hire an experienced assessor."

Assessors are appointed by the mayor with the approval of the Board of Aldermen.

Sidney S. Gutlon
The Levine Funeral Chapel in Brookline was the scene of funeral services for Sidney S. Gutlon of 65 Fellsmore rd., Newton, who died Saturday. He was founder and president of the Modern Curtain Co., of Boston, chairman of the Newton Branch of the Community Chest and chairman of the combined Jewish Appeal, Curtain Division.

He was a charter member of Moses Michael Hayes Lodge A.F. and a member of Germania Lodge, A.F. and A.M. Temple Mishkan Tefillah and Congregation Kehillath Israel.

He leaves his widow, Emma, a son, Peter of Providence, a daughter, Mrs. Doris Hyman of Newton, a brother, Howard of Brookline, and a sister, Mrs. Beatrice Sherman of Boston.

Emile Charest
Funeral services were held yesterday for Emile Charest, 73, of 418 Auburn st., Auburndale, with a requiem Mass in Corpus Christi Church. Burial was in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Charest, a native of Canada, had lived in Newton for 11 years. He died early Sunday at his home.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mary E. (Jones) Charest, two sons, Charles F. of West Newton and Joseph of Los Angeles, two daughters, Bertha C. of Wellesley, Genevieve M. of Auburndale, ten grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Albert Demers of Quebec.

John H. O'Loughlin
John H. O'Loughlin, 47, of 286 Derby St., West Newton, died Wednesday after a short illness, and funeral services were held Saturday with a blessing at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton.

Burial followed in the family lot at Calvary Cemetery in Waltham. A pro-burial Mass was celebrated Monday at 9 a.m. in St. Bernard's.

He was the husband of Mrs. Dorothy M. (Eaton) O'Loughlin and son of Mrs. Thomas J. Ahern and the late Thomas O'Loughlin.

He was employed by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Co. as an operator and more recently in the dispatch office.

Besides his wife and mother, he leaves a son, John H., Jr., of West Newton; two daughters, Mrs. Sheila Ann Van Horn and Kathleen A. O'Loughlin of West Newton; a brother, Francis T. O'Loughlin, and a sister, Mrs. Raymond Hennessey, both of New York City, and several nieces and nephews.

Mary T. Rogers
Mrs. Mary T. (Shaughnessy) Rogers, 33, formerly of 36 Freeman St., Auburndale, died last week at her home in Clarion, Penn.

She was born in Newton, daughter of Joseph and Mary (Callaghan) Shaughnessy, and attended Newton public schools. She moved to Pennsylvania four years ago.

She leaves her husband, Richard D., her parents, one brother, John of Los Angeles, and two sisters, Mrs. Paul (Kathleen) Hand of Wayland and Mrs. Elizabeth Poisson of Auburndale.

A requiem Mass was celebrated Friday in Corpus Christi Church, Auburndale. Interment was in the family lot in Newton Cemetery.

Angelina Romagnoli
Funeral services are being held this morning for Mrs. Angelina T. (Cugnasca) Romagnoli, 79, of 123 Auburn St., Auburndale.

Following a requiem Mass in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, interment follows in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Mrs. Romagnoli, a native of Como, Italy, lived in Newton for the past 40 years. She was the widow of Victor G. Romagnoli.

She made her home with a daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Fabiano in Auburndale. She also leaves a brother, Balthasar Cugnasca of Norwell and two grandchildren.

Arthur G. Stavro
Funeral services were held Friday at 2 p.m. in St. John's Albanian Church, South Boston, for one of its founders, Arthur G. Stavro, 53, of 5 Hagen Rd., Newton.

Stavro, owner of a Jamaica Plain market, died Tuesday while on a vacation in Atlantic City, N. J. Burial was in Forest Hills Cemetery, Jamaica Plain.

Stavro, who came to the United States from Albania in 1920, leaves his widow, Mrs. Evelyn Stavro, and two daughters, Linda of Newton and Mrs. Cynthia Muhle of Santa Anna, Calif.

Carpenter and Powers Tools Make Home Repair Jobs Fun

With good summer weather at hand and also the crisp fall days ahead, the time is ripe for the myriad home repair tasks that are needed to keep any home in top condition, whether for living in the owner or selling for the kind of top money real estate brings nowadays.

So thoughtful home owners are turning to Carpenter and Powers at Worcester and Cedar streets in Wellesley Hills for tool rentals, sales and service. Available are drills, saws, sanders, chain saws and all the other many tools which make home jobs much easier.

The power tool aids are especially popular. If you have done home repair tasks by the old fashioned hand methods, and spent weeks on work that could be done in hours, then go to Carpenter and Powers and consult any of the staff for expert advice, which is free, and courteously given.

A visit or phone call to either CE 5-5260 or 5261 will bring further information, or arrange a reservation for the particular tool needed.

Ashley Jr. High

Placement tests will be given at the Frank Ashley Day Junior High School, 100 Walnut St., Newtonville, on Friday, September 4, at 9 a.m. This is for all new pupils, but does not apply to the seventh graders coming from our elementary schools.

The school office will be open from Monday, August 31, through Friday, September 4, from 9 to 12 noon for registration of new pupils and to issue transfers.

Pupils should bring transfer and report cards, and where possible, parents are urged to accompany the children.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

Middlesex, ss. PROBATE COURT

To: Gladys E. Miller, of Newton, Middlesex, ss. PROBATE COURT, dated September 21, 1959, recorded with Book 818, Page 64, has filed with said Court a bill in equity for said Court to foreclose said mortgage in the manner following: by entry and possession and exercise of power of sale.

If you are entitled to the benefits of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, as amended, and you object to such foreclosure, you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Cambridge before ten o'clock in the forenoon on the fourteenth day of September 1959, the return day of this citation.

Witness, John C. Leggat, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this fourth day of August 1959.

Fleet News

Midshipman 1/c Arthur P. Menard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Menard of 47 White Plain rd., Newton, was among 160 men who completed a summer training cruise aboard the Pacific Fleet carrier USS Oriskany. Menard is a member of the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps at Holy Cross College.

Marine Pfc. Vincent J. Simone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Simone of 117 Norwood ave., Newtonville, is serving with the First Marine Aircraft Wing at Iwakuni, Japan. The First Wing provides helicopter assault transportation and tactical air support for the Okinawa-based Third Marine Division.

Warren Jr. High

The school office of Levi F. Warren Junior High School at 1600 Washington St., West Newton, will be open Thursday, September 3, at 9 a.m. at which time all pupils who wish to take makeup or placement examinations should report.

Pupils who are new to Warren Junior High School, with the exception of those entering the seventh grade from Newton public elementary schools in the Warren district, should also report to the school office at 9 a.m., Thursday, September 3, bringing with them transfer cards, records of final marks, etc., from their previous schools, so they may be assigned to the proper grade level.

School opens on Wednesday, September 3. Seventh grade pupils should report by 8:25 a.m.; sessions for the eighth and ninth grade pupils begin at 1 p.m. The cafeteria will not be open Wednesday.

Four From Newton At Star Island, N.H.

Four Newton residents are at Star Island, N. H., this week for the sixth summer conference of Religion in the Age of Science, attended by delegates from 19 states and from Canada and Israel.

Local delegates are Rudolph and Stephanie Amann of Newton Centre, Miss Margaret Ball and Mrs. Irene Murdock of Newton.

Juvenile Stakes At Wonderland

The big interest at Wonderland Park these days is centered on the young greyhounds which are just beginning their racing careers.

The $12,000 Wonderland Juvenile, richest stake for untied puppies in the nation, went into high gear this week with two semi-final rounds. The stake itself will be contested on Sept. 3. The race is restricted to greyhounds whelped on, or after, Jan. 1, 1958, and they cannot have run in an official race prior to the stake.

Started at Revere 20 years ago as an incentive to breeders, the first edition was won by the immortal Rural Rubie. He has been followed by many of the greats of greyhound racing. Trainers start preparing their pups for the race in early May. The greyhounds are taken to the track mornings and trained to the mechanical rabbit and starting box.

The best are then entered into Juvenile schooling in which they race against greyhounds of the same age. These races are held before the regular card at Wonderland. The final step is schooling races after the regular races which gives the pups a chance to get acquainted with the lights and the roar of the crowd. The original group of 100 or so pups is cut to 82 in these schooling rounds. This is further cut to the eight finalists in the Juvenile itself.

Daughter Born

Newton Represented In Kitchen World Series

Local Housewife Will Bake Cake For Fame And $25,000

A modest Newton matron will carry the colors of the Garden City into the 11th Annual National Bake-Off Contest. She will mix the ingredients of her favorite cake recipe in the world's largest kitchen at the Beverly-Hilton Hotel in California and may emerge from the welter of electric ranges and mixing bowls as the Nation's No. 1 Cook and with a cash prize of $25,000.

Mrs. Charles B. Messenger, of 187 Sargent street, is one of 100 finalists picked by the Pillsbury Company to compete at the annual contest held in Beverly Hills from September 20 through the 22nd.

In these modern days of frozen dinners, instant this and pre-mixed that, the old-fashioned gal, who is skilled in the mixing of the raw ingredients and who likes to pop her own culinary creation into the oven, often is relegated to the dim background along with those relics of a by-gone Americana—the rolling pin, mixing bowl and measuring cup.

The gorgeous femmes with the poundage properly proportioned in the strategic areas, with mincing gait and blinding teeth, have paraded and been awarded their cups, scholarships, movie contracts and other worldly loot in the assorted "Miss" and "Mrs" contests.

Now, from the nation's kitchens comes the march of the housewives who have a speaking acquaintance with the range and oven.

Each year, under the sponsorship of the Pillsbury Company, the women who maintain a working association with kitchen items other than the refrigerator freezer, the can opener, or the pre-mixed

"AND A SMIDGON OF THIS"—Mrs. Charles B. Messenger, of Newton, carefully weighs a spoonful of a secret ingredient—upon which may well ride a top prize of $25,000—as she prepares for Grand National Bake-Off Contest in California next month. She is one of 100 finalists picked from coast-to-coast.

C of C Asks B&A Operate Pending Substitute Service

The Newton Chamber of Commerce, through its executive committee, has requested continuation of Boston & Albany railroad's commuter service to Newton "until satisfactory substitute service can be provided."

The request noted that "any public utility which has held a franchise for so many years cannot regard lightly its obligation to the public."

The committee pointed out that "it is obviously unsound to expect the railroad to continue long to subsidize a service which has so unsatisfactory a profit picture, losing conservatively (according to submitted figures) $175,000 annually."

"While the Chamber of Commerce has the deepest sympathy for the railroad's plight in conducting a non-profitable service," the committee suggested that "in the interest of good human relations, before they abandon

Mounting Campaign Activity On Newton's Political Front Mayorality Race Has Overtones Of Bitterness

Newton's political front is echoing to a mounting tempo of activity as the candidates for Mayor, the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee step up their campaigns in anticipation of the end of the summer vacation season.

Sept. 8 is the deadline for submitting nomination signatures to the Registrars of Voters for certification, and in some sections of the city candidates and their supporters are completing the task of obtaining sufficient signatures to qualify for places on the ballot.

Many of the top contenders already have had their nomination papers filed, have fled their signatures and have turned their attention to enlisting public support in their election drives.

Major interest in Newton will center on the progress of the first full-fledged mayorality battle the city has witnessed in a number of years.

Opponents in what is expected to prove a lively three-way race are State Senator Donald L. Gibbs, Norman E. Moore, former campaign manager for the late Attorney General George Fingold and presently a member of the State Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission, and Alderman Leo M. Cannon.

Gibbs and Moore are Republicans. Cannon is a Democrat.

The battle the trio will wage already is commanding attention well beyond Newton's city limits.

That the fight for Mayor will assume overtones of real bitterness before it is completed, already is evident from the salvos which have been fired from the rival camps.

Chairman Carleton P. Merrill of the Newton Republican City Committee this week lashed out in an unusual statement at Norman E. Moore, one of the mayorality aspirants, blasting Moore, a Republican, for failing to work last fall for the members of the GOP State ticket.

Merrill hit sharply at a statement made recently to The Graphic by Moore that he was virtually in a "state of shock" following Fingold's tragic and sudden death on Labor Day weekend last year and consequently took no part in the subsequent campaign.

The GOP City Committee head declared that Moore emerged from his state of shock, a few days after Fingold's death, long enough to take an active part in the fight over the selection of a candidate to run in Fingold's place.

He said that Moore did everything he could to prevent Christian A. Herter, Jr., of Newton from being given the gubernatorial nomination when the Republican party was forced to find a candidate to replace Fingold.

Merrill asserted that Moore worked energetically at that

Hail, Our Citizen Army

Newton Neighbors, Pfc. And General, Are Home

Newton Army Reservists with the famed 94th Infantry Reserve Division returned to their home from Camp Drum, N. Y., last Saturday, and with the local citizen-soldiers came the news of one who really "had it made" in camp.

Pfc. V. Glenn Casten, of 1038 Centre street, Newton, had one of the best jobs in the outfit. He worked for his Newton neighbor, who just happened to be the Division's Commanding General.

The 25-year-old Casten was known around Division Headquarters as the "assistant" to Brig. Gen. Michael D. Galvin, of Hobart road, Newton. General Galvin's home is only four blocks from Private Casten's.

Casten was recommended for the job by the General's daughter, Noreen, who was a high school classmate of Casten's wife, Nancy. The two are very good friends.

The General's assistant chaffered him around the Post, assisted in administrative work in the office, and carried orders from the General to his unit commanders on maneuvers in the field.

Casten considered his boss "a wonderful and interesting person to work for."

"With the General," he said, "I certainly had an opportunity to see what's going on around the Division. We spent most of the day in the field, where the General inspected everything from mess halls to the big artillery units. It was great to get the 'big picture' of a Division on maneuvers."

The General and his Pfc neighbor returned to Newton on Saturday when the 94th Division completed two weeks of Pentomic training under simulated combat conditions.

Appropriate $205,000 For Streets, Etc.

The Newton Board of Aldermen at its Monday night meeting approved appropriations of $205,000 for new streets, sewers and replacing skylights at the Technical High School.

The appropriations for streets and sewers exceeded $100,000. Also approved was the use of $80,000 from Street Bonds for the reconstruction of six streets, and $25,000 for replacement of the skylights.

Acceptance of Carl St., in Newton Highlands, under the Betterment Law, was opposed by two abutters at a public hearing on five orders for acceptance of streets. The matters were referred to the Public Works and Finance Committees for study.

Unopposed were requests from the Newton-Wellesley Hospital and Boston College for licenses to store inflammables, mostly fuel oil. These were granted.

Probe 2nd Bottling Co. Break

Newton police are investigating a second break within a week at the Royal Crown Bottling Co., at 49 Elmwood street, Newton.

Only a toy pistol resembling a Luger was taken from an office desk in the second burglary, apparently a return visit by robbers who obtained $4,000 on the initial attempt.

Watchman Edward Mitchell who closed the building at 11 p.m. Saturday, discovered the break at 1:05 p.m. Sunday, and notified police.

A half dozen patrolmen were sent, as well as a Fire Department ladder company to aid in searching the roof. Entrance was gained by forcing the front door. Cleat marks, similar to those left in the first break on Aug. 15, again were noted on the floor of the office.

Chairmen Air United Fund Plans

A blueprint of the 1959 United Fund campaign in Newton was unfurled, and preparatory plans for the fund-raising effort were launched at an informal but productive "Shirtsleeve" meeting of all campaign chairmen held recently.

All phases of the drive in this city were discussed and an extensive publicity campaign prepared. Herbert B. Caham, public relations chairman, already has set in motion his part in the drive.

Residential, business, and area chairmen developed their phases of the fund-raising, details of which will be released, along with any quotas established for the Newtons.

Taking part in the meeting were the following chairmen: Mr. Caham, 121 Fairway drive, West Newton; public relations; Robert McLaughlin, 28 Kingswood road, Auburndale, residential; Thomas E. Wilson, 77 Crechore drive, Newton Lower Falls; Lower Falls chairman; Herbert Sills, 188 Highland avenue, Newton-ville, Newtonville chairman.

Tom Nelson Silk, 58 Randall park, West Newton, West Newton chairman; Mrs. Jerome Lyle Rappaport, 80 Quail street, West Roxbury, vice-chairman, Metropolitan Division; Gordon M. Morrison, Jr., 20 Wildon road, Wellesley, Central Division chairman; Simon Scheff, 40 Orchard avenue, West Newton, Newton area chairman; Sumner Gordon, 21 Cross Hill road, Oak Hill chairman, and Gordon A. Simonsen, 35 Livingston circle, Needham, business chairman.

Wife Weeds; Home Robbed

While Mrs. Gordon Maltby was weeding her front lawn at 65 Endicott Street, Newton Highlands, a sneak thief escaped Monday with $121 from a first floor bedroom.

Police were told the thief apparently entered by a rear door and took the money from Mrs. Maltby's purse.

Newton Flier Near Death

Lt. Perro Burned On SS Wasp

Burns on the face and right hand of Navy Flier Lt. (j.g.) Michael A. Perro, Newton, are reminders of his close brush with death in the fire aboard the aircraft carrier Wasp last week.

Lt. Perro and 11 other officers were trapped for five minutes in a bunk room directly above the spot where the $5 million fire and explosions flared aboard the carrier.

Two persons were killed and a score were injured.

Lt. Perro was taking a nap in the junior officers' bunk room when the explosion awakened him.

"I smelled smoke and hopped out of bed. I went toward the Captain's ladder but the heat forced me forward to the large bunk room.

"We tried to get out the hatch and were forced back," the Newton flyer added.

He said he grabbed some clothing lying on the floor and put it on. The smoke rapidly filled the room and Perro laid down on the floor with the other officers.

First though, he had the presence of mind to grab a towel and wet it. "It was the only way I could breathe."

"I heard telephone calls for help being made and, after some time, I laid down again and said an act of contrition. I thought I had about a minute left to live," Lt. Perro said.

Lt. (jg.) William Entwistle of Hopkinton, who also was trapped in the room was lying

Bolt Rips Local Home

One side of the dwelling of Salvatore Gorgone of 11 Star road, West Newton, was damaged Friday by a bolt of lightning during a violent electrical storm, which also started a fire in a Wellesley business block.

Francis Gorgone, 16, was the only occupant when the dwelling was struck, but was not injured.

Nine minutes later Newton received a mutual aid request for the Wellesley fire which caused $35,000 damage to a building at 11 River-street. A bolt hit the chimney of the three-story wooden structure.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT
Former Boston Post Political Editor

Cool Off For Legislators Is Shrewd Political Move

The unpredictable Governor Furcolo is employing a novel but probably shrewd strategy in planning to allow the legislators to go home for a cooling-off period but then to call them back into session late in September.

What Furcolo obviously intends to do is to renew his fight for virtually all the portions of his program which have not been enacted during the regular legislative session. That, of course, covers a very broad area.

time to make State Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe the substitute candidate for Governor.

"When neither Moore nor Herter received the nomination and it was given instead to Charles Gibbons, Moore made his decision to forget his party's need and go into a period of mourning," Chairman Merrill alleged.

Referring to Moore's appointment by Governor Furolo to the State Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission, Merrill quoted a report circulated at the State House that Moore was recommended to Furolo by Democratic State Senator A. Frank Foster of Dorchester.

"Apparently, Mr. Moore realizes that many of Newton's registered Republicans do not have short memories and that he must now try to put forth some justification for his lack of support to the Republican party," declared Merrill who is a member of the Board of Aldermen as well as chairman of the GOP City Committee. Merrill said it was "most difficult to believe that from Labor Day to election day in November, Mr. Moore was in such a state of shock that he could not lend his time and effort to do at least some work for the Republican ticket."

He challenged Moore to explain to Newton Republicans why he found it "politically expedient to forget the Republican party in a time of need."

on the floor nearby, saw the motionless form of Perro and kicked it.

"I thought he was gone," Entwistle said. Perro paused, smiled, and then continued with his story.

"My right hand, ear, and right nostril were burned from the heat that had penetrated the floor through the towel.

"Then I heard someone yell 'We've got to get out of here.'"

"I felt the same way, too. I grabbed someone's belt.

"Don't ask me whom I grabbed. Don't ask me who was behind me. I don't know. I don't think anyone can recall," Perro said.

"We went out the hatch on the starboard side. I knew we could escape on that side, though when we opened the doors leading to the stairs the heat blocked us.

"I remember running as fast as I could down the passageway to the port side of the ship."

Perro said he almost gave up hope when, about halfway across the ship, he spotted daylight coming through the smoke. "I knew then we were going to make it," he said.

Li Perro is living in East Greenwich with his wife, the former Dorothy E. Mayer of Waltham, whom he married two years ago.

don the service they cooperate with the MTA or any other mass transportation service to take it over."

"Whether the long range solution lies in an extension of MTA or independent feeder service to existing MTA stations, we are unprepared to say at this time," said the report, "but we believe a sensible solution can be found which will protect the interests of the railroad and those of the estimated three thousand daily commuters."

The Chamber's action followed a series of meetings with representatives of the Railroad and the City of Newton, and independent studies of the problem created by the B & A's petition to the Department of Public Utilities for complete abandonment of commuter service to Newton and the area West.

GENEVIEVE R. ONCLEY

Genevieve Oncley Seeks New Term On School Board

Mrs. Genevieve R. Oncley this week announced her candidacy for reelection to the Ward 2 post on the School Committee which she has filled for the past eight years.

During her service on the School Board, Mrs. Oncley has worked actively with various community, state and national groups in many school-related studies and activities.

As State chairman of the Teacher Education Committee for the Massachusetts Association of School Committees, she has brought to many School Boards throughout the Commonwealth a greater understanding of the problems and responsibilities relating to teacher preparation and college accreditation.

When she was chosen secretary for the Massachusetts Council on Teacher Education, she was the first School Committee member to be honored by an office in this educational organization.

Mrs. Oncley has worked with the New England School and Development Council in studies of the secondary school and in student and curricular enrichment, acceleration and advanced placement.

Through the Massachusetts Council for Public Schools, she and her State Teacher Education Committee with representatives of the State Department of Education have studied State certification procedures.

Mrs. Oncley was honored last spring when the Massachusetts Association of School Committees selected her as the recipient of its Distinguished Service Award for the 1958-59 school year.

The wife of Professor J. L. Oncley of the Harvard Medical School and the mother of two daughters who have graduated from the Newton schools, Mrs. Oncley declares that Newton's schools long have been recognized for their leadership and high standards. "As needs of our society and the world at large increase and change in scope," she adds, "so must our school curricula. The techniques and methods of teaching, personnel selection, building use and spacing become important in study and in practice."

She asserts that the Newton School Committee members back through the years have realized that setting school policies and selecting personnel to carry out those policies is of major importance in the growth and proper development of any community.

"Serving on the Newton School Committee is not only an honor but a responsibility which carries with it the necessity for a continuous study of educational opportunities and methods," she states. "Our young people deserve and must have the best we can give them."

Hula Dance - No Hoops

An Exhibition of Hawaiian Dance Groups under the direction of Miss Laura Turbini was a highlight of Play Day at the Hawthorne Playground.

All Hawthorne recreation leaders were dressed in complete native Hawaiian costumes, which they wore throughout the play day program.

At the end of the dance exhibition youngsters, parents and leaders joined in the finale and WBZ-TV took films which were shown on Channel 4 that evening.

Pre-Cana Conference Schedule

The Newton Deanery Director of Pre-Cana and Cana conferences, Rev. Robert W. McNeill, of St. Lawrence Church, Chestnut Hill, announces a schedule of conferences for engaged couples contemplating marriage within the next six months.

The Newton Deanery comprises Newton, Waltham, Brookline, Brighton, Allston, Watertown and Lincoln.

The first conference will be Sunday, Sept. 6 at 2 p.m. at St. Lawrence Parish Hall, Rt. 9, Chestnut Hill, Brookline. It will be for engaged couples only.

On Wednesday evenings, Sept. 9 and 16, married couples will tell the engaged couples what they wish they had been told before marriage—the need of practical Christ-centered attitudes and principles. Doctors will speak on the meaning of Christian married love.

The schedule: Chestnut Hill (Brookline)—St. Lawrence Parish Hall.
Sunday, Sept. 6, 2 p.m.; Wednesday, Sept. 9 and 16 at 8 p.m.
Sunday, Sept. 20, 2 p.m. Watertown—St. Patrick's Parish Hall in High School.

Work On New South High On Schedule

Work of grading and seeding all playfields surrounding the new $3 million South High School will be undertaken this fall so that lawns will have a good start before classrooms open in September, 1960.

All the necessary steel for the seven buildings is on the site near Greenwood street, in Oak Hill, the foundations are in and brick walls with porcelain and concrete aggregate panels are going up.

The new plant for 1,000 Newton youngsters will consist of four classroom buildings, an auditorium and a gym grouped about a circular library.

"We're not ahead of schedule because of the rain during July and August," explained John E. Gilleland, director of business services for the Newton Schools.

"But we are right on schedule to date. Everything is just about where we want it."

"We want the classrooms ready early in the spring, when we can put in the science equipment."

Then the order of completion is the auditorium, the library and the gymnasium.

Whitmore Names 4 To Housing Authority

Five members of the Board of Aldermen have been named to a committee to interview four residents nominated by Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., as members of the Newton Housing Authority.

The committee, named by President Wendell R. Bauckman, consists of Aldermen Joseph C. Bradley, Franklin N. Flaschner, Carleton P. Merrill, Melvin J. Dangel and Winslow C. Auryansen.

Mayor Whitmore submitted the appointments eight months after establishment of the Housing authority.

Named were: State Rep. Irene K. Thresher of 667 Chestnut st., Waban, a Legislative expert on housing for the aged, to serve one year.

John K. Bottomly of 6 Hawthorne road, Auburndale, an insurance agent, to serve two years.

Richard H. Lovell of 234 Park street, Newton, attorney and former alderman to serve four years.

William Carmen of 48 Philmore road, Newton, real estate man and past national commander of the Jewish War Veterans. He will serve five years.

He is a member of President Eisenhower's Committee on Civil Rights, of which he is on the sub-committee on housing. The Housing Authority is to look into advantages of state or federal housing program for elderly persons with low incomes. Both the state and national government have programs under which cities and towns pay less than 10 percent of the cost of a project for the elderly.

Formation of the Housing Authority came after a study by a special committee, which included Mrs. Thresher. The committee studied housing needs of Newton's older citizens.

To Bake Cake-

shelves of the super-market move into the spotlight.

The Newton entrant will vie for the top prize of $25,000, or other valuable awards. The soft-spoken housewife was one of the 100 finalists picked from a field of approximately 2,000,000 entrants.

She was understandably thrilled and surprised when informed of her good fortune by H. J. Thompson, Pillsbury branch manager in this area, who presented her with an expense check of $100.

Her cake recipe had been chosen by the expert dieticians at Pillsbury's.

Mrs. Messenger, a Graphic subscriber since coming to Newton from Boston eight years ago, told a representative of this newspaper that she acquired her cooking inclination and skill from her mother who believed that one of a girl's greatest contributions to successful wifehood is made in the kitchen.

The Newton housewife's winning cake recipe already has achieved a degree of fame and approbation having been tried and tested in the Messenger household. Her husband, an investment counselor, and her one son, Peter, a college senior at a Canadian school, vote unanimously in favor of the excellence of Mom's cooking skill.

She modestly discounts the fame wafted her way as the result of her cake recipe and shrugs off the suggestion that she might emerge from the California Bake-Off as the nation's No. 1 cook.

In fact, she is quietly rooting for a 16-year-old boy, Kenneth J. Crispo, of Quincy, another finalist and competitor in the big contest. However, she told The Graphic that she will be "in there" with all ingredients melding and with every ounce of skill em-played to bring the big prize—and resulting fame—to Newton.

All four New England winners this year—three from the senior division and one from the junior—are from Massachusetts. The 16-year-old boy is the only junior winner from here; there are two other housewives, one from Needham, the other from Wollaston.

Entries were submitted as recipes for cookies, desserts or cakes. Hundreds of selected recipes were baked by Pillsbury dieticians, and from these the 100 finalists were picked.

Mrs. Messenger, and her three Bay State colleagues, will take part in the 11th Grand National Bake-Off Contest with main ballroom of the Beverly-Hilton Hotel turned into the world's largest kitchen.

Tis also was the scene of last year's cooking, classic. Nine previous bake-offs have been held in New York's famed Waldorf-Astoria.

The Newton woman and the other Massachusetts finalists will leave by plane on Saturday, September 19, for California.

An extensive program has been arranged for them on the Coast. The 100 amateur cooks will participate in the mad medley of mixing and baking, the World Series of the Kitchen, with General Electric ranges and mixers.

Details of the finalist recipes are classified material prior to the big California classic. Mrs. Messenger simply

Hebrew School Plans Made At Temp. Emanuel

Temple Emanuel Hebrew School at 385 Ward street, Newton Centre, announces that registration in all departments will take place Tuesday, Sept. 8, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. in the Temple Vestry.

Registration is required only for new students, and for those transferring from one department to another or from another school or community.

Parents are asked to note that a new ruling of the Temple requires that a boy or girl must complete a minimum of four years in the Hebrew School to be eligible for either Bar Mitzvah or Bas Mitzvah in Temple Emanuel.

This ruling becomes effective with the class which enters this September, and is not retroactive on any student who entered the school before that date.

MELVIN J. DANGEL

Dangel Seeks Second Term As Alderman

Alderman Melvin J. Dangel this week announced his candidacy for reelection as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 3. Dangel lives at 32 Oldham road in West Newton.

He has resided in the city for the past quarter of a century and during that period has been continuously active in community affairs.

Alderman Dangel has served as president of the Newton PTA Council, president of the Pierce School PTA, president of the Warren Junior High School PTA, chairman for cub scouting of the Norumbega Council Boy Scouts and as cubmaster of pack 73.

Active in civic and charitable as well as public affairs, he has been chairman of various committees of the Community Fund drive, chairman for Halloween parties for West Newton, a member of the Newton Cancer Committee, residential chairman of the Red Cross fund drive for this year, director of the Newton Civic Committee and chairman of the Ward 3 Republican Committee.

He is presently chairman of the Capital Properties Committee of the Norumbega Council and an incorporator of the Parker Hill Medical Center.

Mr. Dangel is a graduate of the Boston University School of Business Administration and the B. U. Law School and currently is vice president of the B. U. Law School Alumni Association and director of the B. U. General Alumni Association.

A practicing attorney, he has offices at 85 Devonshire street in downtown Boston.

He is married to the former Phyllis Coley of Cohasset, Pa. They have two children who have been educated in the Newton schools—James, who is entering his junior year at Princeton University, and Robert, who is entering his junior year at Newton High School.

Mr. Dangel served as compliance director of New England for the Office of Housing Expediter for five years during World War II. During his present term on the Board of Aldermen, Dangel has served as chairman of the franchise and license com-

One Less Item For Tax Bill

Newton residents need not worry that they'll be billed for a share of running the reference and research facilities of the Boston Public Library.

The House of Representatives last week killed the bill by standing vote and then by roll call, 138 to 78, refused consideration.

The bill would have assessed Newton $18,000 as its share of running the library facilities.

Unwarranted Criticism

After deliberating for seven months over the contested election between State Senator Donald L. Gibbs of Newton and John F. Melia of Brighton, a special committee of the State Senate had to say something to justify its own expenditure of time and money.

So, after certifying Gibbs as the winner, just as he was last November, the Senate committee criticized certain of the election procedures in Newton and censured some of the city's election officers.

A careful study and examination of the report by the Senate committee, however, leads to the inescapable conclusion that elections are conducted pretty honestly and efficiently in Newton and that little, if any, criticism is warranted.

A long and searching investigation failed to disclose any evidence whatever of even a single instance of fraud or dishonesty.

Minor infractions of the strict letter of the election laws were cited, such as the fact that two observers were not at all times watching the two persons who were counting the ballots.

Some of the observations by the Solons who conducted the inquiry appeared to be a little on the silly side.

For example, it was maintained that it took too long to count the ballots in one or two polling places and that the count was not conducted with as much efficiency and despatch as should be expected.

Unfortunately, we still have the old-fashioned paper ballots here in Newton, and the people counting them begin to get a little fatigued after being on the job 15 or 16 hours.

If the Senators, who made the report concerning the alleged inadequacies of Newton election procedures, want to see something done with an impressive lack of efficiency and despatch, they should stroll over to the nearby chamber of the Massachusetts House of Representatives and view one of the sessions of that august body.

In all fairness, however, it should be understood that the officials who run the elections in Newton and the men and women who staff the polls on election day were made the whipping boys by a Senate committee which had to criticize somebody.

They weren't whipped very harshly, and the report was pretty mild. The point is there wasn't much room for any valid or legitimate criticism. The minor infractions cited would be found in almost any busy polling place on election night, where people under pressure are trying to get a job done under difficult circumstances.

It's quite safe to say, in fact, that election returns in Newton are tabulated with at least as much efficiency, despatch and adherence to the law as in any city in Massachusetts where the old-fashioned paper ballots are still in use.

Political Highlights

The guessing now on Beacon Hill, however, is that Governor Furcolo not only will submit a sales tax bill but that he will wage a determined battle on every other issue on which he has been defeated in the past eight months.

That means the Legislature probably will be in session until Thanksgiving, possibly even longer.

Will Furcolo have any better luck getting the Legislature to do what he wants at a special session in the fall than he did during the regular session which extended through the winter, spring and most of the summer?

He might in some instances because the law-makers presumably will be in a better frame of mind after a vacation during which taut tempers will have an opportunity to unwind.

His prospects of obtaining a sales tax, however, will be pretty dim unless the Republicans completely change their attitude toward it, which is not likely. And it is difficult to see where Furcolo can get the money to finance his program unless a sales tax or some other new or additional tax is enacted.

While the legislators are relaxing between sessions, Furcolo will be re-establishing his own political battle lines and carrying his fight to the people in an attempt to marshal public sentiment on his side. That is something at which he is very adept.

It seems clear that Furcolo intends to use the issue of salary increases for the faculty members of the University of Massachusetts as the keystone on which to build his case, expanding from there in a variety of directions.

An interesting sidelight to the series of developments on Beacon Hill is that even while Furcolo was mapping plans for a special legislative session, persons close to him, including some members of his own office staff, were spreading the word that he now intends to stand for reelection to a third term as Governor rather than run against Leverett Saltonstall for a seat in the U. S. Senate.

That, of course, is an old rumor which has not been given too much credence until now when it suddenly is gathering both strength and substance.

Beacon Hill observers still are uncertain whether it has any real foundation of fact. They suspect that the Furcolo lieutenants may be pushing it out for purely psychological reasons. A Governor usually has more influence with the Legislature if he is planning to run again and there is a possibility that he may be in command of the State government for some time to come.

In the final analysis, however, the success or failure of the fight Furcolo will launch late in September probably will depend on the sentiment the legislators find in their own districts during the interval between the two sessions, rather than on whether the Governor is going to run for reelection or for the U. S. Senate.

"You're out of order, darling! Motions to adjourn may be made only by members of the committee!"

Solon Looks At Bay State Rep. Thresher Discusses Community College Plan

As a service to its readers, The Graphic this week publishes the fourth of a series of articles by Newton legislators on issues of public interest. This article is by Representative Irene K. Thresher.)

BY IRENE THRESHER

One of the most controversial items at the State House this year was the community regional college program which is a pet project of Governor Furcolo, and one for which he proposed an initial $24,000,000 bond issue to finance construction of the new buildings on nine new campuses throughout the State.

This project was first presented by the Governor as Senate Bill 760 on July 1, 1958. It was accompanied by a map, outlining the nine regions to be covered, which very nearly approximated the locations of the ten existing State Teachers Colleges.

It was my privilege to serve on a Recess Commission in 1954, which studied the State Teachers Colleges and the need for trained teachers in the schools of the Commonwealth.

This Commission used as consultant Dr. Homer W. Anderson, the former Superintendent of Schools here in Newton. We filed a report on April 20, 1955 (H 2770), which pointed out that these plans were good, offered a sound program of professional and general education, which should be kept flexible for changing needs in the field of education.

It was found that classroom capacity was not overloaded, and was already expanding to 6,300 pupils from the 4,400 enrolled in 1954. It was the feeling of the Commission that these colleges could, with comparatively small expense, be expanded into liberal arts colleges, since the administrative overhead, library and other facilities were already there.

It was felt further, that the greatest need of the colleges was a strong, unified administrative framework directly under the State Board of Education. A state cannot plan its educational facilities wisely, if there are too many separate educational boards, which come to the State House lobbying for the tax dollar, often in competition with each other. There should be a strong over-all plan.

One candidate Furcolo or anyone else running for Governor definitely would have to reckon with would be State Treasurer John F. Kennedy who has drawn a bead on the Governorship and doesn't intend to change it.

Perhaps the biggest decision confronting the Democratic party in Massachusetts, if Furcolo decides to seek a third term, would be to select a formidable standard-bearer to match against Senator Leverett Saltonstall.

At the present time there are a number of potential gubernatorial contenders, but the only prospective candidate for the U. S. Senate is Furcolo.

Pressure undoubtedly would be exerted on Boston's Mayor John B. Hynes to run for the Senate if Furcolo passes up the senatorial opening and endeavors to remain on Beacon Hill.

Friends of Lieutenant Governor Robert F. Murphy declare that he will run for Governor irrespective of whether Furcolo is in the fight or out of it. Murphy, of course, could change his mind if the reports become a reality, although he and Furcolo are on opposite sides of a number of issues.

Histadrut Luncheon On Nov. 9

The Israel Histadrut Women's Division 18th Annual Donor Luncheon will be held Monday afternoon, November 9, at Hotel Somerset in Boston, according to Mrs. Max J. Landy, of Newton, division chairman.

The luncheon will have a novel program featuring a fashion show of selected furs. The members of the division will serve as models.

Proceeds from the Histadrut Women's efforts are to be used this year to build a children's playground and recreation center for the Negev Community of Kfar Yerucham. The cultural center and clinic already built by the Boston group for this small isolated desert community has served to stabilize the village population and develop its growth in numbers.

Before its adoption by the Boston women, Kfar Yerucham, which had been established by the Israeli government both to absorb new immigrants and as a Negev defense point, had difficulties in persuading its citizens to remain.

Today, a report from its mayor, Abraham Muchnick, shows that four new industries have been established, and its population has increased by almost one thousand.

Women's School Patrol Adds Two

Two more women will be added to the Newton Woman's Auxiliary School Patrol, bringing the force to a total of 38.

The Board of Aldermen approved the request of Police Chief Purcell because of the increase in the number of school children, and the opening of the new Marson-Rice School.

Finance Committee Chairman said there is sufficient money in the account and no appropriation is needed for the additional women officers.

Daniels At Chicago Ins. Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Donald I. Daniels of 94 Moffat rd., Waban, were in Chicago this week to attend the Continental Assurance Company's annual Pyramid convention.

The convention brings together the company's top producers throughout the U. S. and Canada.

Daniels has been in the insurance business in the Boston area for 22 years, and has been associated with Continental Assurance since 1953. He is a graduate as well as former instructor of the Life Underwriters Training Council.

Carr's Italian Dinner Dance

A complete spaghetti dinner was enjoyed by 250 parents and youngsters at the annual Italian Night held at Carr Playground last Tuesday, Aug. 18.

Following the dinner, block dancing was held for the teen-agers and parents. Leaders were Mrs. Edith E. Wolcott, Martha Fitzgerald, Richard Perkins and Paul Guzzi.

Accepted In Course

Judith Ann Kempainen of 15 Avery Path, Newton Centre, has been accepted in the secretarial course at the Cambridge School of Business, Boston. It was announced by the director, Jack Nesson.

Miss Kempainen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan R. Kempainen, attended Newton Junior College.

Patrolman Bill Whelan Retires

The Newton Board of Aldermen has approved the retirement of Patrolman William L. Whelan this fall on pension of $210 a year. Whelan, a member of the force for 37 years, to go to California next with his wife to stay with their three children. His day of work will be Sept. 28.

Returns with Sketches

Mrs. James K. Bonnar of Newtonville, a member of the Newton Art Association, recently returned from a European tour.

She visited England, Ireland, Germany and France and made sketches of architectural and historical subjects.

Petts Sail for Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Pett (former Carol Bram of Newtonville) sailed Sunday aboard the SS Atlantic for an extended trip to Europe and the Middle East where Pett will do free-lance writing.

Pett has been on the editorial staff of the New Haven Register for three years and Mrs. Pett has been an elementary school teacher in Connecticut.

Resolution Honors Ex-Alderman White

The Newton Board of Aldermen has adopted unanimously a resolution expressing sympathy over the death on Aug. 12 of former Alderman Thomas W. White of Newton Upper Falls.

Msgr. Hasenfus Leaves Kin Here

Rt. Rev. Waldo C. Hasenfus, 70, pastor of St. Matthew's Church, Dorchester, who died Sunday in Carney Hospital, celebrated his first public Mass on July 1, 1912, at the Sacred Heart Church in Newton Centre.

A solemn Mass of requiem is being sung at 10 a.m. this morning at St. Matthew's for the domestic prelate, who was born in Needham.

Msgr. Hasenfus leaves two brothers, Albert L. of Newton, and Nathaniel J. of Roxbury, and two sisters, Mrs. Lillian Fuller of West Roxbury, and Mrs. Grace Watson, of Newton.

Alice G. Murphy

Funeral services are being held this morning for Miss Alice Gertrude Murphy, 75, of 20 Ash St., Auburndale, with a solemn requiem Mass at 9 a.m. at Corpus Christi Church. Interment follows in the family lot at Calvary Cemetery.

Miss Murphy, a native of Waltham, lived in Auburndale for 25 years. She died Monday night at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

She leaves four nieces and seven nephews, including Charles C. Murphy of Newton, and Robert and Edward Puglisi of Auburndale.

Herbert J. Connors

Civic, business and fraternal leaders and fellow members of the Boston Edison Company paid final tribute this week to Herbert J. Connors, district manager of the area which included the City of Newton.

Connors, who was 64, died suddenly Thursday at his home in Jamaica Plain. A solemn requiem Mass was offered Monday at St. Theresa's Church, followed by burial in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

For over 20 years he was prominently identified with civic affairs and was one of the organizers of the Roslindale Board of Trade. He was a member of many fraternal and religious organizations, and during World War II served as a member of the Ward 220 Draft Board. At one time he was a candidate for the Legislature from Ward 20.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Geraldine (Townsend) Connors, a son, Herbert J., Jr., a daughter, Mrs. Marion D. Fahy, and seven grandchildren.

John J. Gleason

Victim of a heart attack while mowing his lawn, John J. Gleason, 74, of 323 River St., West Newton, was buried last Friday.

A solemn requiem high Mass at St. Bernard's Church was followed by burial in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Gleason for many years was job master at the Waltham Watch Co. He was born in Newton and lived here all his life.

He leaves a sister, Mrs. Rose L. Tober with whom he made his home, four nephews and one niece.

Louise Lygman

A requiem Mass was offered yesterday in Our Lady's Church, Newton, for Mrs. Louise (Cormier) Lygman, 56, of 17 Melbourne Avenue, Newton, who died Saturday following a heart attack.

She was a native of Kittery, Me., and lived in Newton 13 years. She was the wife of John E. Lygman.

In addition, she leaves two daughters, Mrs. Frank Wellford and Miss Marlene Lygman; one son, John, Jr., all of Newton; her parents, William J. and Merinda (Stuart) Cormier; a brother, David, all of Worcester, and three grandchildren.

Molly Rainey Bishop

Mrs. Molly Rainey Bishop of 193 Lake Ave., Newton Highlands, author and travel lecturer, died last week and funeral services were held Saturday at the Leslie Lindsey Chapel, Emmanuel Church.

Burial was in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge. Mrs. Bishop, a native of New Brunswick, leaves two brothers, Percy D. Bishop of Roxbury and Griffith Bishop of St. John, N. B. She traveled extensively in Europe during World War I and was with the American Red Cross in Italy.

Her two books, "Our Spanish Journey," and "Romantic Towns of England," were a result of her travels. She was active in the advertising field in earlier years and also taught school in Webster and in Brookline.

She was an active member of the Authors Club and of the National League of Pen Women, was a life member of the New England Women's Press Club, Women's Republican Club and the Women's City Club.

Mary C. Reinhardt

Mrs. Mary C. (Caseley) Reinhardt, 91, of 97 Eldridge St., Newton, died last week at her home following a long illness, leaving six children and 44 grand and great-grandchildren.

She was born in Prince Edward Island, and made her home in Newton for 40 years. She was the widow of George J. Reinhardt.

A requiem Mass in Our Lady's Church in Newton on Thursday was followed by interment in St. Stephen's Cemetery, Framingham.

Brenda Gordon, Roger Borovoy Exchange Vows

Miss Brenda Ruth Gordon and Mr. Roger Stuart Borovoy were married recently at Boston's Somerset Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Arthur Gordon of 671 Beacon street, Newton Centre, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Borovoy of Eau Claire, Wisconsin, are the couple's parents.

The Rev. Albert I. Gordon officiated at the 5 o'clock double ring service. A reception followed the bridal.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a pure silk gown of peau de soie trimmed with Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls. Her chapel length veil was caught to a cap made of matching lace. Her flowers were Phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Leslie Jaffe of Howlett, Long Island, was the bride's only attendant.

Mr. Steven Friedberg of New York City served as best man. Ushering were Mr. Richard Gordon of Newton Centre, Mr. Donald Cantor of Cambridge, Mr. Frederick Sillman of New York city, and Mr. Irving Merrin of Eau Claire, Wis.

Waban Man On NH Team Of Rescuers

A Waban resident was a member of the Appalachian Mountain Club team which made the hazardous nine-hour climb up the almost perpendicular ledge of Profile Mountain in a futile effort to save two trapped climbers.

Kenneth A. Henderson of 28 Agawam road, Waban, is president of the Appalachian Mountain Club which organized the rescue attempt at Franconia, N. H.

He was a member of the second group of AMC climbers summoned to the scene in mid-afternoon.

Victims of the tragic outing were Alfred Whipple Jr., 20, of Gales Ferry, Conn., a sophomore at Brown University, and Sidney Crouch, 21, of Ledyard, Conn., a student at Exeter (Pa.) Bible Institute.

The bitter White Mt. weather was too much for them. They were clad in light cotton trousers and shirts to withstand the 38-degree cold overnight, 50-mile wind, and soaking rain.

Whipple and Crouch acquired most of their climbing knowledge from books. Experienced climbers have avoided the route the pair took Sunday.

Carr Nursery School Taking Registrations

Mothers of all pre-school children in Newton interested in arranging for nursery school care may be pleased to learn that the Carr Nursery School Inc. at the Carr School, Nevada street, Newtonville is still accepting registrants.

The Nursery School will open the same day that the Newton public schools do — September 9 — and will follow kindergarten hours. Children from the ages of three years and three months to four years, nine months are eligible.

Families outside of the Carr school area interested in having their children attend will be accepted and transportation may be arranged.

Carr Nursery School is an independent non-profit project run in cooperation with both the P.T.A. and school officials.

For additional information and applications, please call Mrs. Jacobs, LA 7-0565 or Mrs. Garber, DE 2-2468.

A meeting, which is intended to acquaint parents with the nursery school has been scheduled for the Carr School on October 20. A speaker will be on hand and refreshments will be served.

One Felled By Spark-Ignited Mill Blaze

Accumulation of dust, ignited by a spark, was blamed for a fire which flared Tuesday in a drying room of the Security Mills at 24 Munroe St., Newtonville.

One employee, Allen Hopkins, 18, of 70 Washington Park, Newtonville, was treated for smoke inhalation at Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Hopkins is a machine operator. The sprinkler system extinguished the fire before the apparatus arrived.

Newton Youths In Cape Rescue

Two Newton youths rescued a father and son from Scranton, Pa., late Sunday from the strong undertow and high waves about 100 yards off Ballston Beach, Truro, where all four had been swimming.

The rescuers, Jameson Bell, 22, of 20 Exeter street, and Samuel Appel, 20, of 170 Fuller street, West Newton, were lying on the beach when they heard Michael J. Burns, 50, and Michael, III, 18, shout for help.

Bell and Appel swam out and brought the Scranton pair ashore, then revived them with artificial respiration.

Dedham Lists 3 Newtonites As Teachers

Three Newton residents are among 33 new teachers who will join the Dedham School Department in September, according to an announcement by Superintendent Harvey B. Scribner.

Mrs. Katherine G. Beckwith of 28 Country Club road, Newton Centre, will teach English at the Dedham High School.

Miss Jeanette G. Costa of 61 Prescott street, Newtonville, will teach Physical Education at the High School.
And Mrs. Naomi S. Kelman of 378 Russett road, Chestnut Hill, will teach fourth grade at Greenlodge School.

High School: 1. Ann Mannix; 2. Pauline Mannix; 3. Pamela Evans; 1. Gerald Fagan; 2. Christopher Wood; 3. Thomas Banner.

Horace Mann: 1. Joan Moscato; 2. Anne Johnson; 3. Carole Shaughnessy; 1. Robert Boudreau; 2. Albert Camerado; 3. John Gary.

Stearns: 1. Sheila Quinlan; 2. Donna Leombruno; 3. Ruth Thomas; 1. Joseph Baccari; 2.

James Gigliotti; 3. Anthony Gentile.

Victory: 1. Joanne Calf; 2. Carol Tallo; 3. Beverly Bartenelli; 1. Bruce Newcomb; 2. Barry Newcomb; 3. James Kelly.

The District I "Parade of Champions" in City-wide and District competitions were shared equally by arch-rivals Carr and Horace Mann playgrounds, three champions each. Squad members were presented certificates of champions.

Carr playground won the District Girls' Bodge Ball championship and the City-wide softball tournament, while the Carr midgets baseball team won the District Title for a total of three points.

Horace Mann playground girls won both the District

Softball and Dodge Ball championships, while the Horace Mann Junior baseball team won the District Title, also for a total of three points. Their team members were awarded certificates of champions.

The outstanding Baseball players for the season on the Carr District I championship midge baseball team was won by John DelGizzi while Kevin Hough was selected as the outstanding player for the season from the Horace Mann District I championship Junior Baseball Team.

Rep. Thresher Raps Tactics Of Mass. University Head

Newton's Representative Irene K. Thresher this week directed a sharp rebuke at President J. Paul Mather of the University of Massachusetts for using pressure tactics to try to "coerce" legislators into voting pay increases for his faculty members.

Mrs. Thresher tartly advised Dr. Mather to stick to his field of education and leave hysterical politics to others.

In a strong statement, Representative Thresher declared: "When Dr. J. Paul Mather joins with Governor Furolo in political pressure action to coerce legislators into voting pay increases for his faculty, he does a disservice to education. He should stick to his field and leave the hysterical politics to others."

"As a legislator I resent such tactics being employed, and I resent being branded as anti-education, because I refuse to bow to such tactics. I am sure many other legislators feel as I do.

"Dr. Mather appears to take no action to prevent students burning the effigy of a legislator. Apparently he did nothing to discourage a student 'march' on the State House by ill-informed youngsters who obviously did not know the facts. But he did file a registration to take effect months hence, but suspiciously timed to have a propaganda value. Then there are the completely false statements that granting the requested pay increases would not cost the taxpayers anything; that the recent $100 increase in tuition (to a total of $200) was to provide the increases; that it was the legislature that cut the university budget so that the increases could not be given.

"Actually, the Governor, in his budget, cut the university personnel appropriation requests by $1,003,844. The legislature cut the Governor's only by $79,200. In these accounts,

"But it is the legislature that is abused, and it is the Governor who says he is with Dr. Mather 'all the way'."

"When Dr. Mather first became president of the university, and I was a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, I recall hours spent with him by the committee to understand his budget and work out the details with him. In most cases his requests were granted, because he sold them intelligently. Orderly procedure was used within the framework of the State government. Later, when it was decided that professional salaries in colleges, hospitals, and the engineering forces were low, the Barrington reclassification took place. It went into effect three years ago and some of the professional people at the university were given salary increases as high as $1,900.

"Recently, Dr. Mather has made the budget of the university his personal political crusade, rather than defending it in the accepted and dignified manner. The Legislature is very conscious of public demand, and generally reflects public opinion in constructive action. An example of this is the recent defeat of the sales tax. In spite of pressures from many sources, the Legislature found out that the people in their districts did not want the sales tax on top of all the other taxes, unless real economies in government were made first. The legislators were consistent and voted against salary increases—not just at the university, but those requested for 35,000 other State employees, for other teachers, and other categories.

"But Dr. Mather wants increases for his group, irrespec-

Perform At Me. Recital

Miss Heidi Friedman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo P. Friedman of 56 Evelyn rd., Waban, sang "The Little Road to Kerry" by Cadman.

She is studying voice with Ronald V. Foulkes, a graduate of the London College of Music and a former member of the London Philharmonic Choir.

Stephen H. Custer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Custer of 275 Lowell ave., Newtonville, played the cello part in the Allegro from the Quartet in D Major by Mozart.

tive of others. His argument that the $100 increase in tuition, the first increase in 27 years, should immediately be earmarked for university salary increases, is contrary to all State practice. Four years ago the rates in the mental hospitals were increased from $10 to $25 a week, but no demand was made to earmark the increases for salaries.

"Dr. Mather seems to forget that the university is only part of the whole State picture. We have 15 other State institutions of higher learning, where salary needs are pressing, and more than 25 State hospitals, whose professional staffs should be considered.

"Legislators agree with Dr. Mather that higher education for our young people is of great importance. We agree that he has the right to seek higher salaries for his staff. They will get them, when we feel the State finances can afford them—without injustice to others.

"In the meantime the cause of the faculty, of the university, and education would be better served by a more dignified and orderly approach."

Plan Knowles Inaugural At Northeastern

Six area residents will play prominent parts in the Inauguration of Dr. Asa S. Knowles as third president of Northeastern University scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 8, at the University.

Wilfred S. Lake, 59 Hinckley road, Waban, Dean of the University's College of Liberal Arts, will deliver the invocation at the Faculty Inaugural Dinner.

Louis Cooperstein, 44 Whitney road, Newton, and Wheaton A. Holden, 150 Concord street, Newton Lower Falls, will both serve as Marshals for the Academic Procession.

Cooperstein is an Associate Professor of Modern Languages and Holden an Assistant Professor of Arts at the University.

Albert E. Everett, 4 Crown street, Auburndale, has been named as a member of the Committee on the Inauguration. He is Dean of the Evening School of Business and Director of the Evening Division at Northeastern.

Laurence F. Cleveland, 24 Fairfield street, Newtonville, will perform the Postlude as an organist during the ceremony. Cleveland is an Associate Professor of Electrical Engineering at Northeastern.

George C. Thompson, 17 Winthrop street, West Newton, Chairman of the Northeastern University Alumni, will speak for that group at the Inauguration dinner.

More than 1,000 educators, governmental and business leaders, faculty members, students, alumni and guests will be present at the inaugural ceremonies.

Junior Bootery Opens in Newton

A new concept of a store devoted completely to the care and fitting of shoes for infants thru teens has opened in Newton Centre. The Junior Bootery, 845 Beacon St., Newton Centre, will feature one of the largest and most complete stocks of regular as well as corrective type footwear.

From its early California beginning, the Junior Bootery concept has spread eastward as a new idea in children's shoe retailing operations. The Junior Bootery will specialize in the individual care and fitting of each child. Complete card files will be maintained for each youngster, aiding both the store and the parents in keeping a close watch on the proper foot-guidance of the child.

The Junior Bootery will feature EDWARD'S shoes, "famous for fit and quality" since 1900. Shoes will be carried from infant's-thru-teen size as well as youths' and boys' size ranges. Smart styles and colors galore will be available for the gay young set, including the ever-popular DICK CLARK "TV" American Bandstand shoes which are being featured over Channel 5 in the Boston area.

The entire decor of the store has been guided towards the youngsters. Circus animal wagons—the big tent—clowns are all abundantly displayed.

The Junior Bootery will be under the supervision of Stephen Weingarten, well-known local resident and experienced shoeman. Store hours will be 9:30 to 5:30 p.m. daily with Thursday evening hours till 8:30 p.m.

Charge accounts will be available and there is free parking in the Newton Centre municipal parking lot with a convenient rear-store entrance. Opening days celebration will include prizes of cowboy hats, educational play boxes, balloons, lolly-pops, cotton candy and pencil boxes.

AM & PM Sessions At Bowen Nursery School

The Bowen Nursery School, conducted at the Bowen School on Cypress Street in Newton Centre, will conduct both morning and afternoon session when it starts its fifth year.

Mrs. Susannah Cohen will be assisted by Mrs. Nancy Cavanaugh.

Enrollment is still open for both morning and afternoon sessions, and further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Bernard Gehr at DE 2-1041.

Rev. J. H. Burns Union Preacher

The preacher at the Newton Union Services this Sunday, August 30, will be Rev. James H. Burns, Director of the Departments of Social Relations and Pastoral Services of the Massachusetts Council of Churches. The service will start at 10 a.m. at the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville.

A graduate of Andover Newton Theological School and Boston University School of Theology, Mr. Burns has done further graduate work at the University of Edinburgh, Oxford University and extensive studying and training in Clinical Pastoral Work. He has served as chaplain of the Norfolk Prison Colony and the Massachusetts General Hospital, and also as chaplain of the McLean Hospital in Waverly.

Music for this service will be provided by Marshall S. Wilkins, organist, and a quartet. Child care will be provided during the service. The host is Richard Kell.

The preacher at the Newton Union Services on September 6 will be the Rev. John A. Samuelson, minister of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church.

Population Gain
Tucson — Arizona gained 23.8 percent in population between 1950 and 1954. In the same period the population gain for Florida was about 19.1 percent.

UF Appoints Merrill To Local Drive

Carlton P. Merrill of Newton has been appointed to the Advance Gifts Department for the 1960 United Fund Campaign. He will be co-chairman for Individual Gifts for the communities of Newton.

A residential solicitor and member of the Manufacturing Committee in past Fund Campaigns, Merrill believes "It is a civic responsibility of all able citizens to lend their time and effort to the success of the United Fund. If the majority of citizens should sit back and 'let Joe do it', we would find that the drive would not only fail, but that many of the agencies who depend upon the funds, provided by this drive, would be curtailed in their worthwhile work."

Graduate of the Newton

High School and the Lowell Textile Evening School, Merrill is a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen, Director of the Newton Boys' Club and is serving on the Legislative Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. He is also a member of the Newton Rotary Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the Daihousie Lodge, F. & A.M.

Merrill served with the U. S. Air Force for two and a half years in the Pacific Theater and since then has been active with the Salvation Army and Newton Girl Scout Camp Fund. He is associated with Harry A. Starr Fuel Company in Waltham, and lives with his wife, Treva, at 15 Newtonville avenue, Newton.

River System

St. Louis—From its source to its junction with the Mississippi, the Missouri river is 2,945 miles long. Their combined length of about 4,200 miles exceeds that of any other river system.

Where You Save DOES Make a Difference

Money makes me brave

By DON HEROLD

All sorts of things don't scare you when you SAVE!

At times, life takes lots of courage. And the best thing that can be said about money is, that it helps give you "guts" when you need 'em.

When someone in the family is ill, it's great to know you can afford the best of care. When you lose a job or other income, it's great to know you have a backlog. In old age, money bucks you up.

The easiest, handiest, safest place to save is Watertown Federal. They'll take any sum, any size, any time, and start to pay you good dividends quickly.

District 3 "Play Days"

Some 600 children and parents attended the Annual Fund Picnic, which dates back to 1902, at the Burr Playground in Newton Corner, last week.

This feature event, provided in the will of the late Charles W. Reed, was highlighted by such events as handwork exhibits, races, games, professional entertainment by Bob Funstedt, and refreshments or all.

Prizes and awards were presented by C. Evans Johnson, Recreation Commissioner, Miss Helen Anderson, a playground leader at Burr for the last 39 years, and Paul Rich, who annually presents a tennis trophy for participation in the most improvement in the tennis clinic.

As usual, the program was announced by Guy S. Baker, a former teacher at the Bigelow

High School, and a leader at Burr for over 30 years. The Newton Playground Achievement Awards, given each year to the outstanding boy and girl on the playground were presented to Edward Maynes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Maynes of 156 Tremont st., and to Mary Lura Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan of 49 St. James st.

The Helen Anderson Tennis Trophy was won again by Audrey Kasarjian, the Bull Playground Tennis Trophy by Richard McCann, and the Paul Rich Tennis Trophy by Nancy Wilbur.

Leaders directing the picnic were William G. Grinnell, Constance Ober, Joan Lafford, Lilla Curley and Levon Kasarjian.

REGISTRAR REFLECTIONS... Massachusetts Registrar of Motor Vehicles Clement A. Riley uses a mirror to emphasize his Labor Day weekend reminder to motorists that "when you're behind the wheel, you are the other fellow."

The "other fellow," the Registrar reminds, is usually blamed for the accident, so don't drive like him. In his accident prevention message, endorsed by Liberty Mutual Insurance Company and all law enforcement agencies, Registrar Riley urged that holiday and everyday drivers avoid the "other fellow's" driving mistakes such as speeding, passing on hills and curves, following too closely, failing to observe traffic signs and driving after drinking. Paul J. Mottola of Arlington poses as "the other fellow."

License Loss For One-Hand Car Operators

Registrar Clement A. Riley has ordered motor vehicle inspectors to book drivers who insist on driving with only one hand on the steering wheel. The insane motorist who operates an automobile with one arm dangling out the window, or around a girl companion, and the operator who feels that he must hold the car roof down with his left hand, face suspension of their license under the new edict of the Registrar.

Serious accidents to pedestrians, other motorists, and themselves have been the direct result of these stupid driving habits. Registrar Riley has warned that, "One hand drivers are improper persons and I will suspend the license of every one reported to me for this violation. 'There is no room on our crowded highways for show-offs. Avoid suspension of your license. Keep both hands on the steering wheel.' The Registrar pointed out that accident-free driving requires the use of both hands on the steering wheel unless the operator is specially licensed because of an infirmity.

William F. Arduino, 33, of 38 High street, Newton Upper Falls, a World War II veteran, died last week at the VA Hospital in Boston.

Funeral services were held from the Eaton Funeral Home in Needham with a solemn requiem Mass at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes in Newton Upper Falls last Friday.

Burial was in Needham Cemetery.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Thelma (Donati) Arduino, formerly of Needham, three children, Donald, Steven and Karen; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Arduino of High street, and a grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Nigro, of Milford.

Arduino, a graduate of Newton High School where he starred in football in 1942-43, enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1944 and was a Corporal in the Third Fleet operations in the Pacific. He was discharged in 1947. He was a member of the Needham Post VFW, and a member of the National Guard.

George P. Maxey

George P. Maxey, 79, a retired Newton fire fighter who lived at 425 Newtonville Ave., Newtonville, died last Thursday at Cushing Hospital in Framingham after a long illness.

Rev. Lawrence W. Emig, retired pastor of the Newtonville Methodist Church, officiated at funeral services Monday at 11 a.m. at Newton Cemetery Chapel.

Chief Frederick A. Perkins and Assistant Chief Timothy D. Herlihy headed a delegation from the Fire Department of which Maxey was a member from 1910 until his retirement in 1945. At the time he was a member of Engine 1, Newton Corner.

Maxey leaves two daughters, Mrs. Herbert Snow of Sudbury and Mrs. Harry Aunes of Cohasset, and five grandchildren.

Francis M. Hickey

Francis M. Hickey, 47, who was born in Newton and formerly lived on Cummings Rd., Newton Centre, died last week in Mt. Sinai Hospital, N. Y., after a long illness.

He made his home at 170 East 17th St., Brooklyn, N. Y., with his wife, Michaela F. (Phyllis) Hickey, one daughter, Michaela, and two sons, Christopher and Robert. He also is survived by his mother, Mrs. Madeline (Russell) Hickey of Newton Centre.

Mile Paddle

An Air Force man from Newton is paddling a kayak on a 500-mile trip from Rome, N. Y., to Plymouth, Mass.

Airman 3/c Robert McKnight, 23, of 27 Durant St., attached to Griffis Air Force Base, took off last Wednesday in his 11-foot kayak on the first leg of the voyage.

McKnight will paddle down the Erie Canal to Troy, then down the Hudson River to New York City.

He then will skirt the Atlantic Ocean side of Long Island and head for the Cape Cod Canal. From there he'll head through the canal to Plymouth.

McKnight is spending his 30-day leave on the venture. He said the trip would take about 16 days and cost about $80. While en route he'll camp out.

He built the kayak in the base hobby shop at a cost of $33. McKnight is carrying a letter of greeting from the Rome mayor to officials of Plymouth.
